RECOMMENDS 74 U. S. BUILDINGS

$19,500,000 IS ESTIMATED COST OF NEW STRUCTURES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The postoffice department has recorded its opinion that Louisiana should have at least 74 new federal buildings and Mississippi should have at least 71.

Cost of the new structures proposed for Louisiana is estimated at $19,500,000 while for Mississippi the figure is $10,385,000.

A list submitted by the postoffice department to the federal works administration for inclusion in recommendations that agency makes to Congress cited the building needs of the two states. Final decisions on which shall be constructed and how much they shall cost is made by Congress.

No new postoffices or similar structures have been built since 1940. Up to that time the program usually called for one new postoffice a year in each congressional district at a total cost of from $65,000,000 to $70,000,000 a year for the nation. Resuming the program, catching up, and meeting higher costs may involve spending up to $200,000,000 a year, the department says.

Any town or city reporting postoffice receipts of $10,000 or more a year or which can show its present facilities no longer are adequate is eligible to get on the departmental list. Last year Congress sidetracked the proposed program by giving other construction higher priorities.

A department official said today that last year's list will be brought up to date for re-submission to the new Congress convening in January. All towns on the previous list will be retained unless their receipts dropped below $10,000 in 1945.

Topping the present Louisiana list is a $3,700,000 item for appraisers stores at New Orleans. This city also is recommended for a $2,450,000 addition to the Marine Hospital, $1,800,000 for remodeling the customs house, $720,000 for a new immigration station, $225,000 and $115,000 for new postoffice buildings and $47,000 for an addition to the

TWO KILLED BY SHOTGUN BLAST

Fail To Find Motive After War Vet And Divorcee Are Slain

CANTON, O., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Police were without clues tonight in efforts to establish a motive for the slayings of a 29-year-old ex-serviceman and a 20-year-old divorcee who were killed by a single blast from a shotgun as they were about to enter the man's home.

Detective Capt. James Quilligan identified the victims as Joseph Norcia and Mrs. Shirley Ann Robinson and said "no definite motive for the slayings has been established."

Quilligan set the time of the slayings at approximately 3:15 a. m. He said Eugene Byers, a taxicab driver, informed investigators that he had driven the couple to Norcia's residence from the Canton public square.

The detective quoted Byers as saying he heard a noise after driving away but believed it to be a backfire from an automobile passing a nearby intersection. Neighbors also heard only one shot, Quilligan said.

Quilligan said his investigation in-

OUACHITA DISPLAY GETS FIRST PLACE

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 19.—(Special)—Ouachita parish's agricultural display was awarded first place in judging at the 41st annual Louisiana state fair today, nosing out West Feliciana by the narrow margin of two points.

Ouachita scored 829 out of a possible 900 points. Rapides with 825 took third place.

The Ouachita parish exhibit was prepared by the parish home demonstration council under the supervision of County Agent J. J. Joyce.

Council members who arranged the exhibit were Mrs. J. S. Sims, Mrs. Ben Richerson of Calhoun and Mrs. Nell Wilder of West Monroe.

The Ouachita display featured an exhibit of corn, rounded out by exhibits of garden seeds, melons, pears, cotton and Irish potatoes. West Feliciana featured sweet potatoes and Rapides general agriculture.

Thirty parishes entered exhibits in the revival of one of the most important features of the fair and shared in more than five thousand dollars prize money.

More than 200 representatives of Louisiana newspapers attended press day at the fair, and 38 bands the seventh annual Ark.-La.-Tex. band festival.

COTTON FUTURES TRADING HALTED

Resumption Of Trading Anticipated Monday; Investigation Started

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Cotton futures trading was suspended on the New York, New Orleans and Chicago exchanges today following three days of sharp price breaks, a federal inquiry into the market's position and senatorial charges of a "bear raid."

Heavy liquidation had sliced about $25 a bale from futures contracts since last Tuesday.

Resumption of trading was anticipated Monday.

Rumors in New Orleans trade circles that a large New Orleans operator had been unable to meet heavy margin requirements in New York were without confirmation here.

But the agriculture department's commodity exchange authority, requesting details of accounts between the close of business Oct. 15 and the close Oct. 18, said these reports would show the identity of all persons active in the markets and the nature and volume of their trading.

Chairman Elmer Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, of the Senate agriculture committee announced in Washington that a subcommittee will open an investigation Thursday into the price break. Agriculture department officials will be asked to explain the scope of their inquiry, he said, and officials of farm organizations also will be invited to testify.

Managers of the New York exchange said only that the closing "would best serve the interests of the public and the exchange." A spokesman described it as a "breathing spell to analyze the situation."

At New Orleans, Exchange President D. T. Manget, Jr., in a statement referring to the "confusion and uncertainty" of recent days, said, "the rumor afloat that certain people are

Truman Will Fly To New York To Deliver 25-Minute Speech

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, took a strong stand beside Secretary of State Byrnes tonight for a "patient but firm" policy toward Russia amid indications President Truman might speak up along the same lines next week.

As Vandenberg—a top U. S. adviser at the Paris peace conference—followed up Byrnes' Friday night report on that meeting with a radio appeal for support of "America's bipartisan foreign policy," there were these developments at the White House:

1. It was announced that President Truman's address opening the United Nations general assembly in New York Wednesday will be a 25-minute speech and that he will fly there to deliver it.

2. It was disclosed that Mr. Truman had approved Byrnes' Friday speech in advance; had listened to it on the radio, and had telephoned the secretary of state immediately afterwards to express warm commendation.

3. The president, Byrnes, Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson and Senator Austin, Republican, Vermont, American delegate-designate to U. N., conferred for more than two hours on "United Nations matters."

The White House said nothing about the content of Mr. Truman's U. N. speech. It announced only that the president will fly to New York Wednesday, deliver the address about 4:30 p. m. (E. S. T.), and return to Washington by train after attending an assembly reception.

High government officials observed, however, that a speech of 25 minutes duration certainly would contain more than words of welcome.

They pointed to the close Truman-Byrnes liaison on the latter's Friday address and to today's lengthy conference as possible evidence that the

LONGER SKIRTS ARE MADE LEGAL

CPA Suddenly Drops All Limitations On Women's Clothes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Longer skirts, for which women generally have been hankering since the end of the war, became legal today with a suddenness that left the trade gasping.

The civilian production administration dropped all the limitations on women's clothes—its order known as L85—which it imposed originally April 6, 1942, with the aim of saving cloth.

The order originally banned three-piece ensembles sold as a unit, restricted the length and fullness of skirts, and limited the amount of material that could be used for sleeves, cuffs, pockets and trimmings.

The restrictions on trimmings were removed earlier this month and the CPA announced then that some other restrictions also would be relaxed. But then it changed its mind and insisted the latter would be retained.

As a result of today's final action, some stores may have three-piece ensembles and presses or suits with longer skirts on sale Monday morning.

Manufacturers are reported to have

THINK TWO WOMEN MAY HAVE AIDED $80,000 JEWEL THEFT

By Glenn Williams

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Scotland Yard looked into the possibility today that two well-groomed mystery women, guests at recent Mayfair society parties, may have helped contrive the shrewd $80,000 theft of the Duchess of Windsor's jewels.

Secrecy shrouded the intensive 72-hour-old investigation, but the Yard did not preclude the possibility that the women, thus far unidentified, might have gleaned the necessary information for the wily "cat burglar."

Records of other recent jewel robberies pointed to two fashionable and socially acceptable women as the eyes and ears of wall-scaling thieves who obviously worked with accurate advance information.

Investigators disclosed that two royal heirlooms, belonging to former King Edward, now the Duke of Windsor, were looted along with the duke's gold watch, several rings and the duchess' plush-cased jewels. Among the rings stolen were two given the duke by his grandfather, King Edward VII. The rings were among the miscellaneous items listed in an assessor's log of the loss.

While police in two hemispheres alertly watched for clues, officers in the gem-dealing countries of Belgium and Holland joined the French surete generals in combing their underground for information.

In London Commissioner Ronald Howe, personally directing Scotland Yard's end of the international manhunt, called on the city's police, who dispatched detectives to the old Hatton Garden district, where gem dealers peddle thousands of dollars worth of stones in sidewalk or barroom transactions.

But the city detectives apparently were unable to dig out a single clue. Dozens of known "fences" were questioned.

Throughout Britain police sought a large army-type automobile seen around the Earl of Dudley's Ednam lodge at Sunningdale, Surrey, Wednes-

J. A. DANIEL, SR., DIES IN HOSPITAL

Funeral Services Today For Well Known Merchant Of West Monroe

James A. Daniel, Sr., of 304 South Riverfront, West Monroe, operator for many years of the J. A. Daniel and Company general merchandise store at 311 Wheelis street, died at 9:45 a. m. Saturday at a local hospital where he was taken Friday and underwent an operation. He was the father of Sgt. James A. Daniel, Jr., of Troop F of the Monroe state police post.

Born in Alabama, Mr. Daniel came to this community and engaged in the mercantile business 40 years ago. Surviving him also is his wife, the former Mattie Lou Harris, a grandson, James W. Daniel, 306 South Riverfront and his mother, Mrs. J. Lee Cooper of Clarksville, Texas.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Mulhearn chapel in charge of the Rev. W. H. Giles, pastor of the First Methodist church of West Monroe, and there will be Masonic rites at the Hasley cemetery. Mr. Daniel was a charter member of West Monroe Lodge No. 419, F. & A. M., and belonged to the Annie D. Bennett chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

Pallbearers will be J. W. Morrison, R. H. Heacock, E. L. Page, W. L. Fisher, R. W. Ensminger, W. O. Downing, Sam Humphries, and W. L. Mitchell.

In connection with the Masonic services, all members of the Western Star Lodge No. 24, F. and A. M., have been summoned to meet this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the Masonic Temple and then proceed in a body to Mulhearn Funeral Home for services.

BODIES OF 4 PLANE VICTIMS IDENTIFIED

MERIDIAN, Miss., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The bodies of four men found in the wreckage of a plane near Key Field here today were identified by Sheriff W. Y. Brame as residents of Victoria, Tex.

He said a telephone call to Victoria disclosed they were en route to the Alabama-Tennessee football game in Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday afternoon and apparently lost their direction.

He listed the victims as Howard Cecil Odell Grimes, 24, owner and pilot of the plane; Cecil Leon Bachus, 22, (1106 East Pine Street); Dr. Earl Barton Keith, 31, chiropractor, formerly of Johnson City, Tenn., and William Walter Granberry, 36, (604 East Juan Linn Street).

The wreckage was discovered in a swamp area within a mile of Key Field by H. L. Skinner of Arundel community who was going fishing.

Sheriff Brame said attendants at Key Field reported a plane circling the airport about 7 o'clock last night and the field lights were turned on.

The sheriff said the plane, a two-engine Cessna, apparently struck a tree while attempting to make a turn.

CRASH KILLS 20

PESHAWAR, India, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Reports to military headquarters here indicated today that 20 British and Indian soldiers were killed yesterday in a 'plane crash during parachute training exercises. The plane, an American built C-47, crashed into a mountain near Tirah and burned, the reports said.

BIG, NEW HOSPITAL IS PROJECTED HERE

Erection Of 250-Bed Institution Sponsored By Chamber Of Commerce

An additional 250-bed general hospital to meet the pressing needs of the Twin Cities will be provided at the earliest practical date, if a new aim of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce can be carried out. The board has unanimously endorsed the project and appointed a special committee to make plans for the financing and building, naming P. E. Massey, chairman; C. C. Whittelsey, W. Mintz, W. J. Riley, C. C. Boardman and Dr. John Snelling.

Recommendation that the Chamber provide the community with a new general hospital were made by a group headed by Mr. Massey and composed of ten leading doctors and ten prominenent businessmen, including Doctors Snelling, A. G. McHenry, Henry Guerriero, Scott Hamilton, A. D. Tisdale, M. W. Hunter, J. W. Cummins, Hayden Cutler and W. E. Jones and Messrs. Massey, Boardman, W. Mintz and George D. Holland. At a recent meeting all doctors present were unanimous in agreement that the Twin Cities were in desperate need of additional hospital beds and a majority favored the building of a new general hospital in preference to additions to existing institutions. They requested the Chamber's board of directors to set up a committee to develop and carry out the proposal.

It was pointed out in discussions that existing hospitals in the Twin Cities are dangerously crowded and that their beds and facilities are inadequate to meet present requirements. It was further pointed out that due to increasing sale of hospital insurance and a new plan of medical in-

YOUTH SAYS DEAD BODY IS NOT HIS

TRONA, Calif., Oct. 19.—(AP)—David Henry Eaton, Jr., was very much alive today, a fact which clearly refuted reports that he was dead and that his body had been shipped to his parents at Lynn, Mass.

Sheriff Frank L. Porter of Mohave County, Arizona, had wired Lynn police that Eaton had died of gunshot wounds in a Kingman, Ariz., hospital last Monday. The sheriff erroneously identified as Lynn a youth, now unidentified, who was shot by officers in a chase after an allegedly stolen car.

Eaton's parents at Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Eaton, Sr., had the body transported to their city but when it arrived the father found that it was not his son.

David Eaton, Jr., employed by the American Potash and Chemical Corp. here, was quoted by Constable J. C. Fair as saying he knew nothing about the fatal shooting in Arizona. The constable said a description of the body tallies with facts given them about a fellow emplcye by Eaton. Eaton, Jr., however, said he could not remember the man's name. Papers on the body led to its identification as Eaton, who said his wallet was stolen or lost recently.

Authorities here were preparing to have the body shipped back from Lynn in the hopes that it could be identified here.

BERLIN CITIZENS WILL VOTE TODAY

Will Have First Opportunity In 14 Years To Cast Free Ballots

DESTINY OF EUROPE MAY BE AFFECTED BY RESULT

By Richard Kasischke

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Berlin voters will choose tomorrow between the eastern and western concepts of democracy in an election which one high American military government official said will have "great influence" on the ultimate political destiny of Europe.

For the first time in 14 years 2,300,000 registered Berlin voters will have the opportunity to cast a free ballot when they pick a municipal government to supplant the one set up by the Russians after they won the epic battle for the heart of Hitler's Reich.

The Berlin election overshadows district and state diet balloting, which will also take place throughout the Soviet-occupied zone.

Lt. Col. Louis Glaser, chief of the political affairs branch of the American military government's Berlin district, viewing the election issue as clearly drawn between the political philosophies of the east and west, said:

"Germany must ultimately make a decision in this respect. The Berlin vote, establishing such a decision, will have great influence upon the ultimate destiny of Germany and therefore upon the political destiny of Europe."

In Berlin the voting will be for party and not for individuals. The voter cannot split his ticket. These are the parties:

The Socialist Unity party (SED), an amalgamation of Communists and Social Democrats; the Social Democrats; and the two conservative parties, Christian Democrats (CDU) and the Liberal Democrats (LDP). In this lineup the SED clearly carries the banner of the eastern concept of democracy.

In previous community elections in the Soviet zone the SED has captured

TAXIMAN ROBBED OF CASH AND CAB

Ex-Soldier, 'Tired Of Flimflamming,' Does A Little Bit Himself

A discharged soldier who was "tired of being flimflammed by these damned civilians and decided to do a little flimflamming myself," he said, held up a Monroe taxi driver at gun point, robbed him of $14 and escaped in the cab on the Jonesboro road, 8 miles west of West Monroe, early Saturday.

His victim, however, was also an ex-service man, 21-year-old Albert F. Ballew of 102 1/2 Walnut street, who during the war was a gunner in a navy armed guard detail on merchant ships in eight crossings of the Pacific.

A state police broadcast, repeated frequently early Saturday, described the stolen machine as a 1941 Chevrolet sedan with Louisiana license 381-026 and with "Monroe Cab Co." painted on both sides and rear.

At 10 a. m. Saturday, Sheriff Bryant Sholars of Winn parish telephoned Chief of Police J. D. Busby and reported the taxicab had been found abandoned along a gravel road 4 miles north of Winnfield. L. C. Hammons, owner of the cab company, later was notified by state police and the car, undamaged, was brought back to the city and restored to its driver.

Ballew told of his experience Saturday morning. He said he had re-

ORDER ALLOWING $600,000,000 MORE FOR PROJECTS ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The administration tonight junked President Truman's $900,000,000 limit on federal public works projects with an order allowing 14 agencies to speed an extra $600,000,000 on construction in the year ending June 30.

This will let these agencies alone spend a total of $1,200,000,000. And more increases are on the way for additional agencies.

The order was issued by Reconversion Director John R. Steelman. It does not list specific projects—that is up to the agencies. It means the $2,100,000,000 economy program mapped last August by President Truman is at least partially out the window.

That program called, among other things, for holding down federal public works expenditures to $900,000,000 in the current fiscal year, compared with $1,600,000,000 approved by Congress. It imposed a 60-day moratorium on government projects and ordered a weeding out of the less important ones.

Congressmen bellowed when some of their pet projects were hit. And there already had been some whittling away at the restrictions. The lid on flood control expenditures was tilted upward on Thursday from $95,000,000 to $130,000,000.

Steelman said in a statement tonight the budget bureau is reviewing limits on the interior department's reclamation bureau, the commerce department, and the civil works of the army engineers, which include rivers and harbors as well as flood control improvements.

"It is expected," he said, "that final action on this program can be taken next week."

The agencies given the $600,000,000 clearance tonight are the navy, interior, agriculture, justice, treasury and state departments, veterans administration, federal works agency, reconstruction finance corporation, maritime commission, Tennessee Valley authority, Panama Canal, national advisory committee for aeronautics,

Rising Consumer Resistance Felt

Meat Promises To Be Relatively Plentiful But Groups Join Hands To Keep Prices Down; Other Foods Drop

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The removal of OPA controls has sent the price pattern for most major items in the American food budget into a dizzy whirl and there were indications today of growing consumer resistance to those products which turn up with a higher sales tag.

The impact of sudden decontrols hit the markets an erratic blow and it was too early to tell how the food dollar of the near future would compare with its buying power of last week.

The major staple decontrolled—meat—promises to be relatively plentiful in butcher shops across the nation in a few days but at prices above old OPA ceilings. Dealers, consumers and trade associations have joined hands in efforts to keep prices down.

The prices of all livestock shot up, despite an avalanche of receipts, and record highs were established in some markets. Both cattle and hog prices, however, experienced downward trends when offerings were the heaviest.

In the commodity markets, the price of soybeans, lard and flax also went up.

However, a long list of commodities dropped in price, including poultry, eggs, butter, wheat and cotton. Trade sources attributed the butter drop to the removal of ceilings on other fats and oils.

Reports of buyers resistance to higher meat prices came from many cities. In some instances, resistance was building up against higher prices for dairy products.

The American Meat Institute, saying prices would be higher until demand is met, urged housewives to "shop around for the best buys." Some dealers refused to buy meat at high prices and the president of the New Jersey Independent Butchers' Association urged consumers to "strike" until meat prices come down "within reason."

In Helena, Mont., housewives started a chain telephone call movement advocating buyers strikes against butter prices of 89 cents to $1.00 a pound. A similar campaign among women's groups was started against a two cents milk price boost to 18 cents a quart in Portland, Ore.

Consumers were reported "passing up" meat in many cities when confronted with prices ranging up to $1.25 a pound for steak, $1.00 for roast beef, 75 cents for hamburger and 59 cents for weiners.

In the nation's livestock markets there was no official trading today, although hogs and cattle were in the pens waiting for opening of trading Monday.

Prices of livestock as the week closed were under their highs, but still well above the former OPA ceilings.

At Chicago, representative of all markets, choice steers closed the week $8.00 to $15.00 higher. Common, medium and good grades were up $1.00 to $5.00 after losing $4.00 to $7.00 from the mid-week peaks. Most steers finished the week at $18.00 to $23.00 a hundred pounds. The best price for a load lot during the week was $36.00, although a few odd head brought $37.50.

Hogs in Chicago finished $6.00 to $7.50 a hundred pounds higher. Sows were up $4.00 to $5.00. Most hogs at the close of the week were selling at $22.50 to $23.50.

The old OPA ceiling on cattle was $20.25 and there was a subsidy rang-

The party comprised, Elliott Thompson, Manager Nichols of the Nichols Motor Company, and a friend from Rayville. The party left by auto well prepared to make the trip in the shortest possible time. They have been away a week and are expected back at the end of the present week. Everybody who likes pheasants please leave their names with Mr. Inabnet.

Supt. D. C. We are grateful beyond words to express to the many who sent in $3 and wrote us that they would keep up these monthly contributions, our sincere thanks. Our good friend 'Jes Ramblin' passed on the suggestion in the Morning World and many of our good friends responded heartily and happily to his suggestion. TESTS AWAITED IN GOERING'S SUICIDE

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An Allied commission investigating the mysterious suicide of Hermann Goering is awaiting the results of laboratory tests before announcing its findings, Col. B. C. Andrus, in charge of the Nuernberg jail, said today.

Andrus, who met with the commission during the day, said he doubted if the findings would be made public before Tuesday.

The prison officer disclosed that the 10 top-ranking nazis who were hanged early Wednesday morning were told officially that Goering had managed to cheat the gallows by taking poison.

"When Goering's death was discovered, the quadripartite commission (in charge of executions) directed the rest be shackled to guards," he told newsmen. "I ordered the notice to be given to the condemned men and instructed the chaplains to tell them they were being shackled and why. I told the chaplains to tell them they were not being subjected to indignity."

Meanwhile, individual guards were removed from the doors of the cells of Rudolf Hess and six other former nazi leaders sentenced to prison terms ranging from 10 years to life.

Andrus said the seven would be treated as ordinary prisoners and would be able to earn certain privileges by good behavior.

The officer said that 174 prisoners, ranging in rank up to field marshal, were now being held in the Nuernberg jail awaiting trial on war crimes charges.

RADIO STATIONS GAINING RAPIDLY

Number In Louisiana Increased By Two-Thirds This Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The number of standard radio stations authorized for Mississippi has increased by one-third during the current year and Louisiana authorizations have been increased by approximately two-thirds.

Records of the federal communications commission show Louisiana had 14 licensed stations at the beginning of 1946 and nine applications have been granted during the year. Six new stations were approved for Mississippi which started the year with 18.

Applications for 16 more stations in Louisiana and eight in Mississippi are pending. In addition four stations in Louisiana and two in Mississippi want to make changes in their facilities.

In the field of frequency modulation seven stations in Louisiana and two in Mississippi have been granted conditional licenses. Five applications for this type of station for Louisiana and one for Mississippi are pending.

No applications for television stations have been received from the two states but wave lengths have been reserved by the commission for five visual outlets at New Orleans and four each at Shreveport, La., and Jackson, Miss.

Louisiana standard stations licensed at the beginning of 1946 included five at New Orleans, three at Shreveport, two at Monroe and one each at Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Lafayette and Lake Charles.

Authorizations during the year have been for two new stations at New Orleans, two at Alexandria and one each at Lake Charles, Bogalusa, Baton Rouge, Houma, and New Iberia.

Applications for new stations include four at New Orleans, two each at Lake Charles, Opelousas, Shreveport, and Ruston and one at Crowley, Monroe, Morgan City and Natchitoches.

KPLC at Lake Charles has applied to change from 1,490 to 1,470 kilocycles and from 250 watts to 1-kilowatt power. WNOE, New Orleans, wants to change from 1,450 to 1,060 kilocycles and from 250 watts to 50-kilowatts day and 25-kilowatts night power. KTBS, Shreveport wants to increase from 1 to 5-kilowatts power and KALR, Alexandria, wants to increase from 1 to 5-kilowatts.

Five of the grants for frequency modulation stations were for New Orleans and two for Alexandria. The pending applications for this type of station are for Alexandria, Lake Charles, Monroe, and New Orleans and Shreveport.

Mississippi had at the beginning of the year three standard stations at Jackson, two at Meridian and one each at Clarksdale, Columbus, Corinth, Greenville, Greenwood, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Laurel, Macon, McComb, Natchez, Tupelo and Vicksburg.

New stations have been authorized for Columbia, Jackson, Laurel, Meridian, Philadelphia and Yazoo City.

Applications pending include two each for Biloxi, Bhookhaven, and one from Columbia and Jackson.

WAML at Laurel has applied to change to 1,560 kilocycles and increase power from 250 watts to 1-kilowatt. WELO, Tupelo, wants to change from 1,490 to 1,460 kilocycles and from 250 watts to 1-kilowatt day and 500 watts night power.

Frequency modulation stations have been conditionally authorized for Jackson and Clarksdale and an application of this type from Meridian is pending.

BOND FORFEITED, ACCUSED KILLED

Quick Explanation For Arkansas Man's Failure To Appear Here

There was no response when the name of Jack Stuart, 39, of Warren, Ark., charged with indecent exposure and drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was called in Monroe city court at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, and Judge William M. Harper promptly declared the accused's $50 cash bond forfeited. Just two hours later police received an explanation and they reported to the court that the defendant was dead, victim of an accident at Ruston.

The information came in a telephone message from the Ruston department, reporting that Stuart's head had been "mashed flat" a few minutes earlier by a rear wheel of a studdenly starting truck from which he had just alighted and beneath which he had stooped to recover a bottle of whiskey that had fallen from his pocket.

Stuart was identified through two Monroe city court cash bail receipts for $50 and $25, found in his pockets. They showed the money to have been posted by a Mrs. Hull, who was found by local police to be the operator of "Mother Ryals' place," a rooming house at Ouachita avenue and Fourth street. There officers located C. D. Stuart, 45, the dead man's brother, also of Warren, for whom the $25 bond had been posted. It also had been forfeited by the court for non-appearance for arraignment.

Because Jack Stuart apparently had been alive at the moment his case was called and because his presence in Ruston at that hour indicated he had no intention of appearing in court, Judge Harper said Saturday the forfeiture would stand.

The Arkansas brothers were arrested by Officer Sidney G. Martin at 11:25 p. m. Wednesday following a disturbance at Sixth and DeSiard streets. The elder was booked only as drunk and disorderly. They had been living at Mother Ryals' while employed in Monroe.

K. OF C. DRIVE GAINS MOMENTUM

Need For Added Facilities For Youth Of City Is Pointed Out

"The most effective civic improvement for any city is the provision that city makes for its future citizens, and the best provisions that any city can make for those future citizens is to provide the proper place and environment in which the youth may spend his idle time," declared H. A. Shanas in an address to the Knights of Columbus Friday night.

The Knights of Columbus, Monroe Council No. 1337, is conducting a drive for funds for the purpose of building a new K. of C. home. The present K. C. home is very inadequate for the youth program that they are sponsoring and it is the object of the council to properly equip their new home to offer good, clean entertainment to the youth, and to provide that environment in which all teenage boys and girls will be proud to be a part of, he said.

"Without any doubt," continued the speaker, "this is quite an extensive program; but just a moment of reflection will convince us that nothing is beneficial which is obtained quickly and easily. We have undertaken a great civic responsibility in this program and it is taking the good efforts of our entire membership, plus the generosity of all our good, civic-minded citizens to accomplish it. A program to provide that place and environment for our youth is worthy of all our efforts and sacrifice."

"Monroe is backing our program. There is no more convincing proof of that than the contributions which are being received daily by our Building Fund Committee; and I am very grateful for that, indeed," Shanas added.

The Cleanup Campaign

The movement to clean up and beautify Monroe initiated recently at a meeting of all local service and civic clubs has served to focus attention upon one of the city's basic needs and one of its most regrettable deficiencies—a general, compelling spirit of community pride. Although various individual groups have made commendable attempts at correcting many of the eyesores which disfigure the appearance of the town, this new endeavor marks the first time a truly coordinated effort has been organized for that purpose.

Anyone who has been embarrassed by showing visitors a main street littered with trash, anyone who has been outraged by garbage cans and rubbish boxes placed on public sidewalks in business and in residential districts must recognize the urgency of some immediate project to eliminate such flagrant disregard of civic sensibilities.

Often in the past when the Garden Club or one of the other organizations has planted a street with shrubbery and flowers, some thoughtless property owner has thrown his refuse along the newly blooming bushes. In other cases flowers have been destroyed by carelessness and by wantonly depositing junk and trash upon them. In one specific instance, a trailer camp was erected on Riverfront after the Garden Club had spent much time and effort in beautifying that section.

It is unfortunate that such conditions have been allowed to continue for so long. Delegations of private citizens who have asked offenders to desist from their objectionable practices have in some cases met with success, but in the majority have been rebuffed and told to mind their own business.

Perhaps an organization representing the entire community will be more effectual, but if personal conscience has so far proved inadequate, then a more binding force is certainly required. The embodiment of the general will has always been law, and in these circumstances, an ordinance to enforce the cleanup requests is the only way of implementing the program.

There is no question of the necessity for a cleanup campaign. Through appalling indifference we have allowed individuals to flaunt the primary tenets of community responsibility, and have permitted our streets to become cluttered by unthinking persons using public thoroughfares as private trash heaps. The neutral ground between a building line and the street does not belong to anyone to do with as he wishes, and the sooner that fact is impressed upon those who seem incapable of understanding it, the closer we will be to a city whose appearance we can be proud of.

The service clubs have proposed nothing revolutionary. Other towns throughout the country have taken similar action to insure high standards of municipal cleanliness. Some have placed waste baskets at frequent intervals along the pavements and have imposed fines upon those persisting in tossing candy wrappers, paper bags, and other trash upon the sidewalk. Most of them have some kind of law pertaining to the disposition of refuse, and rigorously defining public property rights.

It must be remembered, though, that these clubs are unable to effect a cleanup campaign alone, nor can any sporadic movement of a week or two's duration be permanently successful. An endeavor of this kind demands the wholehearted support of every member of the community and on every day of the year. Only by such genuine and unremitting cooperation can Monroe be assured of that attractiveness and beauty indispensable to every growing and progressing city.

OBSOLETE BUILDING CODES

In the comparative calm days before the war the building codes of most municipalities were declared by many experts to be archaic. Some were found to have gone unrevised for 20 years. It was repeatedly pointed out that many codes constituted a serious handicap to initiation of low-cost housing projects by private capital, through barring use of tested new materials, new methods and new modes of construction. Another serious handicap was the great diversity in code standards as between one municipality and another in the same regional area.

Back in 1940 when it was active in prosecuting alleged restraints of trade in the building industry—the deputy attorney general in charge was named to a federal judgeship by President Roosevelt and the crusade was dropped—the Department of Justice said the rigidity of municipal codes played directly into the hands of price-fixing interests. During the war some cities in defense areas relaxed their regulations somewhat to permit the use of construction materials other than those on the critical list of the War Production Board. But there is urgent need in general for amending local codes which do not even now permit the use of proven technological developments, including those growing out of war construction practices.

In this situation the action of the Building Officials Conference at Memphis in establishing a permanent foundation to promote modernization and standardization of building codes is a great step forward. A model code for adoption by all municipalities will be ready within a few months and from time to time the foundation will recommend changes in keeping with progress in building materials and methods. This should simplify the problem of code revision for municipal government officials and should lessen the pressures they are often subject to by special interests, especially labor unions, in seeking provisions favorable to themselves.

Joan Leslie, who some months ago broke her contract with Warner Brothers via the courts, is still airing her complaints to everyone within hearing distance. Not only does she make it a point to tell all interviewers about the allegedly bad treatment she received from that studio; she is trying to keep the issue alive by doing scenes from the picture she thinks she should have been assigned (but wasn't) on her current personal appearance tour. Well, I'm not worried about the Messrs. Warner, who seem amply able to take care of themselves, but inasmuch as Miss Leslie won her lawsuit on the contention that as an adult she should not be forced to abide by a contract she signed when a minor, I think she ought to start acting like a grown-up. It's childish to keep harping indefinitely on a theme long since worn threadbare.

The silliest rule ever laid down by the Johnston Office film censors is the one limiting screen kisses to 30 seconds. It's been demonstrated time and again that any producer who feels that his picture should be embellished with sizzling love scenes can circumvent the intent of that rule without the least difficulty. For instance, the love scenes between Ingrid Bergman and Cary Grant in "Notorious," probably the sexiest ever screened for general audience viewing on the American screen. They complied perfectly with the Johnston office dictum—and established a new style of short-duration kissing that came near melting the celluloid. Love scenes should be judged by temperature, not by a stop watch.

Talking to an interviewer the other day, Louis Hayward opined that actors should never see movies. "There's too much danger," he said, "of picking up bad mannerisms." Hmmm! Maybe actors aren't the only people who should stay away. Considering the emphasis that Hollywood is placing on crime, sex, drunkenness and insanity in its picture offerings this year, there's an appalling chance that the paying customers may also pick up mannerisms that are not only bad but downright dangerous!

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday School Lesson for October 27
Scripture: Acts 13:1-5, 13-14,44-46, 48-49; 14:26-27

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

When Paul saw the light on the way to Damascus, we are told that "he was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision." God's call may come to us in heavenly visions or in very human inward impulses; but in whatever way it comes it is by obedience only that we find the pathway to our highest and best service.

Paul the persecutor could but little have realized in the hour of his conversion the greatness of the mission God had for him. His conversion meant that he was breaking with old associations. His future was uncertain. He was accepting all the dangers and risks of a new way.

But there was no uncertainty in Paul himself. He threw himself into the business of being a Christian with all the intensity he had put into his persecuting.

Nor was there any incompleteness in Paul's conversion.

In his Jewish prejudices he had been bigoted and narrow-minded. Now, as if to atone for all his past sins, he ardently took upon himself a mission to gentiles as well as to Jews. And his mission was directed more and more to gentiles as the opposition of his former comrades, the Jewish persecutors, increased.

It was from the pagan city of Antioch, where the disciples were first called "Christians,' that Paul began his missionary journeys; and the first journey was slight in comparison with Paul's later travels. His companion on that first journey was Barnabas, who had spoken up for him when the disciples at Jerusalem were inclined to fear and distrust him.

Accompanying them was a young man named John, whose surname was Mark. This companion later caused a sharp contention between Paul and Barnabas Acts 15:37-39).

He left them on their first journey under circumstances that Paul evidently considered not to his credit, and Paul refused to take him with them when they proposed a second trip. So Paul took Silas as his companion on the second missionary journey, while Barnabas and John Mark went their own way.

In defense of John Mark it may be said that Paul, for whom no danger was too great and no task too formidable, may have been too exacting a leader. In any event, the world owes a great debt to this John Mark, for he was later the author of the Gospel of Mark, the simplest and most direct of the Gospels in its portrayal of the Master's life and work.

IN WASHINGTON

By Peter Edson
(NEA Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—U. S. government seizure and operation of the nation's 2,300 coal mines is now costing the taxpayers $150,000 a month. This $5,000 a day may be a cheap bribe to pay to keep the mine owners in clover and the miners digging coal and contented. But it's burning up money at the rate of $1,800,000 a year, and that ain't ashes.

Continued operation of the coal mines by the government has now dragged on to the point of being a national scandal. Not that there's anything crooked about the government's administration. That's handled through the department of interior.

The actual work is done by a staff of 125 navy officers and about that many enlisted personnel, plus 25 civilian technical experts. They're all under Captain Nathan H. Collison, the coal mines administrator. Collison recently succeeded Admiral Ben H. Moreell on the latter's retirement from the navy, but the admiral is staying on as consultant.

The government took over on May 22—nearly five months ago. Seizure was made under the Smith-Connally Act. It specifies that properties taken over by the government must be returned to private owners within 60 days. So continued government operation is really illegal.

From May 22 to September 1, cost of government operation was $350,000. That covers salaries, subsistence, travel, clerical help—everything except rent for the offices, which are furnished free.

For the last three months of the year, the coal mines administration has asked the bureau of the budget for $450,000. The money comes from the president's emergency war funds, because there isn't any legal appropriation to cover the expenditure and there's no place else it can come from.

The unfortunate thing is that there is no way in which the cost of government operation can be assessed against the operators and the union, to take the taxpayers off the hook. That might be a refinement which the new Congress could consider while it's revising labor legislation—a law which would compel the parties to a labor dispute to reimburse the government for the cost of seizure. It would be an incentive to make management and labor get together and settle their differences.

But the really disgraceful part of the coal situation is that the government is left holding the bag through the bullheadedness of the mine operators and the United Mine Workers' union leadership, who have been unable or unwilling to get together on a new contract.

A month ago the operators and John L. Lewis were called in by Admiral Moreell and urged to sign a new contract to replace the temporary contract signed by Lewis and Interior Secretary J. A. Krug on behalf of the government. The result was negative.

Southern operators refused to accept the five-cents-a-ton royalty payment for miners' welfare funds and the mine safety code provisions, and they refused to recognize supervisory employes' unions. Northern operators were willing to accept all three provisions. So management was split.

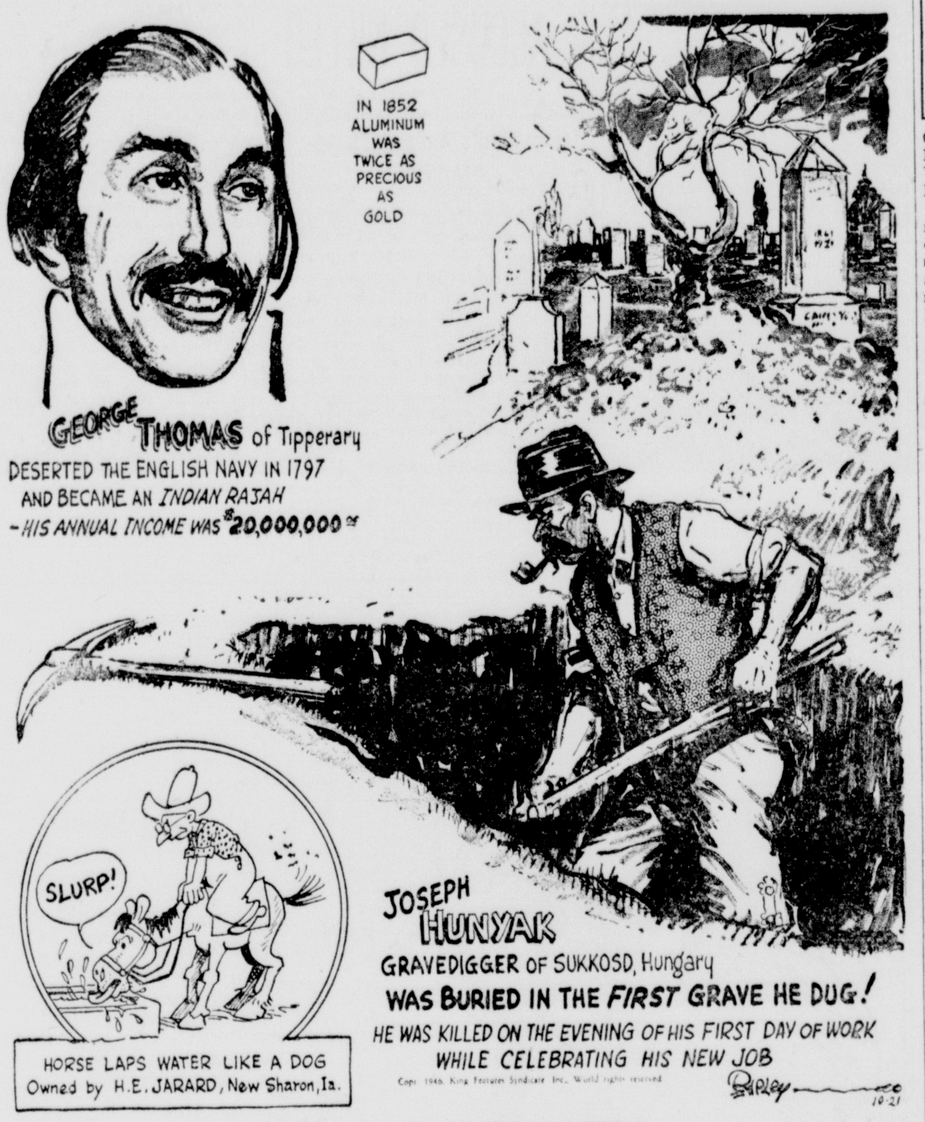

The present contract between Lewis and the government is a national contract. The last contract which Lewis had with the operators was also a national contract. Before that there were separate regional contracts.

Faced with the possibility of going back to regional contract negotiations, Lewis said he would have to put the issue up to the U. M. W. national convention. Then Lewis had his appendix cut out and couldn't go to the convention. In his absence the convention passed resolutions calling government operation of the mines "a farce and a delusion," stuck to the decision that it would negotiate on a national contract only.

On top of that, the convention decided that when it did negotiate with the operators for a new contract, it would ask for wage increases, shorter hours, longer vacations, better working conditions and a carload of other demands.

No further meetings between Lewis and the operators have been scheduled. It may be a couple of weeks before Lewis is able to do business. By stalling around, not being able to agree among themselves, the operators are in a worse position than they were before, in that they now can't take over the Krug-Lewis contract.

LARGEST DOUGLAS FIR TREE FELLED

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Nearly 13 feet in diameter at the base, the largest Douglas fir tree known (in forest service records) to have been felled, has been cut in the Packwood forest, southwest of Mount Rainier.

A short section from the 586-year-old butt today was at the Northwest Door Company plant, where it will be kept in a concrete saddle for display purposes.

The tremendous fir was long overdue for cutting because rot had begun to eat at the base of the trunk and much of the upper part was decayed. It is not known how tall the tree was at its prime as lightning or high wind years ago shattered it 198 feet from its base.

The remaining section however, contains an estimated 11,076 cubic feet of wood or enough, theoretically, to produce 349,464 square feet of plywood, sufficient to build 58 five-room houses, or 132,012 board feet of lumber. The extent of the rot in the upper section is not known.

The section on exhibit is 12 feet 9 inches at its thickest point, and would, itself, produce more than 6,000 board feet of lumber or 13,000 square feet of plywood. Largest previously reported cut was 12 feet 6 inches through.

Three men with a power saw worked a day and a half to fell the giant stick.

SCOUT BOARD TO MEET AT DELHI

Floyd D. Huddleston, scout executive, said Saturday that an executive board meeting will be held at Delhi in the Community House on October 28 at 7 p. m.

Mayor W. H. Farmer of Delhi is arranging for the dinner meeting, Mr. Huddleston said, and all members are asked to be present.

MEETING SCHEDULED ON MOTOR TRAFFIC

James P. Babington, chief inspector of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, will be in Monroe tomorrow to meet with all persons engaged in motor transportation, and the chief feature of the meeting, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock at the court room of the Monroe city hall will be a discussion and explanation of provisions of the state motor carrier regulatory act of 1938, and particularly amendments to the act at the recent session of legislature.

In addition to the meeting here tomorrow, other meetings of the week will be held as follows:

Tuesday: At the Ruston court house.

Wednesday: At the Minden court house.

Thursday: At the Shreveport city hall.

Friday: At the Bossier City city hall.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Boyle's Notebook

By John McKnight
(For Hal Boyle)

ROME, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The jeep, ubiquitous but drab in time of war, is just as ubiquitous in time of peace—but not so drab.

A dwindling contingent of army vehicles still tootles along Italian highways in the liverish coat which, while it may add appreciably to the difficulties of enemy gunners, contributes nothing to the cause of esthetics.

Private purchasers of the quarter-ton "roller skates," however, have dipped their paint brushes into the rainbow, and a Rome parking lot these days looks like a basket of Easter eggs.

The only limitations on color combinations seem to be lack of imagination, short stocks in Italian paint shops and, in one case at least, a wife's resounding "no" to certain exotic hues rashly proposed.

A chaste black with red trimmings was the compromise she imposed, a combination since emulated by other members of the Rome colony who either have a certain native restraint or have acquired it through their wives.

However, the young American idea over here—and it is surprisingly numerous, what with the many G. I.'s who have taken local discharges to wed black-eyed Italian belles—runs to flamboyance.

An army officer who owns his own jeep has done it up in lacquer white with red wheels and chronium bright work, while one of the less doddering correspondents has picked brilliant green with yellow markings. There are several jobs around town in baby and navy blue, and jeeps are to be seen, too, in lavender, mauve, purple, light tan and almost any other color you can name.

Many private owners—who include some 1,438 members of the armed forces given an early crack at the buggies when the army started selling them off—have been at infinite pains to make them "look like civilian jobs."

The awkward hump of the top has been smoothed out, on some jeeps, by shortening the rear uprights and adding one or two others to give a rounded, near-streamlined look. It's surprising how dapper some of the old jeeps look after this treatment.

Other jeeps have been "winterized," the process ranging from complete enclosure in metal or wood bodies with shatter-proof glass windows, to the mere installation of shallow doors to which side curtains are attached.

Proud owners also have affixed accessories reminiscent of luxury cars back home—chrome twin horns, sirens (strictly illegal), fancy spotlights, electric windshield wipers, deep-sprung red morocco seats and, oo-la-la, white dimity seat covers.

The most audacious surgery yet attempted is that of a news photographer who is having his purchase from the office of the foreign liquidation commission cut square in two amidships and elongated into a station wagon.

O. F. L. C. reports that, in addition to jeeps sold to soldiers and sailors (who also bought 290 trailers and 131 motorcycles), UNRRA took 397, United States war veterans 259, private charities 35, and United States embassies and consulates 54.

With the 3,167 jeeps sold to the Italian government and the 390 to private Italian purchasers there are now—making allowances for some shipped home and others cracked up—something over 5,000 privately owned quarter-tons buzzing around Italy.

Pitching Horseshoes
By Billy Rose

Chairman B. Carroll Reece
Republican National Committee
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. Reece:

Your worries are over. I've got the man who can win the 1948 Presidential election for the Grand Old Party. His name is Claude William Dukenfield, and he was born in Philadelphia. The man in the street knows him as W. C. Fields:

Billy Rose

Here are his qualifications for President:

1. If I know the Great Mountebank, he'll get more votes than there are voters.

2. During the campaign you won't have to pay for his radio time. Even the Democrats would be glad to sponsor a Republican speech by old Thunder-in-the-Mountains.

3. He'd get along fine with Stalin. Ten minutes with the greatest buffoon of our time and Uncle Joe would be inviting American correspondents to read his personal mail.

4. He has the great presidential qualification—he's good at double-talk. I can prove this with an old story. On the golf links Fields swung at a ball and missed. "Stand here," he said to the caddy. He swung again and missed. "Stand over there," he barked.

"But," said the caddy, "you told me to stand here."

"Don't do what I tell you to do," bellowed Fields. "Do what I tell you to do."

5. He's economical. After he has emptied the bottles, he juggles them.

6. Unlike some presidents in my time, when he's funny at a press conference we'll all know it's intentional. If we're going to have a comedian in the White House—let's have a good one.

Down the field with Fields!

Billy.

Hon. William O'Dwyer
City Hall
New York, N. Y.
Dear Mr. Mayor:

Did you hear what that fellow up at Bellevue Hospital is saying? Dr. Foster Kennedy, the head neurologist, says we're drinking ourselves into headaches and convulsions. And it's not whiskey he's talking about—it's water, plain water. He says the American habit of guzzling countless glasses of water each day causes edema of the brain, resulting in convulsions.

As Mayor, it's up to you to do something muy pronto. I know it would be too expensive to fill the Croton Reservoir with tomato juice. Because of the sugar shortage, it may not be practical to pipe hot-and-cold running cream soda into every kitchen.

Perhaps David Sarnoff, head of RCA, can help. He recently announced scientists will soon be able to control the weather. Maybe you two boys can fix it so it will rain seltzer.

Anyhow, I know now why I had the jimjams this morning. It was the water the bartender kept putting in my highballs last night.

A Loyal Citizen.

Secretary John W. Snyder
Treasury Department
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. Secretary:

Don't you think it would be a good idea to run this ad in the Lost and Found column?

LOST—Two billion dollars. Somewhere between the White House and the Treasury Building. Finder please return to Secretary John W. Snyder. Liberal reward.

If we review how it happened maybe you'll remember where you dropped it. A couple of weeks ago the President announced the budget would be balanced this year. A few days later you said we'd wind up $2,000,000,000 in the red. Next day you both declared everything was hunky-dory—no difference between you.

I don't get it. You can't both be right. Either the budget is balanced or we're two billion in the hole. I know how busy you fellows are these days, and that in Washington they don't even ring the register for that kind of dough. But maybe you'll worry more about it when you realize that if you started counting it at a dollar a second you'd still be at it in 2200 A. D.—assuming the Democrats were still in office.

I wish you'd look in the bottom drawer of your desk, behind the pillows on the sofa, and in the pockets of your other pants.

I'm kind of worried about that two billion—a little piece of it is mine.

Respectfully,

Billy.

NEGRO CANDIDATE HELD FOR INSANITY

ATLANTA, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Aurelius S. Scott, Negro candidate for coroner, was removed by relatives from the Atlanta jail early today for transfer to a Nashville, Tenn., "mental institution," Police Chief M. A. Hornsby reported.

The chief quoted a report of Capt. H. T. Jenkins that Scott "was still very violent" when a brother and two other Negroes came for him at 12:45 a. m., after he had been held several hours at the request of members of his family.

The 45-year-old Scott last night was "booked to hold on charges of disorderly conduct and demented," Hornsby said.

Cornelius A. Scott, publisher of the Atlanta Daily World and brother of the Negro candidate, said, "Aurelius has been a sick man for some months."

Scott said he would ask Fulton County Ordinary (Clerk) Eugene Gunby to disqualify his brother as a candidate because "he does not meet the required two years' residence in Georgia."

Disqualification charges had been brought against Scott by George M. Kirkland, one of 23 white candidates for the Fulton County coroner's job Gunby will hear the complaint Monday.

THINK WOMEN

day at the approximate time of the robbery and two or three days before it.

A close watch was maintained on airfields and seaports. Police believed they had prevented the thieves from smuggling the gems out of the country.

The style of the robbery bore a close resemblance to other recent jewel thefts in which a pair of women party guests had been suspected. It was, like the others, executed by a "cat" burglar who climbed directly to the duchess' boudoir window and who knew exactly where to look for the gems.

This burglar's daring willingness to infiltrate a Scotland Yard guard around the country manor, lent to the former king and his wife by Dudley, suggested previous knowledge that much of the duchess' jewelry was there, even though he might have known that most of her $1,000,000 collection was locked in a bank vault.

Scotland Yard men, discussing the other recent jewel thefts, expressed belief that the pair of women may have assembled information not only about the movements of well-known wealthy persons, but about the amount of gems they owned and where the stones normally were kept.

The Yard did not believe, however, that the women actually participated in the thefts. It was believed they merely collaborated with two expert thieves.

While the Yard believed it likely the thieves still were in England, the possibility of an escape to France was not overlooked. It was reported that several operatives were in Paris working with the surete, and at the same time were investigating a possibility that the thieves had trailed the duke and duchess from France a week ago.

The duke has lodged a claim for $80,000 for the jewels under a Lloyd's insurance policy. A reward of $8,000 had been offered for the recovery of the treasures, posted by Henderson and Company, London assessors.

ing from 50 cents to $2.40, depending on grade. Hogs had a ceiling of $16.25 and there was a subsidy of $1.75, regardless of grade.

Food articles which compete directly with meat, such as poultry, closed the week with price declines. Fowl, selling at 35 cents a pound in the Chicago wholesale market Monday, dropped to 29 cents at the week's close. Roosters declined from 38-40 cents. Other classes similarly had substantial losses.

A similar decline developed in the New York market. Young hen turkeys, bringing 53 to 55 cents a pound wholesale in the live poultry market immediately before meat ceilings were removed, closed at 45 to 50 cents. Leghorn fowl dropped from 33-35 cents to 25-27 cents.

Eggs also weakened, and trade sources explained that with more meat available a diminished demand for eggs was expected. At Chicago, a grade of eggs which brought 57-60 cents a dozen wholesale Monday sold at 53-57 cents as the week closed. A grade at New York which had brought 61-62 cents sold for 48 1/2 cents.

Butter cracked badly on Thursday, reacting to removal of ceilings on fats and oils. The agriculture department, in its weekly summary, said, "One of the factors weakening the market was the possibility of freer supplies of margarine and cooking fats now that ceilings have been removed."

A grade of butter which brought 88 1/2 to 89 cents a pound in the Chicago wholesale market Monday was down to 80 to 80 1/2 cents at the week's close. New York butter dropped from 87 1/2 cents to 79 1/2-80 cents. These prices were representative of changes at other markets.

Cheese prices did not slump as sharply as butter and the agriculture department noted "cheese and butter prices are now definitely out of line" and added there was some trade opinion that "milk will be attracted to cheese, rather than butter."

When price lids were taken off fats and oils Tuesday night, prices immediately spurted. Soybeans closed the week at Chicago at $3.11 a bushel compared with a former ceiling of $2.32 1/2. Flax advanced to $6.50 a bushel at Minneapolis compared with $4.00 early in the week. Trading was resumed in cottonseed oil futures at New York and prices were bid up daily limits without attracting offerings.

Lard, which had been under a ceiling of 18 cents a pound, was quoted on the Chicago Board of Trade at 36 cents with no sales. However, there were many sales confirmed in the open market at 50 cents.

Grains worked lower and the Uhlmann Grain Company, surveying the situation, said "It looks to us as though we were in a cycle of gradually declining commodity markets. There will be exceptions and interruptions but . . . it looks as though with these big crops the tendency would be downward."

Cash corn which sold Monday at $2.04 to $2.06 a bushel was down to $1.86 at Chicago by week's end. Oats at Minneapolis slipped from 80 3/4-82 1/4 to 74 1/4-75 3/4. Wheat at Kansas City fell from $2.06-$2.10 a bushel to $1.95 1/2-1.96 1/4.

In the futures markets, cotton drew the limelight on a $25 a bale brake over a three-day period. This produced charges from Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of a "bear raid," brought a government investigation of transactions and closed all markets on the last day of the week.

Grain futures were highlighted by the end of two dollar wheat. All futures sold above $2.00 on Monday and well below that level on Saturday. Egg futures wound up with the largest Saturday volume of trading in history on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and prices of the January delivery at a new low of 26.20 cents a dozen.

TAXIMAN

ceived a call at 12:50 Saturday to go to Jimmie's Cafe, opposite the Brown Paper mill, to pick up a passenger for a "country trip." Arriving there he found the fare to be a young man about 25 years of age wearing an army O. D. jacket and no hat, who said he wanted to go to the Sandel Berry store, during the eight mile ride the passenger revealed himself to be a discharged soldier and made the remark about "flimflamming." He appeared to be familiar with the neighborhood and mentioned the names of other stores they passed.

Arriving at the Berry store, which was closed for the night, Ballew parked at the side of the building and the passenger alighted and drew a .45 calibre pistol and pointed it at the driver.

"I don't want your money, buddy—just the company's," said the robber, and at his command Ballew took out his billfold and extracted the $14, laying the bills on the front seat of the cab. The holdup man did not search the driver, taking his word that he had no more "company money" on his person.

"Now you start walking back to town so you can report this," directed the robber and he entered the machine and drove rapidly west toward Eros.

Ballew had walked two miles toward West Monroe when he stopped a west-bound 1935 Chevrolet coupe containing two young men and two girls, whose names he did not learn. After he told them of the holdup, they obligingly turned around and took him to the Roberts Lumber Company office from where he telephoned the night dispatcher, Odell Wilson, of what had happened. Wilson called state police and Troopers Johnnie Jones and Cloyd Edwards picked up Ballew at the lumber yard and spent two hours driving about the locality in which the cab had disappeared without finding a trace of the machine or the gunman.

Mrs. Adele Clark, 25-year-old night manager of Jimmie's Cafe, wondered Saturday why the robber had not taken advantage of the "easy opportunity" to hold her up and take the $150 to $200 that was in the cash register by which he passed on the way to the telephone at the cafe counter. She was closing the cafe and was alone with her niece, Florice Leonard, 21, when the young man appeared at the door and asked to use the telephone. She heard him order the cab and after he had gone outside to wait the taxi office phoned her to confirm the call. The young women said they had never seen the youth before. They further described him as having "curly, sandy hair."

BERLIN

a majority of the vote. But the SED had material advantages, with its candidate lists placed before a much greater percentage of the electorate and its candidates give more paper for campaign literature and gasoline for its vehicles. It also claimed support of the Russian authorities.

In the other three occupied zones, however, the SED has made a poor showing in previous elections.

In its campaign in Berlin the SED has called for Socialization of Berlin's industry, expropriation of the properties of alleged "war criminals and big Nazis," but leniency toward the former small fry who wore the swastika. It has praised the present city government as doing a good job in cleaning up the war-ravaged city and has urged its retention.

The Social Democrats and Christian Democrats have attacked the Communist-dominated magistrat (city hall) as inefficient and unrepresentative and has urged a clean sweep in order to give other parties larger representation.

Campaigning has been heated and the voting is expected to be heavy. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

The voters will elect a city council and borough council to replace municipal administrations created by the Russians in May, 1945, when they were sole occupiers of the city.

Col. Glaser commented that the election "is long overdue—Berlin should have had a chance to pick its own municipal government months ago."

Special precautions will be taken by the four Allied occupying powers to see that the voting is secret and fair. Ten four-power inspection teams will supervise the ballot places and tour the city to make spot checks.

The Allied kommandantur has assured Berlin residents that "in the eyes of the Allies all parties are equal," and Col. Frank Howley, director of the American office of military government for Berlin, advised the German press to tell "all the people of Berlin that the days of the 'ja' (yes) vote and the days of intimidation are past."

"The occupying powers only urge the people to vote, to think before they vote and then to cast their ballots according to their conviction," he added.

HOSPITAL

surance soon to be offered by major insurance companies would create a tremendous demand for hospitalization in the future not now in existence.

The further fact of the increasing population of the Twin Cities was cited as another valid reason why it will be necessary to have more hospital facilities.

E. Gordon Wright, chairman of the special committee appointed recently to represent the Chamber in the Ouachita Valley association, reported to the board that his committee, composed of Ray Updegraff, G. Thomas Frazer, and Ted H. Allen, had completed the raising of the $2,000 quota of the Twin Cities in association budget. As a member of the executive committee of the O. V. A., Mr. Wright advised the board that the engineering firm of Porter and Elliott of St. Louis was now making an economic survey of the Ouachita water shed. Based upon this survey, Mr. Wright said, that two barge companies had indicated an interest in providing service on the Ouachita and he forecast reestablishment of this service between Monroe and New Orleans during the early part of 1947.

J. W. Keene, a member of the board of directors of the Industrial Foundation, presented a preliminary report on the campaign to raise funds and stated that there were 71 local businessmen engaged in the campaign to sell stock in the enterprise. He said 25 of these solicitors had submitted preliminary reports, that local firms and individuals had made subscriptions for stock totaling $26,700. None of the large subscriptions had been officially reported prior to the board meeting, Mr. Keene added.

President T. H. Scott advised the board that continued efforts were being made to bring to the Twin Cities the North Louisiana the Regional Veterans Administration office, now temporarily domiciled in the Dodd College buildings in Shreveport. He stated that it was impossible to effect the erection of a new office building in Monroe to provide the required 80,000 square feet of floor space which would cost approximately $2,000,000. The Veterans Administration office would not guarantee a lease for a longer period than five years. Mr. Scott said there were three buildings in Monroe in close proximity to each other which might be made available for the regional office and that investigation of this possibility was being made.

Steelman said $400,000,000 of the $500,000,000 would go to non-military projects.

These agencies originally contemplated spending $1,500,000,000 for the 12 months ending next June 30. They had committed themselves to $600,000,000 worth of projects by August 6, 1946, when Mr. Truman ordered the moratorium.

New projects will be limited to those regarded by Steelman's office as essential.

Steelman said revisions made by government agencies in their building programs represented a "determined effort" to comply with the president's economy directive.

"In cutting back the federal construction program," he said, "every effort has been made both by the sponsoring agencies and the reviewing agencies to avoid interference with projects which must go forward because they are needed for the maintenance of national health, safety, and other essential services."

For example, he said the corps of engineers reported that under their original ceiling they would be unable to submit new projects for review by the reconversion office and might have to defer work on some essential projects for which contracts already had been awarded.

Likewise, he added, the reclamation bureau reported that some projects it deemed vital might have to be curtailed or stopped.

"In such instances," he said, "the president has authorized the budget bureau to make provision for additional limited expenditures on projects of urgent necessity."

duty for the Ouachita parish agricultural booth which had to be set up and arranged. This week it will be Mrs. Jewel McQuiller's turn for she will take 50 4-H club winners in various projects. Proudly among the group will be Betty Laura Aldrich, 4-H blu ribbon winner, who will try her luck further when she enters state finals at the fair.

In these fantastic times of building scarcities and vaulting prices of labor and material, the present situation was stressed when a Monroe contractor gave figures for new construction to one of his prospects. He told the party inquiring that the present cost is $1,200 a room. That bath room fixtures are $900, and $800 is required for installations. Then when it comes to the kitchen, fixtures cost $800 with $140 more required for installation. In this way a four room house, plus bath and kitchen, would total in cost today $7,440. But this may not be so badly out of line for one man we know paid $4,000 for a house on Glenmar and has since refused $15,000 from an eager would-be purchaser.

Rev. Wallace Reeves, pastor of Caliborne Methodist church, says the overflow of the parish school out there has taken over the church week days, and classes are now conducted there. The Ouachita Parish School board is said to be purchasing the property. The money received and added donations will be used to erect a church across the street from the school, Mr. Reeves states according to present plans.

Prior to the war, Belgium, in measures to relieve unemployment, passed a law banning the use of a steam shovel, except in rare emergencies, and required that all digging be done by hand tools.

produced a number of such outfits some time ago in the expectation that L85 would be repealed and to have sold them to stores. When the removal of the ban was not forthcoming the retailers had them on their hands. Some of the ensembles were split up and sold as separate units but the longer skirts have posed a problem. Trimming them down to the legal of 42 to 47 inches, depending upon size, would have entailed heavy alteration costs, and the material snipped off would have been useless.

The CPA announcement said the rescinding of L85 "should" cause no "substantial" change in fall or winter styles, nor make women's present wardrobes outmoded. It noted that "the bulk of cutting of garments for fall and winter is over and the garments are now being finished."

There is nothing to prevent a manufacturer from producing fall and winter styles in the mode formerly prohibited, however, instead of waiting for the spring line as the CPA apparently intended.

The order will be revoked officially "as soon as formal legal action can be taken," the announcement said. A CPA spokesman, Harry Price, said this probably will be done Monday but it might be delayed until Thursday.

In any event, he explained, manufacturers and retailers can consider L85 dead immediately. Having announced the action, the CPA would take no steps against anyone proceeding on that basis.

The CPA announcement said "there is now a relative abundance of woolens and the supply of cottons and rayons is closer to demand than at any time since L85 went into effect." This is what the trade has contended for some time in urging removal of the ban.

president might make a major foreign policy talk in New York.

If it follows the line of the Byrnes and Vandenberg broadcasts, it might help wipe out the last bits of confusion which resulted from Mr. Truman's original endorsement of Henry A. Wallace's Madison Square Garden address last month, which was sharply critical of Byrnes' policy.

In any case, the officials assumed that Mr. Truman discussed what should go into the speech with Byrnes, Acheson and Austin. Byrnes has announced he will be in New York for the president's talk.

Another endorsement of Byrnes' speech and policy came from Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, aboard the British liner Queen Elizabeth plowing the Atlantic toward New York. Connally, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and another of Byrnes' advisers in Paris, praised the speech and said the peace conference had achieved "substantial results."

Vandenberg said this country's "bipartisan" policy is one of peace, not war, and predicted it will succeed "unless it is scuttled here at home."

Asked the flat question whether war with Russia some day is inevitable, Vandenberg replied that "it must not be allowed to become inevitable." He decried "American groups which over-zealously seek to make their own peace ideas impressive by using war as the frightening alternative."

"I wish we could quit talking about 'war,'" he said.

Like the secretary, Vandenberg reported that some progress was made at Paris, and that the policy toward Russia is one of firmness, not toughness.

"Is it a fair description," Cushing asked, "to call this new bipartisan American foreign policy a 'get tough with Russia' policy?" Those were the words used by Henry A. Wallace in the critical New York speech which led to his ouster from the cabinet.

"It is not accurate," Vandenberg replied. "'Friendly firmness' is the correct phrase."

Wallace was not mentioned directly in the broadcast. But Vandenberg assailed "appeasers" and "missionaries of confusion here at home."

"Russia does not want war," the senator said. "America does not want war. We both are in the United Nations to prevent war. I hear much more war talk here than I did in Paris.

"In my opinion, if it happens it will come from some tragically unfortunate incident which may well be the result of somebody's miscalculation as to how far we will tolerate some policy which either threatens our own security or which violates our conception of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

"That is why, in my view, it is so vitally necessary that we should be wholly frank with Russia—say what we mean and mean what we say. Candor must not be mistaken for ill will.

Vandenberg pleaded for a united American foreign policy, supported generally by members of both major parties, "so there will be no delusion abroad that we are vulnerable because we are at the mercy of internal divisions."

NEW COOPERATION BID IS MADE BY JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—In a new bid for cooperation among the major powers in the United Nations security council, U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson today called for an end of "wild and unsubstantiated charges, harsh accusations and counter-charges within the council."

Speaking before the foreign policy association as delegates from 51 nations gathered for Wednesday's opening of the U. N. general assembly, Johnson criticized what he called "misuse of the council for propaganda purposes" and too frequent use of the veto.

He declared that people throughout the world "react with deep misgivings" to the way the security council has operated so far and added:

"All of us, I think, feel the need of substituting a spirit of cooperation for one of recrimination. We can, if we will, change the climate of international intercourse by trying harder to win the peace than to win a point in debate."

Johnson declared that the big powers had special responsibilities as well as special powers and warned that the "great hope of the charter becomes dim" if the powers ever use their position "to compromise the principles of the charter itself for their own advantage at the expense of others."

"We feel that the obligation under the charter is for each of the permanent members to seek ways of concurring and thus meeting the issue," he said. "This requires a spirit of accommodation and the recognition of the ultimate goal of peace and security with justice."

in financial difficulty is, to our mind, greatly exaggerated. All contracts in our clearing house are margined up to our full requirements."

Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, of the Senate agriculture committee, describing the markets' drop as a "bear raid," charged that the exchanges, "their branch houses, customers' men and clients" had planned "to drive cotton prices down to the lowest possible point."

New York exchange managers denied any such involvement and said should Thomas present "any tangible evidence" it would investigate and take remedial action required.

POWER STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED SOON

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Hope of ending the crippling power strike which for 26 days has darkened and dismayed the nation's steel capital, centers in a meeting of the 3,200 union membership tomorrow—the first in three weeks.

George L. Mueller, president of the Duquesne Light Company's independent union said today, "it appears that members will vote for arbitration."

Mueller previously had been against arbitration as a means of settling the deadlocked wage dispute. Twice before, the union membership, by better than 2 to 1 votes, decided not to arbitrate.

The balding union leader was in Washington today for a conference with Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schewellenbach to get "certain aspects" clarified.

Mueller told capitol newsmen, "if arbitration were accepted there would be no need for the strike." But he added, perhaps "one or two months" might be required before a decision is reached.

INSTALL MARINE LEAGUE OFFICERS

Congressman-Elect And City Officials Guests Of Detachment

The principal officers of the Northeast Louisiana Detachment of the Marine Corps League were installed at a banquet Friday night in the Cameo room of Hotel Virginia.

Guests of the detachment at the ceremony were Otto E. Passman, congressman-elect from the Fifth district, Mayor H. H. Benoit, W. D. H. Rodriguez, commissioner of finance and public utilities, and C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks.

Officers installed were M. A. Newburn, commandant; R. L. Fuller, senior vice-commandant; Bill Jones, junior vice-commandant; H. B. McClendon, chief-of-staff; and George Tidwell, adjutant and paymaster.

District Judge David I. Garrett, detachment judge advocate, acting for Meigs O. Frost, of New Orleans, southern vice-commandant of the league, installed the officers. Previous commitments prevented Mr. Frost from attending the ceremony.

N. P. Renwick served as sergeant-at-arms in marshaling the officers for the installation.

When called upon for a talk, Mr. Passman devoted his remarks to the possibility of obtaining establishment of the north Louisiana regional office of the Veterans Administration. Happy Sevier, of Tallulah, national Democratic committeeman for Louisiana, had informed him, Mr. Passman said, that he, Mr. Sevier, favored Monroe as the permanent location of the office and would cooperate in efforts to get it established here.

Besides working with Mr. Sevier, Mr. Passman said he was seeking the assistance of U. S. Senators Allen Ellender and John H. Overton in endeavoring to obtain the office for Monroe. The congressman-elect urged members of the detachment to urge everyone with influence that they knew to get behind the move to get the office.

Aside from the large payroll it would bring here, the office, located in Monroe, would be ideally situated geographically to service claims of north Louisiana veterans, Mr. Passman said.

Mayor Benoit said it was his earnest desire to see the regional office located here and that he would continue to use his influence in that direction.

Commissioner Rodriguez said it was his belief that the esprit de corps of marines best exemplified the courageousness of American manhood. Commissioner Tidwell pledged his cooperation to both the detachment and to Congressman-elect Passman.

A letter to National Committeeman Sevier urging him to intercede in Washington in behalf of Monroe as the place for the regional VA office was unanimously authorized by the detachment.

Attention of the detachment was called to the proposed state constitutional amendment granting a $5,000 homestead tax exemption to veterans of World War II and dependents of military personnel who died during the war. The amendment is to be voted upon at the general election November 5.

PEEVY FUNERAL PLANNED TODAY

Rites For Prominent Citizen To Be At Residence Here

The funeral of Lonnie Howard Peevy, Sr., 65, prominent Monroe resident, who died Friday, will be held at the residence, Loop Road, today at 2 p.m. Rev. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. E. F. Hayward, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will officiate.

At Calhoun, where the Hixson Funeral Home will have charge of the interment, Rev. Charles A. Moore will officiate in the cemetery there.

Mr. Peevy's death resulted from a sudden heart attack after he had undergone an operation for appendicitis, and resulted unexpectedly in a local sanitarium.

Mr. Peevy was a lifelong resident of Ouachita parish, and had attended Louisiana State University. He was overseer for the Hardtimes plantation for some years. He served on the Ouachita Parish Police Jury from Ward Six in times past, and was active in political circles in parish and state. He was head of the game division of the state conservation department for a number of years, and was always an enthusiastic hunter and sportsman.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Johnnie Peevy; one son, L. H. Peevy, Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. Loren Snyder, Odessa, Tex.; Mrs. John R. Goodlett, living in California; two sisters, Mrs. Porter Burgess, Monroe, and Mrs. Claude Roberts, Calhoun, La., and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers named are: Clark Ransom, Neil McHenry, W. F. Grafton, Dr. F. C. Bennett, Joe T. Austin, Ray Rhymes, Courtney Oliver and Pat Wright.

dicated the shotgun charge was fired by a person who hid in high weeds in a vacant lot adjacent to the Norcia residence.

He theorized that Norcia had been the only intended victim but that the buckshot charge from the shotgun also struck Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Robinson was struck in the neck and chest while Norcia was hit in the chest.

Norcia was the owner of a Canton smoke shop and also operated the Canton Bulldogs, a semi-professional football team composed of former Canton High School players.

Detective Quilligan said Norcia had a police record dating back to 1938.

FINEST OF THE FAMOUS "SILVER STREAKS"

PONTIAC

When you consider how much more you'll get by waiting for a new Pontiac—you'll agree that here is one case where waiting pays off in handsome dividends.

Pontiac leads its field by such a wide margin because there is no substitute for what it offers. There is no substitute for Pontiac beauty—for Pontiac performance—for Pontiac comfort—or for Pontiac safety and handling ease. And the years of wartime usage proved conclusively that there is no substitute for Pontiac dependability! For reasons beyond our control, which we regret as much as you, production is below what had been anticipated. But improvement is being made—and the wait, from here out, may be shorter than you think. But whatever the time before your Pontiac is ready—wait! When you do get it—you'll have the finest automobile offered at anywhere near the price!

COMPLETE SERVICE OFFERED
While awaiting your new Pontiac, keep your present car running at peak efficiency with proper service and upkeep. Money thus spent may prevent failures at some inconvenient time and will protect your car's trade-in value. Our complete service facilities are offered at reasonable prices.

COPIAH-LINCOLN NEXT FOR N. J. C. INDIANS

WOLVES TANGLE WITH REDSKINS HERE SATURDAY

Malone Congratulates Boys In McNeese Defeat; 'They Played Like Men'

The Copiah-Lincoln Wolf Pack of Wesson, Miss., long a rival of Northeast Junior College elevens, will come to Monroe next Saturday with aspirations of taking up where the Kilgore Rangers, Ole Miss Bees, and McNeese Cowboys left off in administering defeats to Coach James L. Malone's Redskins.

But the Indians, still regarded as the best squad ever assembled at the local school but just having the misfortune to find their opponents loaded with the best talent in their grid histories as well, promise the Wolf Pack that victory will not come easy and that Coach "Goat" Fortenberry's invaders will have to battle for every inch of ground.

Co-Lin, reportedly undefeated this season, boasts the finest team Wesson has ever had and will be able to present a forward wall averaging 200 pounds from end to end.

"Fortenberry is setting in the gap just waiting for us and he certainly expects to make this Co-Lin's year," Coach Malone declared last night, but at the same time the Indian mentor predicted "another wide open game with plenty of thrills for the customers."

Although the Tribesmen bowed to a powerful John McNeese Cowboy eleven, 16 to 0, here Friday night, Coach Malone declared:

"I have nothing but congratulations for my boys. They played football like men and the best team won. They were simply better than we were.

"My line's work was particularly pleasing, but the McNeese game now is just another contest under our belts, and we're looking forward toward another just as tough. We have no alibis to offer for the defeat."

Some of the Indians' best line play against McNeese was turned in by Tackle Charles "Bud" Cain, and Guards Joe Bob Tyler and John Mesanko. Tyler, especially, played his usual bang-up game to further stamp himself as one of the finest linemen ever developed at N. J. C.

NEVILLE FRESHMEN PLAY PELS TUESDAY

The Neville High School freshman football team, which defeated the Winnsboro Frosh last Monday night, 31 to 0, will meet the Homer Pelicans freshman gridders at Neville Stadium here Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced last night by Frosh Coach J. O. Claudell.

The Bengal freshmen looked good the past Monday beating Winnsboro in a game in which Charles Worley, back, made runs of 60 and 40 yards for touchdowns. End John Noel caught a pass and ran for another touchdown, and then Coach Claudell gave every member of his freshmen squad a chance to play.

The Neville boys are booming their hard running fullback, Guy Dupriest, as the boy most likely to give Homer trouble. Dupriest made several fine runs against Winnsboro but was never able to hit paydirt.

W. T. Brown, hurt in an earlier game with Bastrop's frosh, is expected to be ready to play some Tuesday. "Fox" Boultt and "Suvivor" Wood, ends, have been looking mighty good defensively in workouts the past few days.

The probable Neville line for Tuesday was announced as Boultt and Wood, ends; Jack Baugh and Chris Gatzoulas, tackles; Roy Scalia and Kyle Letterman, guards; and Johnny Johnson, center.

ON THE TRAIL WITH BILL GEAGAN

(Associated Press News Features)

Dr. Howard L. Mendall of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and leader of the Maine Cooperative Wildlife Research unit at the University of Maine in Orono, does not agree with hunters who claim that ducks are very numerous and that it wasn't necessary for the service to shorten the open season and reduce the daily bag limit.

In an interview for this column, Dr. Mendall revealed that wild-fowl population in this country definitely is down and that the change made in the laws governing the shooting of the birds is a much needed conservation measure.

He said that the drop in the wild-fowl population began last year and points out that only 50 per cent of the nests in the breeding grounds of Maine and New Brunswick, which he and his staff members had under observation, produced ducklings. And the hatch was no better this year. This situation is due, he believes, to a scarcity of male birds which fertilize the eggs.

Droughts and floods have taken a heavy toll during the hatching and rearing periods, and shooting of the survivors on the annual southward migration by a record number of hunters also has slashed into the supply.

Dr. Mendall also points out that conservation is much better than restoration. He believes that the only weapon with which "we can successfully combat the destruction of our wildlife and all other natural resources, is public education."

Bag the Cripples!

The open season on wildfowl in northern states got underway October 5 and closes Nov. 18. More hunters than ever before will blaze away from coastal and inland blinds and despite the shortage, the total kill is expected to be great, and the supply will be reduced further.

Sportsmen, however, can help in conserving the dwindling population and protect their sport by going all out in an effort to kill and retrieve all birds that are crippled during the barrages. Each year thousands of crippled birds are allowed to swim or flop away and in some lonely cove die a slow death or are torn to pieces by other animals.

A good dog is a help in retrieving both dying birds and dead ones that frequently are swept away.

Shooting only at birds within range also will help in conserving the supply by making clean kills instead of "reaching" and often bringing down wounded birds that get away and are wasted.

Bothered the Cop

Even a turtle ought to know better than to interfere with the pleasure of a policeman. But there is one, or rather there was one, a 25-pound snapper who apparently didn't give a rap for an officer or his badge.

The officer, Byron Davis, a member of the Raynham, Mass., police department, and a couple of friends took a fling at the white perch in a favorite pond, and for a time enjoyed very fast fishing. Then suddenly the fish stopped biting.

The anglers couldn't figure out what had happened until out of the water popped the head of the large turtle. The reptile had chased away the perch.

Drawing his pistol, Officer Davis shot off the turtle's head, and in a few minutes the perch were back and the fishing was as good as ever.

A great run of striped bass caused a rush of anglers at Nauset Inlet on the Massachusetts coast recently. The fishermen with long, surf casting rods hurled their lures far out beyond the rollers where the big fish were schooling.

In addition a pair of novices, fully equipped with brand new tackle, dashed onto the scene. They sprang into action and one of them became so excited that in making a mighty cast he heaved his whole outfit, rod and all, far out in the surf. He stared blankly for a moment, then swam out and retrieved his rigging.

But, as he was swimming back with it, a huge bass took the lure. The reel was badly backlashed and the fighting fish snapped the line.

MAJORS ATTRACT RECORD CROWDS

More Than 18 Million Fans See Big League Games During Past Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Over 18,000,000 fans paid their way into major league baseball parks during the 1946 season with the New York Yankees establishing a new individual record by drawing 2,309,029 spectators, according to unofficial figures compiled by the Associated Press.

The grand total of both the American and National League was 18,612,704, an increase of 63 per cent over the 1945 total of 11,375,185.

The American League drew 9,666,421 while the National's turnstiles clicked off 8,946,283. In 1945, the junior loop drew 6,002,366 and the senior, 5,372,819.

Although they wound up in third place, the Yanks' mark broke the previous high of 1,485,166 established by the pennant winning 1929 Chicago Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, runner-up to the world champion St. Louis Cardinals in the National League pennant race, lured 1,796,155 customers through its gates, tops for the circuit. The Detroit Tigers of the American circuit also beat the former Cub mark by drawing 1,722,590 to Briggs Stadium.

Ten of the 16 teams drew more than one million paid admissions as compared to five last season and none in 1944.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns of the American and the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds of the National were the only teams that failed to break their previous attendance records.

Ben Chapman's hustling Philadelphia Phillies made the greatest increase of any team in the National League while the Yanks did likewise in the American with the champion Boston Red Sox a close second.

Comparative attendance for 1946 and 1945 follow:

LEGION SPONSORS ARMISTICE EVENT

Golf Tournament For Monroe, West Monroe Members Slated Nov. 9-10

The first annual American Legion Golf Tournament, open to members of the Monroe and West Monroe posts, will be held here November 9 and 10 at the Municipal Golf Club as a part of the L. B. Faulk Post's Armistice Day program.

The event, sponsored by the L. B. Faulk Post, will offer as its top award the Commander's Cup, a trophy on which will be inscribed the winner's name, and the cup will be kept on permanent display at the American Legion home here.

Since the tournament is planned as an annual affair, the names of succeeding winners will also appear on the cup.

Qualifying rounds may be played at any time before November 9, and there will be flights for all entrants.

In addition to the Commander's Cup for the winner, awards will also go to the tourney medalist, and winners and runners-up in all flights, and the consolation winners. All awards will be made at the Legion Home immediately following the tournament and during a refreshment hour.

All golfers of the Twin Cities who are eligible for membership in either the Monroe or West Monroe posts are being urged to apply for membership so that they may be eligible to participate in the tournament. New members will be initiated by L. B. Faulk post tomorrow night upon application at the post's meeting at that time.

OXFORD, Miss., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Louisiana Tech and a steady downpour of rain joined forces to spoil Ole Miss' annual homecoming day celebration today with the Bulldogs from Ruston grabbing a second-period touchdown margin and holding on to edge the favored Rebels, 7-6. A disappointing crowd of 5,000 sat in on the game.

A passing combine of Pearce Didier, Baton Rouge boy, to end Robert Dalrymple of Haynesville produced winning results on the first play of the second quarter, Dalrymple taking Didier's quick throw on Ole Miss 25 and racing away from a handful of Rebel defenders to score. Joe Michael's accurate placement gave Tech a 7-0 lead and despite a steady push on the part of the home forces through the final half the advantage held up.

The rains came midway in the second period but not before Clayton Blount, Rebel racehorse, had returned a Tech boot 59 yards for a touchdown only to have the ball returned to the Tech 36 where he stepped out of bounds.

The threat bogged in the mire.

The Rebels scored in the fourth period, Charley Conerly throwing to Ray Poole from the Tech 21 for the score. But Poole's placement with the soggy ball went awry and that proved to be the ball game.

Ole Miss booted two real scoring breaks before fading, Jack Stribling covering Poole's kickoff on the Tech 32 after Charley Newman had bobbled the ball for the first. The Rebels couldn't generate a march there against a stubborn Bulldog defense but Blount electrified the soaked audience halfway through the last quarter when he raced from the Ole Miss 42 to the Tech one with one of Didier's punts.

A backfield in motion penalty broke that almost-certain bid off before it started, Blount fumbling two plays later to assure that fact.

The Rebels, who charged to the Tech 22—barely missing a first down there, to the 19 and to the 10 in the third quarter without scoring were driving again at the end but Ray Poole's field goal trial from the Bulldog 38 was blocked by Newman on the last play of the game.

Fumbles, both on dry land and in the mire, marred the Rebels' play from start to finish, Ole Miss giving up the ball six times on bobbles. They outgained Tech 154 yards to 50 on the ground and had an overall net of 209 yards to 100.

Tech failed to pass midfield after its touchdown, but the Bulldogs, as it turned out, didn't need to in taking their first win in five from the Rebels and handing Ole Miss its third-straight loss of the year.

Despite the heavy ball, Didier completed three of three passes and Charley Conerly, who had a 42.5-yard average punting, completed the first four he pegged, Ole Miss six of eight through the afternoon.

JAX ZULUS TACKLE ADDS HERE TODAY

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a local Negro baseball game is expected to turn out at Casino Park today when the New Orleans Jax Zulus clash with the Port Gibson Adds from Mississippi in a game scheduled to begin at 3 p. m. The two teams will play again on Monday and Tuesday in the same park. The lively three-game series is expected to bring to life the Negro sporting spirit in Monroe which has been laid aside since the famous Monroe Monarchs stopped on the diamond.

The powerful Zulus are anxiously awaiting the Port Gibson team to reverse early season decisions which the Adds took from them. All pre-game indications point to a gala turnout as the famed Grass Skirts make their first Monroe appearance. The Zulus suffered defeat three times at the hands of the Port Gibson team this season, 6-5, 5-4, and 7-6, in games played on the Adds' home lot. The New Orleans team expects to give Port Gibson a busy day and thrill the Monroe fans in the three-game series.

After the games played on Monday and Tuesday nights the famed Zulus will meet the baseball crowd at the Savoy Ballroom, 102 10th street, where dancing will start at 8:30 p. m. Music will be furnished by the Zulus Christable Jungle Jive Swing Band. Advance tickets for the dance will be on sale at the residence of Eugene Mays, 2105 Flend street; the Graystone Cafe, 505 Adams street; Red Onion Cafe, 705 1/2 Olsal street; Pierce Pharmacy, 914 DeSiard street.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—With little help from its celebrated backfield star, Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, Mississippi State overwhelmed the University of San Francisco Dons in a wild scoring football fray today, 48 to 20, before 15,000 rain-soaked fans.

Although he played almost a half, the former army halfback confined his exploits to a few unspectacular ground stabs and three completed forward passes.

It was McWilliams' hard-running backfield mates who gave the fans the show in a contest that produced ten touchdowns despite a drenching first period rain.

Fullback Bob Pillow scored the two counters in the opening period that gave the Maroons a head start and McWilliams' understudy, Billy Murphy, added two of the three in the second period that gave State a 34 to 0 lead at intermission. James Bailey tallied the fifth marker.

Harper Davis raced 55 yards and then tossed a 35-yard pass to End Billy Howard for one of the two State scores in the third period. The final touchdown came on a 23-yard pass, Murphy to Kenneth Davis. Tackle Eddy Shuff converted six of seven tries from placement.

Stalled on the ground, the Dons took to the air to score three times in the last half on spectacular passes thrown by Jack Feyock.

The scores were made by Marty Grbvoz, Bob Maddaleno and Forrest Hall.

The lineups:

San Francisco	Pos.	Miss. State
Grbovaz	LE	Howard
Vogellar	LT	Sidorik

DEMONS, CANINES BATTLE AT FAIR

Louisiana Tech Plans Special Train For Game At Shreveport Saturday

RUSTON, Oct. 19.—(Special)—With a special train at their disposal, throngs of Louisiana Tech students and Ruston people are planning an invasion of Shreveport next Saturday, when the local Bulldogs engage the Northwestern State College Demons at the State Fair.

It will be the first special train for the Techsters since they journeyed to the fair in 1941. The Techmen last played the Demons in Shreveport in 1942, but there was no "special" because of war conditions.

The train is scheduled to leave Ruston at 9 a. m., Saturday and arrive at the Union station in Shreveport at 10:45 a. m. Returning, the train will leave Shreveport at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Train tickets are now on sale at the Tech athletic office here, the round-trip fare being $3.11. As a minimum requirement to assure the running of the train, at least 200 tickets must be purchased, according to Coach Joe Aillet.

Student tickets for the game are 90 cents and adult tickets $1.80. The students will obtain their fair tickets upon presentation of their student activity books, Aillet said. He has on hand a block of 1,000 tickets for the students and others may be obtained in Shreveport if the local supply runs out, he stated.

This will be Tech's year to occupy the west side of the field at the fair, according to Coach Aillet.

It will also be Tech's year to win against the Demons, it has been pointed out; for in six games played between them at the fair, the Natchitoches elevens (then Normal) won four and Tech two.

The series between Tech and Northwestern at Shreveport started in 1937, when the Bulldogs trounced the Demons, 14-0. In the next three years, however, "Normal" was the winner, 7-6, 26-0 and 13-0. In 1941, Tech defeated the Demons, 10-0, while in their last game at the fair, in 1942, Northwestern won, 10-6.

During the war year of 1943, football was abandoned at both colleges. In 1944, a Navy V-12 team representing Tech defeated a Northwestern team composed largely of servicemen by a score of 21-7 in Natchitoches.

Last year, Tech and Northwestern played each other twice, with Tech winning both games, the scores being 18-7 at Ruston and 7-2 at Natchitoches.

NEVILLE TIGERS MEET RUSTON IN HOMECOMING GRID BATTLE

Bengals Tangle With Rival Bearkat Eleven On Local Field Friday Night

The Neville High School Tigers challenge the Class A title hopes of the Ruston High School Bearkats in the Bengals' annual homecoming football classic here Friday night at 8 o'clock at Neville Stadium, and whatever hopes Coach Bill Ruple's Bengals may still have about a title for themselves may hinge greatly on the outcome of the game.

Ruston is undefeated in conference contests and is considered a leading candidate, with Bastrop, for the district championship. Neville has lost only to Jonesboro-Hodge who in turn bowed to Bastrop. The Tigers hope to beat Ruston and Bastrop in turn with hopes of throwing the race into a possible playoff that would still give them a chance.

But whatever the Tigers may be dreaming about, the Bearkats will come here Friday decidedly the favored team to win despite the fact that Neville has been showing flash and color in every game so far.

Last year Neville journeyed to Ruston to drop a 13-6 verdict, but the Bengals of this year have nothing but revenge on their minds.

Passing has been the chief means of attack employed by the Ruple aggregation, but the Tigers have been busy polishing their ground game more extensively during the open date the past week, and they can be expected to try just about everything they know against Ruston.

The Lincoln parish charges of Coach "Hoss" Garrett will be coming to Monroe with the intentions of again adding the Tigers to their long list of triumphs. The Bearkats triple threat backfield ace, Joe Rabb, one of the state's highest scorers, is the boy the Bengals will have to stop. Rabb saved the game for Ruston against Homer, and Friday night he'll be just as troublesome to Neville.

Neville students, who plan to make this their biggest home attraction of the season, have scheduled a bonfire pep meeting for Thursday night on the Neville campus, and the Bengal band and the Tigerettes, girls' pep squad, are being groomed for performances between the halves.

The homecoming queen will be Miss Jean Phelps, and Miss Loretta Embanata was her runner-up for the honor. Maids will be Misses Jackie Walker, Mary Louise Guerriero, Audrey Wilson, Pat Riggs, Juanita Dickerson, Betty Jo Shlenker, Tommy Sue Eaves, Agnes Jones, Joann Roberts, Barbara Dollar, Lydia Jarman, Mary Lillian McGlaughlin, and Pat Wadley.

At the opening of the festivities members of the football team will parade on the field with the queen and attendants.

The order of the procession will be Captain Harry Pribble with Queen Jean Phelps, Alternate Captain J. W. Jackson with Loretta Embanata, and Merrell Greenwell with Jackie Walker, Buster Stevens with Mary Louise Guerriero, Ronald Gunter with Audrey Wilson, Rudolph Bedgood with Pat Riggs, Roy Brennan with Juanita Dickerson, Jeff Dollar with Betty Joe Shlenker, Perry Fisher with Tommy Sue Eaves, Robert Nelson with Agnes Jones, Stoney Smallwood with Joann Roberts, J. B. Evans with Barbara Dollar, Graham Hughes with Lydia Jarman, Jeff Hennessy with Mary Lillian McGlaughlin, and Tommy Phillips with Pat Wadley.

COLUMBIA CRIMSON TIDE WILL FACE START FRIDAY

COLUMBIA, La., Oct. 19.—(Special)—The Columbia High School's Crimson Tide makes its last home appearance of the season next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock against the Start High School eleven.

Coach Woodrow Turner's Tidemen, playing their first season of football after a wartime layoff, have won one and lost four this season.

L. T. I. PELS LOSE TO DUBACH, 26-0

Plungers Hand Pelicans 5th Straight Defeat; Locals Still Scoreless

DUBACH, La., Oct. 19.—(Special)—The Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans, except for the first three minutes of play when the Plunging Rattlesnakes pushed over a touchdown, played the Dubach High School eleven on even terms throughout the first half of their football game here yesterday, but the invaders faded in the last half as the Plungers rolled to a 26-0 victory.

Lack of reserves was chiefly the big factor that sent L. T. I. reeling in the second half as they suffered their fifth consecutive setback of the season and still have never been able to hit paydirt.

Dubach scored early on a pass, B. Colvin to Broughton, after two running plays by C. Colvin and M. Gray. L. T. I. hammered right back to drive inside the Plunger 20 on a sustained drive of 60 yards, but lost the ball on downs. Stockwell's passing and Keneker's running highlighted the L. T. I. threat.

In the last half L. T. I. weakened defensively and offensively, and Broughton, B. Colvin and C. Colvin added another touchdown each. M. Gray bucked over two extra points.

About the only satisfaction Coach Kermit Youngblood of the L. T. I. outfit got out of the game was seeing Herschel Broughton, who received his first football instructions and training from the Pelican mentor, lead the Plungers to victory.

"I only hope the boys I'm coaching today can do half as well with some other football team when they leave L. T. I.," Coach Youngblood said.

In addition to Broughton's fine backfield performance the line play of Oxford, Warren and Knowles was outstanding for Dubach. L. T. I.'s Baudoin and Gay, guards; Roberts, tackle; and Keneker and LeVasseur, backs, also played good ball.

The officiating of the game drew some ridicule, but nevertheless the Plungers claimed their second victory of the season. L. T. I. and Dubach meet again next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Monroe.

RAILROAD TRAINMEN REJECT AFFILIATION

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said today that the B. R. T. independent union had rejected affiliation with the A. F. of L. as well as the C. I. O.

Whitney said the union in considering the C. I. O. offer earlier this week had decided to make it a joint resolution, and voted down affiliation with either of the big labor groups.

He said at a press conference that he still hoped William Green, A. F. of L. president, would come to Miami Beach to address the convention, and that it was possible but not probable that it might reconsider and vote or whether to accept an A. F. of L. offer.

CURTIS DEFENDS WORLD'S CROWN AGAINST MOBLEY

Light Heavyweight Wrestling Title Match Billed Here Wednesday

A world's light heavyweight wrestling brawl between Champion Jack Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss., and the challenger Rex Mobley, Texas City, Tex., who was dethroned only last Monday night by Curtis, will be the feature attraction at Gus Kallio's Arena here this week.

And Promoter Kallio also announced last night a change in the date of his weekly programs as well as a change in the starting time. Cards, until further notice, will be presented on Wednesday nights, beginning this week, and the starting times will be 8 o'clock through the autumn and winter months, instead of the 8:30 summer starting time.

Mobley's chance at the title Wednesday comes in fulfillment of Kallio's promise last week to match the winner of a bout here between Mobley and Francisco Aguaya of Mexico City. Mobley triumphed over the Mexican to win the top spot against Curtis this week.

Curtis is holding the championship belt for the third time and in between the periods which Curtis has been in possession the crown has rested with Jack Steele, LeRoy McGuirk, and Mobley. McGuirk, later recognized in Texas as the world's heavyweight champ, relieved Curtis of the belt the first time. Steele took it from McGuirk but lost it back to Curtis. The past summer Mobley dethroned Curtis a second time, but Curtis came back last Monday night to beat Mobley in a title match at Shreveport.

Aguaya, who still has hopes of building himself up to a title match, will also be back Wednesday night for a semi-final engagement with the veteran "Sailor" Watkins of Birmingham, Ala.

Aguaya will be meeting one of the wrestling game's best masters of the trade over an hour time limit distance with two falls to win.

Watkins turned to professional wrestling in 1926 when he emerged from the navy after four years of service on the seas. At that time one of his best publicity stunts was to be pictured wearing three belts, all won on successive years and proclaiming him welterweight champion of the United States navy.

Watkins challenged "everything" within reasonable distance of his weight upon coming out of service, and Promoter Kallio best rememebrs Watkins as the result of their meeting in the late 1920s. At that time Kallio, junior middleweight champion of the world, was touring Texas, and Watkins, in the locality at the time, challenged the durable Finn. Watkins had beaten everything that got in the ring with him and it was a very cocky ex-sailor that entered the ring with Kallio. But Kallio, who was later to rule for better than ten years as the world's middlegeight champion, handed Watkins his first.

Kallio will referee the main event this week, and Bill Barney, the West Monroe garage operator, will handle the curtain-raiser.

HOPE TO SETTLE SHIP STRIKE SOON

(By Associated Press)

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson and U. S. Conciliator Frederick Livingston announced last night that "very substantial progress" had been made in adjusting differences between striking maritime unions and ship-owner representatives at a conference at the offices of the American Merchant Marine Institute in New York.

The announcement was made as negotiators for opposing factions in the 19-day strike recessed briefly. Talks begun at 10 a. m. yesterday.

The conference was scheduled to resume later in the night.

Those at the conference included Edward P. Trainer, chief negotiator for the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (C. I. O.); Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (C. I. O.); Harry Bridges, international president, Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union of the Pacific (C. I. O.) and Frank J. Taylor, chairman of the negotiating committee for steamship companies and agents of the Atlantic and Gulf Coast.

Gibson told reporters that "many major points in dispute had been worked out," but he would not say to which of them he was referring.

Spokesmen for both sides explained, however, that membership ratification of any tentative settlements would be necessary before they became effective.

The long negotiations session extending into the night was the first move in 10 days to end the strike of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the Masters, Mates and Pilots (A. F. of L.).

OUACHITA FACES FAIR PARK NEXT

Lions Meet Indians In Conference Game At Shreveport Friday Night

The Fair Park High School Indians are next on the schedule of the Ouachita Parish High School Lions who invade Shreveport Friday night for their ninth annual battle with the Redskins in a Class AA conference game.

Again the charges of Coach Jim Hodgins will be going into action slightly in an underdog role, but Ouachita followers point out that the Lions have actually outplayed every team they've lost to this year and are quite capable of springing an upset over the Indians.

Fair Park has lost only to Haynesville, 6-0, in the double A district race so far, and Ouachita likewise bowed to the Golden Tornado last Thursday night, 13 to 0.

Both the Indians and Lions will be fighting to stay in the race for defeat this week means certain elimination for one or the other. Their only hope now is to finish their conference schedule by winning Friday and then stopping Byrd of Shreveport, a club both still must meet, and then seeing Byrd power past Haynesville. However, the Tornado can clinch the north district ccrown by beating Byrd.

The Lions have lost only two games in six starts this year, and Bossier City, a non-conference Class A rival, and Haynesville were actually outplayed by the Lions as far as first downs and yardage gained were concerned. Ouachita made twice as many first downs and double the yardage Haynesville did the past week but lost on a blocked punt and a fumble.

OWLS TROUNCE PONIES

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Rice's Owls combined the tossing arm of big Virgil (Ike) Eikenberg with the fleet running of Huey Keeny to push across two second half touchdowns here tonight and defeat a game but outclassed Southern Methodist University eleven, 21-7.

AMATEUR BOXERS IN 8-MATCH CARD HERE TOMORROW

Illinois Central Service Club Announces Second Show For Novice Fighters

Another eight-bout amateur boxing card, second such program offered by the Illinois Central Railroad's Service Club here, will be presented tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the club's arena adjacent to the railroad yards on DeSiard street, it was announced last night by Matchmaker Mickey Head.

A sellout crowd saw the initial matches last Monday, and another big crowd is expected tomorrow. Additional seats are being placed around the ringside to take care of the anticipated increase in attendance.

June Woods, a navy veteran who looked mighty good in his first fight here last week, tomorrow will be matched against Wig Riley, Bastrop, in the 140-pound event. Riley last week outpointed Aubrey Young of Monroe.

And Young, former Neville High School mittman and a paratrooper during the recent war, will be on tap again this week for a match in the 140-pound division against "Stick" Atkins, Bastrop, who last week earned a draw in the main event bout against Monroe's Harold Cornett.

Other bouts on the card were listed by Matchmaker Head as follows:

80 pounds: Dwight Carr, Monroe, with no previous ring experience but described as a "pretty good" little boxer, will tangle with Bobby Rawls, Bastrop, who last week beat Monroe's L. Cappo.

112 pounds: Cordell Houston, Monroe, who fought Tugwell to a draw last week, will oppose Buckie LaPietra, Monroe, who has no previous experience.

153 pounds: Robert Smith, Monroe, will face Calvin Bowie, West Monroe. Neither boy has had previous experience, but both are described as sluggers capable of giving the customers a good show.

Three Negro battles are also on the card, one of them a heavyweight struggle.

Matchmaker Head announced that Joe Culley, former Monroe Colored High School football star, manager of the semi-pro Monroe All-Stars, Negro baseball club, and himself a former professional boxer, had been put in charge of developing Negro fighters, and that Gulley would have six "good boys" ready tomorrow.

B. B. Rogers, the Negro 140-pounder who stopped Kinnard in the second round last week, will again be on hand for a match with Ted Moore, Negro scrapper with three and a half years experience.

In a 135-pound bout, Roosevelt Myers, classy looking 15-year-old Negro, will be matched against Mike Taylor, a loser last week.

The principals in the Negro heavyweight match had not been determined yesterday, it was announced.

All fighters will weigh in tomorrow afternoon at 6:30 o'clock.

3 ORLEANS PAPERS INCREASE PRICES

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—All three New Orleans newspapers announced circulation price increases today, explaining that higher costs make the action necessary.

The Item increased the price of carrier-delivered papers from 20 to 25 cents a week. The Item, a six day afternoon newspaper with no Sunday edition, retained the street sale price of five cents a copy.

The Times-Picayune, morning paper, increased the price of carrier delivered papers from 20 cents a week to 25 cents for six days a week and from 28 to 35 cents for daily and Sunday papers.

The street sale price for the daily Times-Picayune remains at five cents. The Sunday edition of the Times-Picayune New Orleans States will sell for 12 cents in the city and 15 cents outside of the metropolitan area. The prices now are 10 and 12 cents.

The States, afternoon newspaper which is combined with the Times-Picayune for Sunday publication, increased its price for carrier delivery of six editions weekly from 20 cents a week to 25 cents. The daily and Sunday rate was increased from 28 cents to 35 cents.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—College football probably is having its biggest season on record, but there still are some coaches who aren't satisfied with the game that brings in all the dough. . . . The other day Marquette's Frank Murray suggested a requirement of six defensive players on the line to match the seven-man line required for the offense. . . . To this Columbia's Lou Little replies that there's no sense in demanding that a team whose personnel is more suited to the five or seven-man defensive line should use a six. The whole thing was thrashed out in a coaches' rules committee meeting some years ago, he adds. . . . Another suggestion comes from W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech's venerable athletic director. He figures the whole rule book should be rewritten to straighten out all the amendments and exceptions and also figures the free substitution rule will be altered because "some coaches seem to be trying to mastermind the game out of existence."

Courting Disaster

(News item: Giants lease Phoenix, Ariz., auto court as spring training headquarters.)

H. Stoneham leased an auto court,
For houses he was needing.
At that the Dodgers did retort:
"They won't get pinched for speeding."

Sports Before Your Eyes

The Boston Garden, which will have a team in the new pro basketball league, a flock of college doubleheaders and over 100 schoolboy games this winter, is feeling the pinch of a referee shortage. Looks like a good chance for experienced whistle tooters to pick up a few bucks. . . . Word from Texas, possibly inspired by pessimistic coaches, is that "Texas doesn't have a great team." The same source, however, gives grave notices to Bobby Layne and Spot Collins and adds that the Longhorns' clash with Rice, "probably the best-manned team in the entire south" will settle the conference title. We'd still like to see an Army-Texas Bowl game and a between-halves crying contest could be made an added attraction. . . . Tommy Richardson, Eastern Baseball League president, travels in his own airplane—which explains how Tommy gets around but not how he got round.

Quote Of The Week

Lou Little: "If we play the way we played in the second half against Navy and in the second half against Yale, there's no reason why Columbia can't beat Army." . . . Half a loaf, eh?

Clearing The Cuff

C. F. (Jack Baldwin, a member of the Orange Bowl schedule committee, has traveled more than 30,000 miles in the past seasons to look at football games. . . . At Michigan State, Robin Roberts was the most valuable basketball player last season and Robert Robbins is a promising recruit. Both are forwards. . . . Why not give both Robins the Bird? . . . Joe Andrejco had a $4,000 pro football offer but preferred to return to Fordham as co-captain. Wonder if St. Mary's will make him wish he hadn't?

TEXAS STEERS DEFEAT RAZORBACKS, 20 TO 0

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Riding high on the passing arm of Bobby Layne, the Texas Longhorns maintained their perfect record today by dumping the Arkansas Razorbacks from the ranks of the undefeated, 20 to 0, before an estimated 40,000 fans.

Layne's passing accounted for two touchdowns after substitute Fullback Raymond Jones chalked up the first Longhorn marker on a dive over the center of the line early in the first quarter.

It was in the air that Texas outshown Arkansas, gaining 145 yards to its opponent's 88. Layne threw nine of the ten passes Texas attempted and completed six for all the yardage that the Longhorns picked up by way of the air lanes.

Texas' first score came after a sustained drive of 78 yards, two breaks coming the Longhorns' way when pass interference was ruled against Arkansas on its 32 and the Porkers were penalized on the next play to their 8-yard line.

TAR HEELS DUMP NAVY

BALTIMORE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—North Carolina's hard-hitting Tar Heels overpowered Navy 21-14 today in a football game before a crowd of 30,500 and kept themselves in the undefeated division. V. P. I. tied the Tar Heels in their first game of the season.

By Elliott Chaze

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Tulane's Green Wave muffled the nation's greatest ground gainer here today, defeating Auburn 32-0 before a football crowd of 30,000 and making Travis Tidwell look like just another good college back.

After a slow-starting first quarter Tulane's heavy line and a hot muggy day began to tell on the Plainsmen, Tidwell showed flashes of passing brilliance, but the edge went to Tulane's power-running throughout most of the game.

A greatly-improved Tulane pass defense slapped Tidwell down for a 19-yard loss on one attempted passing play, and in many instances his throws were wide and wobbly.

Tulane uncovered a wealth of fast hard-hitting ball carriers who, running behind a forward wall that cut the ground from under Auburn's scrappy line, were in control during most of the play.

Late in the first quarter Tulane's freshman back Ed Price opened a 51-yard scoring thrust with wide end sweeps which carried to Auburn's 40. Price teamed with Johnny Campora and Don Fortier to push to the 35 and Jim Keeton nailed end Ed Heider with a scoring pass.

Early in the second period Tulane travelled 56 yards for a second touchdown, teeing off with Dick Hoot's 22 yard dash around end and racing down to the three on Cliff Van Meter's off tackle smashes and Price's end runs. Van Meter punched across from the Auburn three for the touchdown.

Tidwell looked best in the second quarter sparking a 26-yard Auburn advance with three flat pigmy passes which carried to Tulane's 12.

Tulane added two more touchdowns in the third quarter coasting 71 yards for the first, scoring when Ed Price sliced across from the one-foot line. O. J. Key ran a punt back 30 yards to the Auburn 29 and then took the ball over on three running plays for the next score.

In the fourth quarter Harold Riggs blocked an Auburn punt and John Wasieleski scooped up the ball running it to the Auburn 31. Cliff Van Meter made 16 yards off tackle and Marvin McCain went the last 16 through right tackle.

Tulane's end Ed Heider place kicked two extra points.

VOLS SIDETRACK MIGHTY ALABAMA BY 12 TO 0 SCORE

Bob Lund, Substitute Tailback, Scores Both Touchdowns For Tennessee

By Chick Hosch

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Tennessee derailed Alabama's high riding Red Elephants four times in the shadow of the goal today and put together two sustained drives to dump the Rose Bowl champions from the unbeaten ranks, 12-0, before a capacity crowd of 40,000.

It was the first defeat for Coach Frank Thomas' team in a regular-season game since Georgia turned the trick in 1944. It ended a 16-game winning streak. For Coach Bob Neyland of the Vols it was the 36th straight regular-season victory, which started before he went into the army in 1940.

The Vols were a determined club and could not be denied, despite entering the game as the underdog. Harry Gilmer, the Tide's great passer, put on an exhibition that had the partisan crowd on edge, but the Vols stopped the aerial cascades when it had to. Three times in the last quarter, Gilmer passed his team inside the Vols' 10, but to no avail.

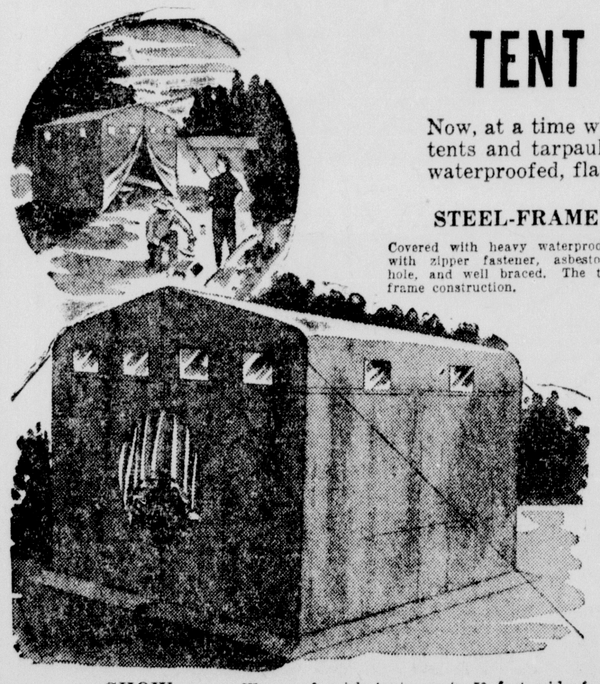

Neyland's crew, with Bob Lund, a substitute tailback in a starring role, drove 46 yards to a tally in the second period and then stopped an Alabama drive in the third period at the 32 and drove back 68 yards for a second touchdown.

Lund scored both touchdowns on short plunges, the first after he had accounted for most of the yardage and the clincher after Walt Slater, Tennessee's captain, had engineered the effort to within inches of the goal. Lund replaced Slater and scored in one play.

Louisiana Tech Rated As 'Happiest Team' After Saturday's Contests

Army, Tennessee, Texas Roll On As Unbeaten Ranks Sliced In Half

By Harold Claassen

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Long runs characterized the play today as the nation's list of unbeaten college football teams was cut almost in half.

Army, back at the top of the heap as the No. 1 club, shook Glenn Davis, its Mr. Outside, loose for 66 yards and a touchdown and then unleashed Mr. Inside, Doc Blanchard, for 93 yards and another counter as the Cadets hammered out their 23rd consecutive victory. This time previously unblemished Columbia was the victim, 48 to 14.

A 47-yard pass and run play, engineered by Bobby Layne, gave Texas its third touchdown in its 20 to 0 romp over Arkansas, the Razorbacks' first defeat. Sprints of 65 and 69 yards brought Iowa home the 13 to 0 winner over Indiana in the Big Nine's biggest surprise.

Short, consistent gains, however, brought Tennessee a 12 to 0 triumph over Alabama in one of the day's most important clashes and shot Coach Bob Neyland's record to 36 consecutive victories.

But that was the exception. Charlie Trippi, Georgia's famed back, snagged an Oklahoma A. and M. pass and romped 70 yards for one score in his team's 33 to 13 victory. Jim Austin of Missouri, burst through the Iowa State line for 57 yards as his team won, also 33 to 13. George Guerre went 52 yards, then 43 as Michigan State spoiled Penn State's homecoming, 19 to 16.

The Iowa win over Indiana was the most lopsided in the Big Nine today. Northwestern and Michigan, struggled to a 14 to 14 deadlock, a score that was matched exactly by Purdue and Ohio State. Buddy Young, who broke loose for the first Illinois counter, and his mates had to go all out to get past Wisconsin, 27 to 21. Minnesota drubbed Wyoming, 46 to 0.

Pennsylvania continued to give evidence of power in taking apart Virginia, another unbeaten team until today, by a 40 to 0 score and Harvard, gradually gaining eastern prestige, trounced Coast Guard, 69 to 0. It was the Cadets first 1946 setback.

Brown spilled Dartmouth, 20 to 13, and Syracuse bumped Holy Cross 21 to 12, in a pair of eastern surprises that equalled the Michigan State victory. Cornell pulled abreast Yale, 6 to 6, and Herman Wedemeyer guided St. Mary's to its fifth win over Fordham, 33 to 2. Little Delaware bumped Gettysburg, 27 to 6, for its 25th straight triumph.

North Carolina, which previously had never scored on Navy, got enough tallies this time to defeat the Midshipmen, 21 to 14, with Charles Justice the hero. Duke, Army's guest in New York City next Saturday, crushed previously unbeaten Richmond, 41 to 0, and Vanderbilt bowed to Kentucky, 10 to 7. It was the first time Vanderbilt had been scored upon this year.

Miami found its way around to the extent of a 20 to 13 decision over Florida. In a rugged Southern Conference feud, North Carolina State subdued Wake Forest 14 to 6. Furman handled The Citadel, 14 to 0, and Tulane's youngsters mastered Auburn 7-0.

Texas Christian tumbled to the bottom of the Southwest Conference on a 14-to-0 loss to Texas A. and M. and Texas Tech, which would like to add to that circuit, belted Baylor, 13 to 6. It was Tech's third victory this year over a Southwest loop team.

Oklahoma counted 14 points in the first period to spill Kansas State, 28 to 7, and a Nebraska field goal bumped dumped Kansas from the unbeaten list, 16 to 14.

The University of California at Los Angeles mastered the Golden Cubs of California, 13 to 6, in the coast conference's most important fray. Southern California got a measure of revenge for all the criticism the Trojans had to take during the week, thanking Washington by a 28 to 0 margin.

San Francisco traveled all the way to Memphis for a 48 to 20 drubbing by Mississippi State but the happiest team south of the Mason-Dixon line probably is that of little Louisiana Tech. That eleven stopped Mississippi State, 13 to 6, in the rain.

CHOCTAWS DEFEAT SEWANEE'S TIGERS

CLINTON, Miss., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Reverses out of the double-wing formation of the Mississippi College Choctaws were too much for the Purple Tigers of Sewanee here tonight, and the visitors went down in a 20 to 6 defeat.

Mississippi College took its 20 to 6 lead in the first half, scoring on three plunging runs of 32, 55 and 57 yards respectively. Two of the touchdowns were on reverse plays and the third was on a fake reverse.

Tallies were made by Clyde Howard, Water Valley, Miss.; Albert Gore, Clinton, and Wendell Webb, Louisville, Miss. Gore kicked two conversions and Webb failed on his attempt for the point.

Sewanee's points came in the second quarter when Charlie Flowers, Knoxville, Tenn., went over right tackle and clipped through both primary and secondary defenses and raced 44 yards to a touchdown. Grady Leach, Alabama City, Ala., failed to kick on the conversion.

The lineups:

Sewanee	Pos.	Miss. College

ARMY ROUTS COLUMBIA

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Doc Blanchard scored four touchdowns, one on a 93-yard runback of the kickoff, and Glenn Davis tallied once on a 66-yard dash today as Army's football team smothered Columbia, 48 to 14, at Michie stadium.

METHVIN, FORMER CONVICT, SEIZED

One-Time Member Of Clyde Barrow Gang Held On Robbery Charges

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Henry Methvin, former member of the Clyde Barrow-Bonnie Parker gang of Southwest desperadoes, was in the Bossier City jail today under two charges of highway robbery after a wild afternoon on Western Louisiana roads.

Deputy Sheriff Steve Norris of Bossier parish said Joe E. Aycock, 41, of Minden, accompanied Methvin and was booked on the same charges.

Methvin, 35, once sentenced to death in Oklahoma for the killing of a police officer, and Aycock were arrested by State Trooper J. M. Thomas at the intersection of old highway 80 and the Benton road.

They were accused of stealing the automobiles of a Minden taxicab driver and J. A. McIntyre of West Monroe.

Thomas said he filed a charge of drunk driving against Methvin in addition to the two robbery charges.

Norris and Thomas said Methvin and Aycock took the Minden taxicab and the driver's shirt after he drove them to near Red Chute in Bossier parish about noon yesterday.

Thomas related further:

The two men made a wide circle of Bossier parish, and an hour or two later stopped McIntyre on a highway near Plain Dealing, by parking their car in the middle of the road.

They forced McIntyre from his car, but he eluded them and escaped. Changing to McIntyre's car, the two started to Bossier City.

Thomas intercepted the pair as they approached him on highway 10. They slipped into a ditch in attempting to turn around, but managed to pull out as Thomas approached them.

"I called for them to stop and they kept going," Thomas said. "I called to them a second time, but they failed to stop. I then drew my pistol and aimed it. About that time, they stopped."

Methvin operated a cafe near the Louisiana Ordnance Plant after his release from prison in Oklahoma.

Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, notorious desperado pair, freed Methvin from a Texas prison in a spectacular raid in the early 1930's. Methvin then was serving a 10-year sentence on a theft and assault conviction.

While Methvin was roaming the country with the couple, Officer Cal Campbell of Commerce, Okla., was killed by a burst of gunfire from a car he attempted to stop. Methvin was arrested and charged with the slaying shortly after Bonnie and Clyde were killed May 23, 1934, near Sailes, La.

He was convicted and sentenced to death, but a few days before the execution date, the late Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma commuted his sentence to life. He was paroled in March, 1942.

EX-GI REPUBLICAN AFTER MAY'S SCALP

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An ex-GI Republican in a jeep, poking into the mountain fastnesses of the seventh congressional district in search of Rep. Andrew J. May's political scalp, is stealing the Kentucky campaign show away from a toss-up race for the state's open senatorial seat.

The uphill efforts of 34-year-old W. Howes Meade, navy veteran and Republican nominee, to unseat May, 71-year-old chairman of the house military affairs committee, have attracted top attention despite the injection of Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler into the battle over the senate seat.

WILL KEEP SHOE PRICE CEILINGS

Officials Estimate Present Shortage At 550,000,000 Pairs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Estimating the present shoe shortage at 550,000,000 pairs, officials emphasized today that price ceilings will be held on leather and footwear as long as possible despite the decontrol of livestock.

"If we pulled off controls now, leather and shoe prices would skyrocket," an OPA authority told a reporter.

He explained that the controls on hides can be retained even through the cattle from which they come are decontrolled under President Truman's order.

Porter also noted that hides and skins were not an important item for profit by packers and slaughters. He said that present OPA ceilings are sufficient to cover all costs of taking off hides, handling, curing and storing plus a margin of profit.

Supplies of hides are expected to increase with the expanded flow of livestock to markets since price controls ended. But OPA said it will take a long time to equal demand because considerable time is required to tan and manufacture the hides into shoes and other leather goods.

Much of the present shortage in shoes and leather is a hangover from the war. Most of the good leather went to the army, navy and marines while civilians were under strict shoe rationing.

A civilian production administration spokesman said most of the 14,000,000 men and women who served in the armed forces discovered on release that they could not wear their old civilian shoes.

When the movement of livestock to market became a faint trickle during May and June of this year and again during September—before and after the period of no price ceilings—many shoe manufacturers were forced to curtail or shut down production.

RECLUSE'S $469,000 FORTUNE IS FOUND

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—When Mrs. Minnie Rosser Weigle, 79-year-old eccentric recluse, died last August in a junk-littered hotel apartment, police wrote it off as a routine matter, but the sequel came Monday when two amateur sleuths produced her hidden fortune of $469,500 in cash, found in a battered old trunk amidst the disorder in which she lived.

The men whose painstaking search produced the money are Timothy J. Healy, an attorney, and Robert Raymond, member of a New York Stock Exchange firm. Both are former army officers.

Mrs. Weigle died of natural causes Aug. 17. Two days later police found her body in the bathtub of her two-room apartment.

For two months Healy and Raymond, often dressed in their army fatigue clothes, searched the apartment for the fortune they knew must be there—and finally a trunk expert helped them find it in a cleverly hidden secret compartment.

Tigers Hold Halftime Lead Of 7-6, But Roof Falls In Last Quarter

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A fast and alert Georgia Tech football squad doused Louisiana State University's hopes of Southeastern Conference championship by downing the Bayou Tigers 26 to 7 tonight before an estimated 30,000.

The crowd was mystified in the last few seconds of play as Tommy Carpenter, substitute left half back intercepted an L. S. U. pass and ran for a touchdown as the whistle blew.

The officials ruled, however, that the touchdown counted. The stadium lights were doused and Georgia Tech walked off the field without trying for the extra point.

It was a battle of lines during most of the game and both teams were forced to take to the air or circle the ends to score.

Dinkey Bowen, former player with Greenville in Mississippi's Big Eight Conference, earned his spurs by leading one march into L. S. U. territory in the third period, but it remained for George Mathews, fleet-footed left half back to prove the difference.

Matthews, 164-pound 18-year-old junior, skirted right end, picked up his interference and swept 48 yards for Tech's second touchdown.

Matthews' score unbalanced the L. S. U. squad and for the remainder of the game the vaunted Tiger team could do little but keep the ball either in their own territory or in midfield.

The Georgia Tech linesmen demonstrated an uncanny knack of diagnosing Louisiana State's plays and managed to keep the Tigers on the defensive during most of the game.

The Yellow Jackets drew first blood in the opening period when Pat McHugh broke from the T-formation, took a lateral from Frank Broyles and scampered 68 yards for a touchdown.

Bob Jordan missed the try from placement.

The fighting Tigers came back strong in the second quarter but were halted momentarily by an intercepted pass. However Y. A. Tittle, Tiger quarterback, found the range and tossed a 40-yard pass to Dan Sandifer, right half, who shook off three would-be tacklers and ran 40 yards for a score.

Holly Heard, the Tiger's accurate place-kicker, accounted for the extra point to push L. S. U. on top 7 to 6 at the half.

After the intermission, however, the play was all Georgia Tech's.

Bowen paced the third period march to put the Yellow Jackets on top. After Mathews score, Bob Jordan place-kicked the extra point and the Tech team was never headed.

In the last quarter Tech pushed over two touchdowns, with Jack Bills and Bowen carrying the brunt of the ground gaining chores.

After Bills intercepted a Tiger pass on the L. S. U. 36 and returned it to the Tiger 16, Bowen went off right tackle and scored standing up. Jordan's placement was good and a few minutes later Carpenter took off on his jaunt to end the scoring.

It was a sad Homecoming Day for the Tigers who had visions of a bowl bid.

The statistics showed that the Tech team played the Tigers off their feet in running plays, gaining 281 yards from scrimmage to 197 for L. S. U.

MARKETS

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Stocks: Easy; dealings slow. Bonds: Narrow; some rails lower. Cotton: Exchange closed today.

CHICAGO—Wheat: Dropped 4 to 5 cents; hedge selling. Corn: Weak; trade nervous. Oats: Lower with wheat and corn. Hogs: Nominally steady. Cattle: Nominally steady.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The stock market today tried for selective recoveries but most leaders failed to attract worthwhile support and dealings were among the smallest for the past year or so.

While modest advances persisted at the close, declines of fractions to a point or so were widely distributed. Numerous pivotals were unchanged. Transfers for the short session ran to around 350,000 shares.

Recently slumping commodities, brokers suggested, served to accentuate speculative and investment caution. The nation's principal cotton exchanges announced suspension of trading for the day following a slump in the futures of this staple of about $25 a bale since last Tuesday.

Another climb of industrial inventories, it was said, was viewed by analysts as a warning factor.

Bonds were narrow. At Chicago wheat futures dropped the day's limit of 5 cents a bushel and other grains skidded.

DEAN CLINE IS PANEL SPEAKER

N. J. C. Chief Talks On Teacher Improvement At Conference

Dean Rodney Cline, of Northeast Junior College, participated in a panel forum on "Recruitment, Selection and Improvement of Teachers in Service," during Saturday morning's session of the 13th annual school administrators conference October 18-19, on the Louisiana State University's campus in Baton Rouge. Dr. J. W. Brouillette, director of the L. S. U. general extension division, directed the forum which followed a talk on the above subject by Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the college of education at the University of Maryland.

The meeting of parish supervisors, superintendents, visiting teachers, principals and representatives of all colleges and universities in the state was jointly sponsored by the University College of Education and the State Department of Education. The theme of the conference was "Greater Service to the Public through a Unified Profession of Teaching."

Dr. W. B. Hatcher, president of L. S. U., welcomed members of the conference to the campus, and Dr. E. B. Robert, dean of the university college of education, presided over the first general session Friday morning. John E. Coxe, state superintendent of education, delivered the principal address at the opening session, and Dr. R. F. Ewerz, staff member of the State Department of Education, lead a forum on "Veterans' Education."

At the second general meeting Friday afternoon H. L. Bourgeois, superintendent of Terrebonne parish schools, conducted a forum on "Promoting Unity Throughout the Teaching Profession." Lt. Col. T. L. Hagan, U. S. Public Health Service, spoke on the Louisiana dental survey.

Dr. C. A. Ives, president emeritus of the L. S. U. college of education, presided at the third general session Friday night in the Greek theater on the L. S. U. campus. Music was played by the university band under the direction of L. Bruce Jones.

The main addresses of the night meeting were given by Dr. Harold Benjamin and Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction for North Carolina.

Both speakers have done outstanding work in the field of education for many years, and Dr. Benjamin has edited and written over 50 books on educational subjects.

Neuritic, Sciatic, Rheumatic Pain

Thousands of sufferers from muscular pains and aches due to Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica and Neuritis have been delighted to discover that the Doctor's formula called Romind starts circulating through the blood almost immediately after the first dose, usually helping nature remove poisonous wastes and excess acids that often cause pains and soreness, and at the same time promptly combating the pain and discomfort.

8-Day Trial Offer: To prove what Romind can do to help you feel improved and how fast it works, get Romind from your druggist and take exactly as directed. See the results for yourself. Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie

(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

We are verging on several important international showdowns which at last may give up an answer to the paramount question of the day: Whether there is a point at which Russia would be willing to compromise on her program of expansion or whether she is bent on driving straight on, let happen what may.

This crisis has been boiling up for many months. It marks the arrival of the time when there must be an all-around spirit of "give" as well as "take" among the major Allies if grave consequences are to be avoided. That, I take it, is the message between the line of Secretary of State Byrnes' foreign policy broadcast Friday night.

My Byrnes voiced concern over the "continued if not increasing tension between us and the Soviet Union," and made clear that while America won't expect other nations to yield to all of our demands, on the other hand she won't yield to all demands of other countries. Our policy is to be "patient but firm," and he urged rejection of the idea that delays in achieving peace "make armed conflict inevitable."

That's the over-all picture. Specifically the big three are up against several major problems which will put the acid test on their relationships. One of these lies in Moscow's twice-stated demand on Turkey for joint defense of the Dardanelles—a proposal which Ankara now has rejected flatly.

This is a vital question for the Soviet Union, for these strategic straits give egress from the otherwise landlocked Black Sea to the Mediterranean and thus are by way of being Russia's front gate. Moscow has warned Turkey against taking military measures in the waterway "jointly with some not Black Sea powers." This obviously was aimed at Britain and the United States. Indeed on October 9 Washington delivered a note to Moscow, reiterating America's opposition to the Russian proposal and advising that Uncle Sam doesn't intend to be squeezed out of a voice in control of the straits. Turkey is being backed in her stand not only by the United States but by Britain.

Another phase of the crisis will arise in the forthcoming meeting of the big four foreign ministers in New York to approve (or disapprove) of the peace treaties adopted by the harassed Paris peace conference. Russia indicated at the conclusion of the parley in the French capital that she likely would kick over much of the work done there. The difference here marks the division between the Russian-dominated Slavic bloc and the western Allies.

After that will come an even more delicate proposition—the framing of a peace treaty for Germany. The Reich is the focal point of the upheaval represented in the realignment of the balance of power in Europe. Before the war it was the politico-economic keystone of the continent, and the future of Europe is wrapped up in the decisions which are made by the Allies in framing a peace treaty.

Those are of the showdowns which must come soon. And there are others, not only in Europe but in the Far East.

The trend of the times would seem to be rather well illustrated by Washington's sizzling note to Moscow's protege—Yugoslavia. The United States accuses the Soviet satellite of renting out American citizens as slaves and causing the deaths of some of them in horror camps. This is along the lines of Secretary Byrnes' description of the American policy as being "patient but firm."

About 300,000 houses were completely destroyed and 500,000 damaged in France during the last war.

MINISTERS ARE TO MEET ON MONDAY

The Twin City Ministerial Association will meet at the First Christian Church Monday at 10:30 a.m. Rev. E. D. Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker. His theme will be "The Pastoral Counselor."

All pastors of Monroe and West Monroe are invited to attend.

DAVIS' OPERATION SUCCESS

Sgt. Jack Davis of the police traffic squad returned Friday night from a Jackson, Miss., hospital where he underwent a successful operation to correct an eye defect that resulted from an accident more than a year ago when he was thrown from a police motorcycle as the machine struck a rut. He is to go back to the hospital next week for a final check-up.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN GUERRIERO (lower right) celebrated their silver wedding anniversary with a reception at their home on Rochelle Avenue. It was one of the interesting events of the season.

Brilliant Speaker Addresses Business And Professional Women At Annual Banquet

Miss Maible Hood Introduces Speaker

Brilliant Affair Highlights Week's Activities For Club Women Of City

This year's dinner party given by the Business and Professional Women's Club in observance of National Business Women's Week rivaled in brilliancy any that have gone before. It took place as customary each year in the Butterfly room of the Frances Hotel with the president, Miss Maible Hood presiding with characteristic charm and graciousness. She fitted perfectly into the colorful picture in a stunning evening gown, an Emily model, of black crepe, Princess style with deep yoke of black Alecon lace. She wore a head dress of American Beauty sequins and an evening wrap of red velvet trimmed in red sequins.

The Harvest season was colorfully portrayed in the yellow and bronze chrysanthemums overflowing from gilded containers placed at intervals along the board. Leaves of vivid colors were scattered along the table in typical autumn fashion. The bright yellow programs serving as place cards at each cover, were an artistic triumph. They were designed and executed by Miss Hood and were reminiscent of autumn. Crimson leaves and acorns with a squirrel perched in the center decorated the cover. They were painted by Miss Hood and will be treasured by club members as souvenirs for all time to come.

In welcoming the guests, Miss Hood said in part: "This week we are observing National Business and Professional Women's Week all over the world. The chief objective of the week is to stimulate cooperation between Federated Clubs and other organizations. It is observed, also for a dual purpose. It helps launch the new club year and helps dramatize the contribution, which Business and Professional Women are making to our life and our times.

The theme for National Business and Professional Women's week for 1946 is a challenge to action—"Let's work together for Better Communities." There could be no more timely theme, nor a more far reaching goal than that. What we need is more women with vision and courage to help guide the world out of its present confusion and chaos—a great task lies ahead.

Tonight we have as our distinguished guests, Our Bosses. We feel that we know you in a business way, but we like to know you better in a social way. We all have one objective in life, and that is to be successful. To obtain success, we must have complete understanding. Alone, we can do little. Separated, we are units of weakness, but aggerated we are batteries of power—Agitate, Educate and Organize. These are deathless watch—words of success.

It was Helen Keller who said, "Faith is Builder of Life, without Faith no one can be Successful". Let's all adopt "Faith" for our keynote for 1946 and '47, and to each of you and each of us, I do wish SUCCESS!

Miss Bess McDonald, wearing a beautiful evening gown of blue chiffon and sequins, served as toast mistress and Mrs. Inas Gwin, wearing a pink lace model, gave the invocation.

Highlighting the evening's program was the marimbo solo, "Estrellita" presented by Mrs. C. J. Pearce, Jr., and the piano numbers rendered by Miss Mary Humble.

One of the most glowing addresses ever delivered in this city in the presence of club women, was given at this time by the guest speaker, Mr. M. L. Miles, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Vicksburg, Miss. Mr. Miles held the undivided attention of his audience from the very beginning and in conclusion was greeted with a veritable storm of applause. In fact, his talk from beginning to end was punctuated with applause.

The theme for this year's observance of National Business Women's Week was "Let Us Work Together for Better Communities," supplied Mr. Miles with interesting material on which to base his talk. He said in part:

The very first essential for any community betterment program is, of course, men and women. I mean upright, sincere men and women. That of course, is an ancient problem—not perhaps anymore acute today than before, but on account of the complexities of modern civilization probably brought into sharper relief.

What do you think, Madame President, your organization could do in Monroe if you had a membership composed exclusively of women the calibre as your very best member? What could your Chamber of Commerce do if every single member of that organization was as good as the very best worker of which it boasted? Suppose the whole city of Monroe was made up of virile men and women, uncompromising with their principles, broad in outlook, unequivocal in their insistence that certain civic standards be met and maintained? Where, may I ask, would your city be placed among the cities of America today, if that were true?

How hard is it to find an aggressive sincere man or woman? One who will step into the forefront of leadership and lose all thought of self in waging a campaign for community betterment? How hard is it? Well, all you have to do is simply reflect! Study the records of yourselves while you also study the records of your leaders. Just how rare is sincerity? I mean utterly pure sincerity.

Ladies and Gentlemen, Lord Byron thought so little of his literary efforts that he asked that this epitaph be placed upon his tombstone: "Here Lies One Whose Name was Writ In Water." Have you ever thought of the millions of people who come into this world, live out their alloted span and then pass on out of it without even having made a dent upon its consciousness—without ever having made a contribution to anything or anyone except themselves? To me that is one of the most distressing thoughts connected with our creation. All of us have an opportunity to cultivate the municipal plot that is immediately around us. It may not fall to your lot to paint a masterpiece that will enthrall for generations to come; you may not chisel in stone a thing of beauty that will be a joy forever, it cannot be the appointed task of all of us to build cathedrals to the dreams within us, but, my friends, each one of us can be true to duty whenever she beckons, whether she does it with a grand and magnificent gesture in sight of thousands of our fellow citizens, or whether it comes in the dark of the night and we realize that our response will forever be unknown. We have just a little bit of time, you and I. The plot of ground upon which we dwell—our community—is small and, in some instances, not very commanding. When the finger of responsibility moves toward you and you feel it rest upon your shoulder, stand up and answer that summons with all of the courage within your being and at your command. The mountains and prairies—the rivers and lakes—the very sky and the air beneath it, in America, are the best God ever created. All those things the efforts of fine men and women. They deserve to be fought for in absolute harmony. You and I must build better communities for America. If we do, the names of our generation will be carved upon the tables of memory and we shall have earned our right to rise among the stars.

Week after week and month after month all over this land, the search among M. and P. W. Clubs and Chambers of Commerce is for the men and women of good fibre, unafraid of the costs of assuming public leadership and intensely desirous of making contributions to their generation, building in their respective communities monuments to the tiny span of time during which they trod this earth.

Why do we saturate our hearts and minds and souls with avarice and greed and bitterness toward our fellow man? If we could but learn the dividends of goodwill, and harmony in our business relations, I certainly choose to believe that no man would be senseless enough to follow the other course.

And now, my friends, if I were asked what is the final element to be desired after the problem of manpower is settled, I would say harmony. That is the thing that is so wonderful to watch about an intricate machine. A finely jewelled watch—a strong, healthy body—the cyles of the season—the movement of the planets—all would be chaos if it weren't for harmony. Yet in our human relations, in our quest of better communities, it is far rarer than a day in June. I'm not telling you anything that you don't already know, but when civic bodies conceive a project scintillating with brilliance and then begin to move toward their objective, so very, very often they neglect to solidify forces, effect cohesion and then move. Is there anyone in this audience tonight who does not believe that your City of Monroe could accomplish any municipal desire it might entertain if every single soul in this area said forcefully, "We've got to have it!" and then moved accordingly?

Considerable interest was manifested in the second meeting of the Ransom P.-T. A. with sixty-three members present.

Mrs. L. J. Shackelford, president, presided. Mrs. Clark led the group in singing "America," and "The More We Get Together." Mrs. J. C. Green led in prayer.

Mrs. Jules Watts Spoke of the projects for this year, including a plan to buy at least three radio-victrola combinations for the school.

Mrs. L. A. Salters, financial chairman, discussed a cake walk and bingo party to be held at the school on Halloween night. This was voted upon, and it was agreed that the party would be held, as planned.

There was much enthusiasm existing in the membership drive. Mrs. Clark's room won, with thirty-five members. Mrs. Poimbeouf's second, with thirty-three. A gain of 27 per cent was shown over last years membership.

At the close of the business session, the mothers visited the various classrooms and discussed the plans for the cake walk and bingo party.

A social hour was a feature of the meeting. The teachers were the hostesses on this occasion.

MISS KAY CRANDELL TELLS OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCES IN CHINA AND IN INDIA

Miss Kay Crandall, the new director of the Monroe Little Theater, addressed members and guests of the Readers' Clique Thursday afternoon at their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Walter Ryland, Jr., on Downey Lane.

Miss Crandall related a few personal experiences she had while serving with the Red Cross in China. Her station was Kunming which is located in a valley with an elevation of about 6,200 feet. This valley is surrounded by hills which have become corroded through the ages, thus bringing out many beautiful colors that become glorified in the sunlight. China is an agricultural country with cabbage and rice it's most flourishing crops. The hillsides are broken up into small paddies of rice fields which in their different stages of growth make an ever changing pattern of green.

Miss Crandall stated that her first assignment was to provide doughnuts for a large company of G. I.'s. Having never made doughnuts before and not really knowing what would go into the making of them, she set out to purchase the necessary ingredients. She knew that milk would be an assential and after covering a large part of the city, which was completely strange to her, she had exhausted her funds on two cans of condensed milk. She was in a quandary as to what step she should take next, when she met a solder, explained her problem to him and he helped obtain a receipt for doughnuts and loaned her the money to complete her buying. It was very late and she returned to her barracks laden with bundles. But needless to say, the boys got their doughnuts at the appointed time.

One of her most exciting adventures was a trip by jeep over the Burma road from Kunming to Chungking. The drive took five days and the entire territory was a wilderness of mountains inhabited with small villages of primitive tribes, completely independent and speaking a strange language. They wore unusual costumes and were very shy by nature, thus differing greatly from the Chinese people in that they are at ease with anyone, never shy and having a curiosity that is one of their most enduring qualities. No American or other foreigner can go into China without being thoroughly inspected. This, according to Miss Crandall, was a good lesson for we are really as odd to the Chinese as they are to us. One has a very comfortable feeling when among these people and this can be explained by the fact that China is the only old country in the world which has never been ruled by outside conquerors.

From Chungking a trip was made by air to Chengtu. A large university is located at Chengtu and the majority of students are refugees who walked many miles to attend school there. They had no means of support and did not receive new clothing or other necessities during their entire time in school. The barracks of this university were very crude, with mud floors and rice paper covering the windows to keep out the wind and cold.

Among Miss Crandall's many assignments was the directing of plays for entertainment of G. I.'s. She and her company toured numerous bases with Ruth Gordon's play, "Over 21." This was a difficult undertaking as they had to carry their own lighting system and props with them. At one base the stage was made by placing three pingpong tables together. One of the tables had a hole in it and the G. I. who was playing the feminine lead caught the heel of his slipper in this hole and practically stopped the show.

Miss Crandall was also stationed in India for a time and she told briefly of the beauty of the country and the architecture. Many of the buildings are made of glistening white marble with large intricately carved marble screens which often take as long as thirty years to make.

At the conclusion of her talk, Miss Crandall showed members some of her treasures she brought back with her. Among them are beautiul embroidered scarves of wool and silk, hand made jewelry and an exquisite evening bag, by Benares of India, brocaded in silver and gold thread.

The president, Mrs. Jack Masur, presided over the business session at this time members voted to send boxes at intervals, to several families in Holland. Clothing, food and medicine will be included. This new project will be carried out along with other club activities. Members wish to take this opportunity to thank their many friends for their cooperation in donating toys to be given out during the Christmas season.

During the social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following members and guests:

Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mrs. Raymond John, Jr., Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. H. C. Menuet, Mrs. R. E. Ethridge, Mrs. S. R. Archibald, Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Mrs. Jack Masur, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. E. W. Crowley, Mrs. Walter Ryland, Jr., Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Clay Albridght, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Harry Stone, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Floyd Stone, Jr., and Miss Kay Crandall.

Silver Wedding Anniversary Observed

Home Of Mr. And Mrs. John Guerriero Is The Scene Of Wedding Anniversary

Silver wedding anniversaries are always interesting but unusually so when celebrated in such a beautiful home as Mr. and Mrs. John Guerriero's. Their silver wedding anniversary celebration will dwell for a long time in the memory of friends who were privileged to enjoy the gracious hospitality extended on this joyous occasion.

The spacious reception suite was in festive floral attire with pink chrysanthemums of pronounced beauty banking the mantels, overflowing from tall floor standards and gracing low coffee tables.

Mrs. Guerriero wore a distinctive evening model of white crepe trimmed in gold and silver sequins. Her corsage, a gift from Mr. Guerriero, was of orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Guerriero were assisted in extending courtesies by their daughter, Mrs. James Ussery who wore a lovely navy blue model.

Mrs. A. M. Guerriero assisting in receiving wore a beautiful purple crepe evening model with corsage of orchids.

The dining room, candlelit and adorned with pink chrysanthemums was thronging with guests who were served champagne cocktails and canapes and from the spacious buffet helped themselves to the delicious chicken salad sandwiches, petit fours, and individual wedding cakes embossed in silver wedding bells.

The table reserved for the wedding cake was developed exclusively in silver and covered with handsome point Venice lace. The cake, a three tiered confection, was a triumph of the confectioner's art. It was embossed in crystalized roses and surmounted with silver wedding bells. Inscribed in silver was the number 25.

More than one hundred and fifty guests called during the evening to pay their respects to this esteemed couple and to enjoy the gracious hospitality associated with this home.

Mr. and Mrs. Guerriero have resided in Monroe ever since their marriage twenty-five years ago and are very much a part of the civic, social and religious life of the city. Many of the friends who attended their wedding were present on this happy occasion and were among the first to wish them continued health and happiness.

Wedding At Grace Episcopal Church Is Brilliant Event Of Early Fall Season

Miss Johnston Is October Bride

Large Concourse Of Friends Attend Ceremony And The Reception Following

A wedding characterized by considerable sentiment took place in this city October 12 at Grace Episcopal Church when Miss Anne Carter Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett Johnston of Shreveport became the bride of Lt. Robert O. Allen, son of Mrs. Etta Harlow and Mr. Robert P. Allen of Charlottesville, Va. The ceremony took place at 7:30 o'clock in the evening with the rector, Dr. Edward F. Hayward, in his ecclesiastic robes of office, officiating.

A pale yellow theme accentuated by the mellow candlelight, was reflected in the decorations of the church. Yellow chrysanthemums of pronounced beauty banked the altar and overflowed from Princess baskets placed on either side of the chancel. Pale yellow asters studded the chancel rail. Over all fell the soft candlelight. The tapers, myriads of them in tall floor candelabra, were lighted by the acolytes in crisp, black and white vestments.

While guests were being seated, the organist Mr. Larry Jefferson rendered a brilliant pre-nuptial concert and accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Rinehart who sang in beautiful voice, "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride's mother, Mrs. Johnston, walked down the aisle in a beautiful evening model of black satin embroidered in sequins. Her flattering hat was of pale pik ostrich feathers and her corsage was of orchids. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Fred Fudickar, looked lovely in a white crepe evening model beautiully embroidered in iridescent beads. She wore a Juliet cap of pearls and a corsage of orchids.

The bride's sister, Miss Barbara Johnston and her two cousins, Mrs. Hugh Glasgow and Mrs. Benjamin S. Pace served in the capacity of maid of honor and matrons of honor. They wore stunning models of sea-foam green velvet fashioned with drop shoulders and three-quarter length sleeves. The skirts were floor length with victorian bustle effect emphasized. They all wore a yellow plume in their hair and carried arm bouquets of superb yellow chrysanthemums tied with long lengths of yellow and green satin ribbons.

Mr. Fred Fudickar, Jr., served as best man and the groomsmen were Mr. John Bennett Fudickar, Jr., and Mr. Hugh Glasgow.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional ivory satin wedding gown. The tight fitting bodice adroitly shaped, was fashioned with a deep yoke of marquisette encrusted with pearls. The sleeves were long and tight fitting and ended in Calla lily points over the hands. The skirt fell from a reed-slim waistline in long, graceful folds ending in a court train. Her veil of imported lace over illusion was caught to a close fitting cap of lace.

The bride carried a white ivory prayer book surmounted with a spray of white orchids, tuberoses and valley lilies tied with long lengths of narrow white satin ribbon.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Lotus club where considerable beauty of decoration was noted. White chrysanthemums, used extravagantly in the background, were silhouetted against glistening magnolia leaves. The mantel in the lounge banked with white chrysanthemums and magnolia leaves, offered a distinctive background for members of the wedding party. Friends pressed forward to congratulate the bridegroom and to extend their best wishes to the bride.

Champagne punch was served during the evening with a variety of sweets including individual wedding cakes.

The bride's table in the candlelit library was reminiscent of the Victorian era with its floor-length organdy cloth and encircled with tuberoses. The cake, centering the circular, table was three-tiered and surmounted with a crystalized urn overflowing with fresh flowers . . . tuberoses and valley lilies.

The bride and groom cut their cake before leaving on their honeymoon. The bride traveled in a beautiful tailleur of Palomino brown with black accessories and a corsage of orchids. They will honeymoon in New Orleans and Dallas before leaving for their home in Roswell, New Mexico where Lt. Allen is stationed at Roswell Field with the Air Corps.

The bride has made her home for the greater part of her life with her aunt, Mrs. Fred Fudickar and Mr. Fudickar of this city and is one of the lovely members of the younger set. She is a graduate of the Byrd High School in Shreveport and was graduated from the Texas State College for Women.

Lt. Allen is a graduate of the Fork Union Military Academy and the University of Virginia.

Membership — Miss Mary Lea George, Mrs. Dan F. Willis, Mrs. Lyda R. Tolbird, Mrs. H. H. Douglas, Mrs. Ivan D. Owens.

This concluded the business before the house and the meeting adjourned to meet again Monday night, November 11.

Purely Personal

The dreams of three Monroe hunters, Edward Seymour, Ernest Marchman and W. J. Riley to hunt pheasants in the Dakotas were realized last week when they left in Mr. Marchman's station wagon for Aldham, S. D. for a week of pheasant hunting. It's cold in South Dakota at this time so warm clothing was packed away for the cold frosty mornings when pheasant hunting is at its best. The pheasants will be placed in deep freezing units and served by these genial hosts at many a dinner party during the coming winter.

When Jan Touchstone, beautiful little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirt Touchstone, Jr., was christened at Grace Episcopal church last Sunday afternoon she wore the exquisite christening robe that has been in her mother's family for 44 years. She also wore the beautiful gold cross given to her two year old sister, Helen Anne by her godmother and namesake, Mrs. Helen Dixon Abell when she was christened. Jan's godparents are Mrs. Thomas L. Downs and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Harrington and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Touchstone. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington were unable to be present at the christening ceremony so Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Touchstone took their place.

The ceremony was impressively performed by Dr. E. F. Hayward, rector of Grace church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kellogg are spending the week-end high in the mountains of Tennessee where they are guests of friends at their mountain lodge near Knoxville. The beauty of the woods at this time attracted Mr. and Mrs. John Veach, hosts at the week-end house party, from their home in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg made the trip to Knoxville via air ways.

Lest you forget, place a string around your finger as a reminder that you must attend the benefit card party members of Grace church Junior Guild are sponsoring next Saturday afternoon at the parish house. It's going to surpass in attendance and in interest any thing of this nature ever attempted in Junior Guild circles The handsome grand prize presented every year by Mr. William Grasse is incentive enough for the card playing public to attend. The prize this year will be an antique English silver basket. Other prizes, very handsome indeed, will be contributed by the R and A. Peacock's The Woman's Shop, Keene's Shoe Store, Ferd Levi, Standard Office and Supply, Weaks Supply, Holloway and Thompson, North Side Pharmacy, Mrs. Johnnie Smith Elbert, The Palace, Durretts, Monroe Hardware, Kaliski, and Brices.

When Mrs. Burt Sperry returned from a summer vacation spent with her parents, Major and Mrs. Gerald Johnson of San Diego, Calif., she found a new home awaiting her. In her absence Mr. Sperry rushed to completion the garage apartment on the lot on Pargoud Drive where they later will build a beautiful home. In the meantime they will enjoy to the fullest the little home that has all the comforts and will later be used as a home for the servants.

The many friends of Mrs. James M. Russell, of this city, will be pleased to know that she has been invited by the New York Public Library to have established in that institution a continuing file of "Coronal," the sonnet quarterly which Mrs. Russell edits. Prior to this invitation, a request was made for sample copies, which were submitted, and elicited a very appreciative letter from the library requesting permission to include Coronal among the files of "publications of importance in this country."

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the magazine, Coronal is a quarterly publication of attractive format, dedicated to sonnets exclusively. It is rather a newcomer in the field of poetry magazines, having made its first appearance a year ago; but already it has received widespread favorable attention and comment, and has contained the work of such recognized poets as Lt. Colonel Cullen Jones, a contributor to English journals as well as American; Duke Cole Meredith, author of a textbook on the sonnets; and Isabelle Fiske Conant, author of several books on sonnets. Several local poets have also been among its contributors, including May Smith White, Eulalia Parrill McCoy and Peggy Windsor Garnett.

Mrs. Russell is, herself, the author of three bocks of outstanding poetry, and in her capacity as editor of Coronal she has demonstrated the ability of a successful critic, reviewer and publisher.

500 WALNUT STREET
Monroe, Louisiana

The average heart—so the docs say—weighs around 10 ounces. We figure that Jim's heart is a lot larger.

For Jim is not only giving a man-sized chunk of money to the Community Chest, but he's ALSO donating his time and energy as a volunteer solicitor.

If he calls on you at your office, give him a good break. Remember that the time he's taken from his own work will probably have to be made up at night.

If he (or his good wife) calls at your home, remember that he's giving up spare time that is precious to him . . .

He's got storm windows to paint and screens to take down. He'd like to be out bowling with the gang —or sitting down to a game of bridge. He, too, "brought some work home from the office." He, too, would like to take his family out for a ride in the car.

But the most important job in life this week, he figures, is to make a success of this drive for our Community Chest and its Red Feather health and welfare services.

As a matter of fact, Jim's heart is pretty light. When he sees neighbor after neighbor cheerfully dig deep and give—HE KNOWS HE LIVES AND WORKS IN A TOWN THAT CARES.

Won't you have your contribution ready for him when he calls on you?

LOHMANN-JAMESON NUPTIALS PERFORMED AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF MONROE

A wedding, charming of detail and of interest to many friends took place at the First Baptist Church, October 3, when Miss Dolly Nolan Lohmann, daughter of Mrs. Howard Lohmann and the late Mr. Lohmann became the bride of Mr. Earl Everett Jameson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jameson of Kansas City.

The church was flooded with candlelight and beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and white asters overflowing from pedestal urns grouped in the background and flanking the chancel rail.

While the guests were being seated a prenuptial organ concert was rendered and Miss Dorothy Powell sang in beautiful voice, "Because," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Walter C. Singley served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a beautiful champagne beige satin suit with off-the-face hat of gold metallic cloth with gold mesh veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Bonnie Sue Nolan, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a hand made frock of white organza trimmed in pink satin ribbon bows and carried a Princess basket filled with tuberoses and pink carnations.

Mr. Jack Stevens served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Walter C. Singley, wore a distinctive gown of silver gray satin. It was adroitly draped at the waistline and at the V shaped neckline she wore a handsome diamond brooch. She wore a pink ostrich feather hat and long pink suede gloves and carried a heart shaped bouquet fashioned of tuberoses and orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the Singley home, 606 Glenmar.

Considerable beauty of decoration was noted in the reception suite where the wedding party stood to receive the guests assisted by the bride's mother who wore an azure blue crepe model with corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Jameson, the bridegroom's mother, introduced at this time, wore a black crepe model with corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with handsome lace and centrally adorned with a large oblong mirror upon which was placed the three-tiered wedding cake surmounted with bride and groom figurines. The bride and groom cut the cake before departing on their honeymoon in Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Branch Isabell and Mrs. W. C. Tucker assisted in serving the individual wedding cakes and other confections. Mrs. Rebe Wilson presided at the bride's book.

The bride traveled in a beautiful green gabardine tailleur with pheasant brown accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The bride is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and for the past three years has been in the employ of Sig Haas and Sons.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Missouri, and is now associated with his father in the theater business. Following their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Jameson will be in their own home at 106 Holmes Road, Hickman Mills, Mo.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens, Mr. William Hunt of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. H. O. Nolan and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Nolan of Dallas.

OCTOBER BRIDE

Mrs. Max Adrian Dixon, the former Miss Dorothy O'Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O'Neal, of Delhi, La., whose marriage took place October 18 at the O'Neal home.

Marriage In Mississippi Is Of Interest Here

Claiming interest of a wide circle of friends is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. James N. Roberts, Sr., of Artesia, Mississippi, of the marriage of their daughter, Blanche Roberts McBride of Monroe, La., to Erwin C. West of Columbus, Miss.

The wedding was solemnized Oct. 7 in the First Methodist church of Monroe with Dr. A. M. Serex, pastor of the church officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few close friends of the couple.

Mrs. West wore for her wedding a fall suit of coffee wool with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of frons chrysanthemums.

A graduate of Mississippi State College for Women, Mrs. West has been a teacher in the city school system of Monroe for several years. Mr. West is engaged in the men's clothing business in Columbus.

After Oct. 23rd Mr. and Mrs. West will be at home at 1223 North 2nd Ave., Columbus, Miss.

WEDDING CHARACTERIZED BY SIMPLICITY TAKES PLACE AT RIDGE AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

Claiming prominence among the October nuptial events was the marriage of Miss Winnie Ruth Smith, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Smith and Mr. Herman Otho Cooley at the Ridge Avenue Baptist church, October 7, with Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and southern smilax with a picturesque arch entwined with daisies and smilax placed in the background. Cathedral tapers in tall floor candelabra were grouped in a semi-circle and formed a candlelit enclosure for the wedding party.

The tapers were lighted by Mr. Ben Andrews and Mr. M. R. Coon.

The guests were seated by the ushers, Mr. Fred R. Hayton and Mr. Milburn Calhoun.

Mrs. Bennie Andrews, wearing a black crepe model fashioned with a deep yoke of coral colored sequins and a corsage of coral colored asters, rendered a prenuptial concert and accompanied Mr. "Buddie" Butler who sang "Because" and Miss Nelda Sue Monroe who sang "I love You Truly."

Miss Wilma Smith served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a bouffant gown of white crepe with tight fitting bodice and carried an old-fashioned arm bouquet of rainbow asters tied with lengths of satin ribbon. Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Cox, Mrs. James Kelley, Miss Virginia Butler, Miss Bennie Nell Liner, Miss Edna Ruth Whitman and Miss Elsie Coon. They all wore models of pastel crepe made on similar lines to that worn by the maid of honor. Their bouquets were also similar and all wore chaplets of daisies and net with short veils.

Mr. Eugene Otis Cooley, twin brother of the groom served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. O. H. Robbins, wore a wedding gown of slipper satin with full skirt which ended in a long train. The bodice was tight fitting, and the long sleeves, slightly puffed at the shoulders, came to a point over the hands.

For something old she wore a gold bracelet owned by Miss Virginia Hamel and for "something borrowed a wedding veil belonging to Mrs. Fred Ussery. The sixpence in her shoe was brought from India by the bridegroom's sister, Lt. Hazel Cooley.

Observing an old southern custom the bride and groom paused on the church steps to receive the well wishes of their friends before departing on their honeymoon.

They will honeymoon in the Ozark mountains and later will be at home on the Cooktown road in Ruston.

"SHOPPING THE TOWN" WITH Camille

THE AIR CRISPS AND CRACKLES . . . the stars turn white and frosty . . . the first fires burn in our home . . . the deep-hollowed chair is by the hearth and nearby the plate of sandwiches, made from that luscious MEL-O-TOAST BREAD from the CITY BAKERY . . . they all spell home. Nothing in the world can satisfy hunger like MEL-O-TOAST bread. It's perfect for sandwiches, indispensible at meal time and necessary for growing children. Those big buns at the CITY BAKERY are simply scrumptuous for hamburgers.

HOW TO AVOID FAILURES in cooking . . . dine at the HOLLYWOOD. Don't experiment with food these days of soaring prices . . . dine at the HOLLYWOOD where the excellent food places the whole family in a good frame of mind. The menu is varied enough to suit the oldest and youngest member of the family. The servant problem never worries the hostess who makes a practice of entertaining at the HOLLYWOOD . . . just telephone the HOLLYWOOD for reservations.

YOUR TAILORED SUIT IS INDIVIDUALIZED AT FINKS. The masterly touch is decided upon in the designing room at this shop so there can be no hit or miss. All you have to do is to add the right hat, a sparkling clip, your favorite blouse and you are dressed correctly for almost any occasion. The color you love . . . the color that does the most for you, can be found in the wide range of materials now shown by FINK THE TAILOR. Don't face the busy season ahead without a suit tailored by FINK.

THE DIAMOND THAT UNITES two people and radiates their love must be perfect . . . let me suggest that you consult the diamond expert at Monroe's old and reliable jewelry shop, THE R & A. Flaws, not visible to the naked eye are found by this expert. For generations the R & A has set the standard of beauty, craftsmanship and value. Look for integrity and responsibility when buying precious jewels . . . in other words, depend on the R & A.

RESOLVE THIS VERY DAY to visit MARIE WAMSLEY'S Beauty Salon where the general contour of your face and head is studied before a hair-do is suggested. Resolve to get a good permanent or none at all, and above all resolve to turn yourself over to a beauty specialist who gives a massage that relaxes your whole body, in addition to bringing to the surface all the hidden beauty of your skin. Place yourself in the hands of MARIE WAMSLEY and tell her to give you the "works." Your hair will shimmer like moonlight after a PARKER-HERBEX SHAMPOO.

THE QUESTION THAT pops up most often these days is "where shall we eat?" . . . That's where I am able to pass along a word of good advice . . . it's the LA CASA TEA ROOM at 1408 South Grand. Everyone is raving about the food (it's typically southern). The corn bread sticks are crunchy and delicious and the home-made rolls are piping hot . . . they are a feature of every meal. The portions are generous. The big living room is at the disposal of guests and is ideal for club meetings.

THE FALL SEASON IS BUBBLING with new bridal ideas and most of them originate in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Hunt, who own and operate the WEST SIDE FLOWER SHOPPE. Their attractive flower and gift shop is full of trappings for weddings and receptions. Like magic they can erect a high, white arch in the background and arrange the flowers at the last minute. Don't risk imperfect details . . . let the WEST SIDE FLOWER SHOPPE take complete charge of your wedding. They even arrange to have pictures made for your bride's book.

THERE'S NO QUESTION these nights about where to go . . . the answer is always the RAINBOW INN where gay crowds gather and luncheons are becoming a daily feature. The cocktail hour, four o'clock, is becoming more and more popular. In the main dining room the "peppiest" dance music in all Monroe is supplied by the all-girl orchestra. Every night a birthday party, an anniversary celebration and gay little supper dates are in progress. The food is unexcelled and the prices are surprisingly low.

DO THE SMART FALL FASHIONS make you wistful, because the long, slender lines are too sleek for your over-expanded figure? Why not alter your figure to the desired proportions by wearing a CHARMODE girdle, sold exclusively at SEARS ROEBUCK CO. The word has spread from mother to daughter, from neighbor to friend and women are flocking as never before to SEARS ROEBUCK CO. for the miracle girdle. It takes inches off the waist, slenderizes the hips. There's a CHARMODE for every figure.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE in drinks mixed at the CASCADE which your palate will instantly recognize and relish. And by the way, have you discovered how versatile the mixologist at the CASCADE can be? He mixes the kind of drink you like best in the most expert manner. It's never a question of how he likes to mix drinks, but rather how the customer prefers them. You will agree that the best drinks in the city are mixed at Monroe's smart cocktail lounge . . . the CASCADE.

WHETHER TO SPEND much or little for a funeral is a question that only the family concerned can decide. THE HALL FUNERAL HOME caters to those with slender purses and those who want the best that money can buy. At this time the HALL FUNERAL HOME is in a position to furnish an all-metal casket at the very lowest cost. Like a safety deposit box protecting its valuable charge, a dependable steel casket keeps water out even when completely submerged. Ask the HALL FUNERAL HOME for information.

Where New Church Building Will Be Located

The Parkview Baptist Church, through its Building Committee, contracted last week for the purchase as a site for its church an entire city block located at the corner of Forsythe avenue and Tenth street at a price of $12,500. This lot fronts 300 feet on Forsythe avenue and 283 feet on Tenth street, as indicated on the above map.

The membership of this church, in authorizing its Building Committee to negotiate a purchase of this entire block, did so with the view that this block would provide an area large enough for a church auditorium, educational building, recreation center and play grounds for outdoor youth activities. Further, this location is approximately equal in distance between Louisville avenue and Highland Park, or that area of North Monroe which this new church will logically serve.

There is a real need for a Baptist Church on Monroe's North Side, as evidenced by a church census just made by the Parkview Baptist Church membership of the residential area in Monroe north of Louisville avenue, which showed 136 Baptist families who are unaffiliated with any local Baptist Church and are presently unenlisted in any church activities, together with scores of additional Baptist families who are members of local Baptist Churches but who do not attend and who are inactive. This survey has thus presented conclusive evidence that there are a minimum of 1,000 unenlisted and unaffiliated Baptist people in Monroe's north side who are potential members of the Parkview Baptist Church.

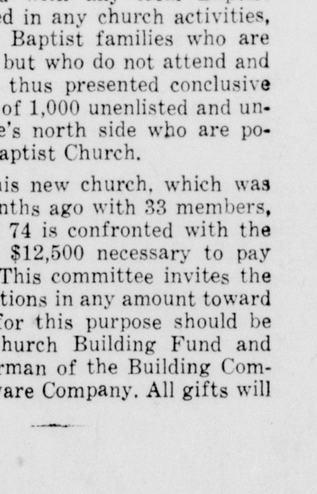

The Building Committee of this new church, which was organized just a little over two months ago with 33 members, and with a current membership of 74 is confronted with the immediate problem of raising the $12,500 necessary to pay for the block of Forsythe avenue. This committee invites the citizens of Monroe to make contributions in any amount toward the purchase of this lot. Checks for this purpose should be made to the Parkview Baptist Church Building Fund and mailed to Mr. Walter Ryland, chairman of the Building Committee in care of the Monroe Hardware Company. All gifts will be deeply appreciated.

Miss Slagle Will Wed In December

Announcement Of Young Couple Of Interest To Wide Circle Of Friends

Of paramount social interest in this city and throughout the state is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cuthbert Slagle of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Clarice Slagle to Henry LeRoy Johns, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Johns of New Orleans.

The wedding will be a prominent event of December 28.

Miss Slagle, a charming and popular member of the younger set, is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and was graduated last June from Sophie Newcomb college in New Orleans. She is a member of Chi Omega and Delta Beta Sigma sororities.

Mr. Johns returned to Tulane University to complete his course of study after serving for twenty months overseas as Lieutenant (j. g.) in the United States navy. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

EPSILON CHAPTER OF DELTA THETA CHI SORORITY IS INSTALLED IN THIS CITY

The Louisiana Epsilon chapter of Delta Theta Chi was installed with a beautifully appointed dinner in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel.

Miss Mary Broughton, field director of Delta Theta Chi from the national office in Chicago, Illinois, presided at the head table arranged in the symbolic triangle shape, representing the Greek Delta. Green and gold tapers harmonized with green and gold color theme reflected in the gold colored chrysanthemums at the base of the triangle, with green fern running the length of the tables.

Ten charter members were present at the formation of the Epsilon chapter and were pledged as follows: Marguerite Brooks, Dorothy Davis, Jean Dozier, Mary Lee Frost, Mary Frances Griffin, Betty Sue Jones, Mary Elizabeth Meek, Annette Ragland, Wilba Jean Rogers, and Tiny Simmons.

Delta Theta Chi is a purposeful organization with high social, moral and cultural standards. Believing that a study of the fine arts is one of the best means that can be employed for training the mind and developing and refining the judgment, and for obtaining a fund of information that will be useful and practical throughout life, Delta Theta Chi has a program which is calculated to develop an understanding of some of the basic principles of art, literature and music. This program is based upon a simple formula for enriching life given us by Goethe: "Every day, one should at least hear a little song, read a good poem and gaze upon a fine picture, and if possible, speak a few sensible words."

Temporary officers appointed at the initial meeting were: Jean Dozier, president; Annette Ragland, vice-president; Mary Frances Griffin, secretary; Mary Elizabeth Meek, treasurer; Betty Sue Jones, program chairman; Marguerite Brooks, Sgt. at arms.

Regular meetings are held twice a month at the Virginia Hotel.

Art Of Pottery Discussed At Club Meeting

Members of the Bono Nostrorum Club were delightfully entertained in the home of Mrs. W. E. Hixon with Mrs. E. T. Lee, co-hostess. Mrs. Hixon, president, announced the subject for the evening's program, "Pottery," and introduced the first speaker, Mrs. Mable Nash, who discussed "The Art of Pottery." She said in part: "The making of pottery is probably the most ancient of all industries, the beginning of which is hidden in that time of history of which we have no record. Some have said the sea shells suggested to the primitive tribes the idea of forming vessels to hold food. Many early vessels known to have been made thousands of years ago are widely distributed and the materials vary greatly."

The collector applies the term pottery, to all the early vessels and to most of the common wares made of clay, molded into form and then baked. Biblical records speak of kneading clay by hand and trampling it by foot. Even today, the human hand is the best factor for producing beautiful and symmetrical forms in pottery. Mrs. Nash discussed in detail the processes of the art of pottery and how clay, so sensitive in the hands of the potter, exhibits the most subtle impression of the actor's will and presents to us the minds and characters of the peoples who have left no other trace. She gave a brief sketch of Josiah Wedgwood and his exceptional personality, whose life was spent in improving and discovering new ways of perfecting his art. She described the beauties of Delft pottery and the interesting patterns in Ancient Chinese pottery, depicting the every day life of the peoples and the things which interested them.

Mrs. Hixon introduced the next speaker, Mrs. Massey McConnell, who discussed the "Use of Pottery in the Home." Mrs. McConnell varied her talk with an interesting display of pottery, chief of which was a huge meat platter of Ironstone china made in Meakin, England and was over a hundred years old.

Other specimens of imported pottery were figurines, pitchers and vases. Specimens of modern pottery by Camark, Wellen, Roseville, Fiesta Ware, Jiffy Ware and stone-ware were on display. Each was described in detail giving the name and location where each could be found. Mrs. McConnell pointed out the fact that few people realize how much pottery is in evidence in the average home ranging from urns and vases that grace the lawn to the stone-ware and crockery so useful in the kitchen. Every home is incomplete that does not boast of pottery.

A brief business session ensued, at which time delegates to the State Convention of Federated Clubs meeting in Alexandria in November were elected. At the conclusion of the program the Club Collect was repeated in unison, led by Miss Virgie Evans.

During the social hour Mrs. Hixon and Mrs. Lee served a confectionery course to Mesdames: Nettie Watson, Lida Taylor, A. M. Wynn, J. W. DeMoss, F. C. Sheppard, E. D. Baker, Mable Nash, Bob McIntyre, B. N. Hixon, M. D. McConnell, Misses Kate Talbert, Virgie Evans, Ethel Watson, and Miss Susan Pardue of Winnsboro, who was a very welcome guest at the meeting.

PARISH HIGH IN ASSEMBLY MEET

Six Former Students Are Presented In Auditorium Here

Thursday morning at 9 o'clock students of Ouachita Parish High School were treated to an inspirational assembly program. Six former students were presented and they entertained and instructed the student body.

The meeting was opened by repeating the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, led by Graham Humble, who then introduced the president of the Senior class, Fred Huenefeld. In his response to the introduction, Fred thanked his classmates for their confidence in him and pledged the support of the Senior Class to make a greater Ouachita Parish High School.

Edward Clark of the Class of '45 was the first speaker and he stressed the importance of acquiring a good foundation for future college courses. The importance of personality and character developments were emphasized. These may be developd through participation in the various functions and responsibilities available in the classes and extra-curricular activities of the school. All of the school life is planned to make each individual a better citizen, he said.

George Muller, of the class of '43, was then introduced and entertained by playing a piano solo, 'Etude" by Godard. For an encore, he played "The Little Nigar" by DeBussy.

Mrs. LeFevre, a member of the O. P. H. S. faculty and a member of the class of '31, was the next speaker. She recalled her days in Ouachita, how, while the school was smaller, the same fine school spirit existed then, as now. She remarked about the quality of friendships formed in high school and their influence in her life. The students were challenged to do their part toward making the Legend of Ouachita live and grow ever brighter.

Betty Rinehart, '38, a teacher at Crosley school, was introduced and she sang "The Six Days of Life." These were—"Rock a Bye Baby," "School Days," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Wedding March," "Tea for Two," "Darling I Am Growing Old." For an encore she sang "Alice Blue Gown." Miss Rinehart was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bill Watson.

Fred Fudikar, '31, now a prominent Monroe lawyer, told of his experience with Navy men while in service. He cited that the men who had prepared themselves by completing their high school education usually rated higher than the others. He urged the students to make their preparation now.

Mrs. C. G. Pearce, Jr., the former Jane Humphries of the class of '39 was next presented. Mrs. Pearce, who won a National Championship on the marimba while a student at Ouachita, played "Estrallita." For her encore she played "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Fred Huenefeld, Senior class president, closed the program by thanking the six alumni for an inspiring program.

URGES PASSAGE OF AMENDMENT

Passman Supports Proposal For $5,000 Vet Homestead Exemption

An appeal to citizens in general, as well as veterans, to vote for the state constitutional amendment granting a $5,000 homestead tax exemption to former members of the armed forces who served the nation in World War II, was made here Saturday by Otto E. Passman, state commander of American Veterans of World War II.

The amendment will be submitted to the people at the general election November 5. Adoption would extend the exemption for a period of five years to veterans of World War II and dependents of service personnel who met death in defense of the nation during the recent conflict.

Legislation leading to the submission of the amendment ot the people was sponsored by the Louisiana department of American Veterans of World War II.

"We are not asking the people to give the veterans and dependents of our heroic dead something," said Commander Passman. "The additional homestead tax exemption would merely be a step in the direction of placing them on a parity with those whose progress toward economic security was not interrupted by the war."

The homestead tax exemption now in effect in Louisiana is $2,000. The amendment would raise the exemption to $5,000 for five years on homes presently owned by veterans and dependents of those who made the supreme sacrifice and apply to new residences built during the period by persons in that category.

"Veterans were told when they were meeting death and suffering hardships that a grateful nation would look after their dependents if they didn't return, and that they would be assisted in reestablishing themselves in civilian life if they were fortunate enough to come back," Mr. Passman said. "I'm confident Louisianians are going to keep their promise by voting for the homestead tax amendment November 5.

"Veterans aren't asking for gifts from the state and nation. All they want is an opportunity to reestablish themselves at a decent level of livelihood in the economic structure of our system of free enterprise."

YOUTH S. S. CLASS AT LOCAL CHURCH

Russell Simpson, prominent in Presbyterian Church circles, former Boy Scout executive in the Ouachita Valley Council, has been selected to teach a new Sunday school class for young men and women, both single and married, at the First Presbyterian Church.

The class will meet for its organization session this morning at 9:45 o'clock at the church and all young people, probably those in their twenties and early thirties, are urged to attend and start off this class with enthusiasm.

J. Arthur Smith, Sunday school superintendent, states that there are many in the church who prefer to join a class of this kind rather than to attend the Men's class in the Paramount theater and the juvenile Sunday school classes are too young for them to fully appreciate. Mr. Smith feels that the new class will fill a well-defined niche.

PARLOR CITY HAS WOODMEN MEETING

Parlor City Grove No. 228, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, met in the W. O. W. Hall the past week with good attendance. A class was initiated into the order.

Mrs. H. O. Hartman, guardian, presided.

Mrs. Sybil George gave an interesting report on the highlights of the recent national convention in Denver, Colo.

SLASHED IN FIGHT

A knife, wielded by an unidentified Negro, just missed the jugular vein of Sam Bass, colored, of 309 North Eighth Street, as the two fought on the street at Eighth and Layton at 10 p.m. Friday, but the blade inflicted an otherwise serious would in the recipient's throat. The slasher had fled when Officers R. G. May and H. R. Hall reached the scene. They sent Bass to St. Francis Sanitarium in a taxi. Listed as witnesses to the cutting were Bass' wife, Ethel, and K. Arthur Johnson.

BEAUTIFICATION PLANS APPROVED

The beautification program sponsored by the many local civic clubs, brought a wave of approval by members of the Rodney J. Hobbs Post No. 1809, Veterans of Foreign Wars. This program originated in the Rotary Club and they in turn called a meeting of all civic and veterans organizations in Monroe to make the campaign widespread.

The V. F. W. seeing the need of making Monroe cleaner and more beautiful rose unanimously in approving this program. Raleigh A. Poulos and Harry L. Hipp were appointed to represent the V. F. W. and were given instructions to do all within their power to make this campaign successful, for as the members saw it, "The beautification of Monroe today means a greater Monroe tomorrow."

James E. Owens, Aubrey Solomon, Cary Thomas Zeagler, Henry K. Hoffman, George Richard Cassidy, Joseph Elmo Hudson, Edgar Lavelle Harrison, George Fred Beckett, and Jimmie Brasher, all overseas veterans, were admitted to the Rodney J. Hobbs Post Thursday night. They join the many overseas veterans in the ever-growing Veterans of Foreign Wars.

ELDER HUNTER TO VISIT HERE

Member Of Council Of 70, Salt Lake City, Will Speak

Elder Milton R. Hunter of the First Council of Seventy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will speak at a meeting in Monroe Wednesday, October 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the chapel located at 307 North Second Street.

Elder Hunter's education was received in the public schools and the Millard High School. He attended the Brigham Young University, the University of Utah and the University of California. He did post graduate work at the Brigham Young University in 1931 and received his B. S. degree in history from that school in 1929; his M. S. degree from the same school in 1931 in religious education; his Ph. D. in religious education from the University of California in 1935 and a M. A. degree in 1939 from the University of Southern California in education and guidance.

Elder Hunter has been the principal of two seminaries, one at Lyman, Wyo., and the Emery Stake Seminary. He taught in the Provo Seminary from 1934 to 1936. Before entering the seminary system Elder Hunter was principal of a district school in St. Thomas, Nev.; a junior high school in Leamington, Utah, and principal of a junior high school in Lake View, Utah. He has been active for a number of years as a teacher in auxiliary organizations and an instructor in the Sixty-Fourth Quorum of Seventy of the Cache Stake of which he is a member.

He is the author of several books, among which are: "Brigham Young the Colonizer," the publication of his thesis for a doctor's degree; "Utah in Her Western Setting," a text book used in the public schools in Utah; "Mormonism and the American Frontier, a church history text book for church institutes; and "Gospel Through the Ages," a text book for the Melchizedek Priesthood Quorums of the Church.

COLORED EDUCATOR BURIAL SET TODAY

The funeral of Ottie Foster, 63, wife of Professor M. J. Foster, who died after an illness of five months, will be held at Zion Traveler Church, Sunday at 1 p.m. Rev. Pearce will officiate. Interment, directed by the Williams Funeral Home, will be made in the Monroe colored city cemetery.

She was widely known among her race and highly regarded by many white friends, having graduated from Leland University, New Orleans, her native city, and upon her marriage to Professor M. J. Foster, principal of the Monroe Colored High School, she began to teach here. In all she had taught continuously for 40 years. She also was named on the summer faculty of the colored state normal where she taught each summer.

She leaves her husband; a daughter and three sons: Emelyn Cora Foster Brisco, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Madison W. Foster, Monroe physician; Dr. Robert P. Foster, a physician in St. Louis, Mo.; and Leland Foster, living in Iowa.

Active pallbearers will be: Dr. G. McClanahan, Dr. S. D. Hill, Dr. J. B. Thompson, Dr. J. C. Roy and Dr. R. O. Pierce. The honorary pallbearers will be trustees and deacons of Zion Traveler church.

BLANKS ARE READY

H. B. McClendon, Ouachita parish service officer, in courthouse building, states that he has received blank application forms for the purchase of surplus property from the War Assets Administration. Also received were a supply of "Survivor's Claim for Settlement of Unused Leave." This applies to the survivors of all honorably discharged servicemen who met death after discharge.

GIRL SCOUTS TO CELEBRATE WEEK

All Kinds Of Activities For Members And Brownies Planned

All kinds of activities for local Brownies and Girl Scouts will make up the calendar devoted to Girl Scout week, October 27-November 2. The program committee of the Ouachita Parish Girl Scout Council, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rodney Cline, is putting final touches to plans for this special period. The week is being featured in observance of the birthday anniversary of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting.

Girl Scouts are asked to wear their uniforms when they attend the church service of their choice on Sunday morning, October 27. That afternoon will feature Scouts' own inspirational program at 3 o'clock in the Ouachita Parish High School auritorium. Dr. Mary Mims, rural sociologist of the Agricultural and Home Economics division, Louisiana State University, has accepted an invitation to speak on this occasion. Dr. Mims has gained wide recognition as a speaker and leader in community projects. Her particular interest in youth was a factor emphasized by the committee in planning this phase of the program. The public, especially young people, is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Another feature of the week will be the Girl Scout exhibit which is being arranged by Miss Francis Flanders, librarian, in the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Throughout this period when Scouting is to be stressed the national radio hookup will emphasize the various fields of activity which Scouting includes and the real service rendered by the organization.

The series of special events for local Scouts will be climaxed by a Hallowe'en party on the West Monroe Rodeo Association grounds, October 31 from 7 to 9 o'clock. There is to be no admission cost for Brownies and Scouts. Opening with a parade, judges will award prizes to girls wearing the prettiest, most original and the funniest costumes. Following, each troop is to present its Juliette Low birthday pennies which will become a part of the Juliette Low Friendship Fund which is used to send delegates to the international encampments in Switzerland.

The rest of the evening will be given over to fun with promises of an assortment of entertainment varied enough to appeal to any Girl Scout. Bluebeard's den, a chamber of horrors, fortune telling, lobby booth, a zoo, freak show, comic movies and the old-fashioned bobbing for apples are among the features planned for Hallowe-en.

PYTHIANS PLAN THEIR MEETINGS

Stonewall Lodge No. 8, K. and P. conferred the final rank, knight, at the meeting held last Thursday. On this coming Thursday at the Pythian hall, at 7:30 p. m. the lodge will meet and will plan for the open house on October 31, which will be for Knights, Dokeys and Pythian Temple Sisters. It will comprise a memorial service for men in service in the recent war. Pictures of the men who gave their lives will be unveiled on the wall of the clubrooms and the full program will be published in next Sunday's World.

El Miro Temple No. 187, Knights of Pharassan will meet next time on Monday November 4, at 7:30 p. m. Royal Vizier M. C. Williams, urges all Dokeys to attend and to bring applications for membership. There will be a ceremonial held Wednesday, November 13 when Carl R. Mitchell, imperial secretary, Cincinnati, Ohio will attend.

Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will meet Monday October 28 at 7:30 p. m. in Castle Hall.

Tire costs per mile have decreased steadily. For example, average passenger tire cost per 1,000 miles of travel has been reduced from $2.35 to 65 cents during the last 25 years.

OPTIMIST CLUB HAS WEEKLY MEET

The Optimist Club, Monroe's newest civic club, held its luncheon in Hotel Frances Friday noon, with President C. C. Bell, Jr., presiding.

Vice-President Jack Howard stated that the Rotary Club and other civic groups have as a project the "clean-up" campaign of Monroe, and that the Optimist Club will gladly cooperate. He stated that this club has already made a gesture in this line through the efforts to place waste containers throughout the business section, as a sanitary and aesthetic action.

Sylvian Masur reported that his committee took 14 boys to the football game at Northeast Junior College.

Guests were Alfred Ware, Durwood Brooks and Thomas F. Jett.

EX-GOV. JONES TO BE GUEST

Will Deliver Address Armistice Day For Mangham Legion Post

MANGHAM, La., Oct. 19.—(Special)—Former Governor Sam H. Jones will be the principal speaker and installing officer at a public installation of the officers of Mangham Post No. 286 of the American Legion, on Armistice Day, November 11, 1946, according to announcement made by Douglas Booth, commander of the Mangham post.

Governor Jones is the past commander of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion, and has been active in legion work, both in state and national, for many years.

The installation of officers will be preceeded by a barbecue to be held at the Mangham High School, at which all of the legionaires from Richland and adjoining parishes will be invited to attend.

Commander Booth states that plans are in progress to take care of all visiting legionaires and their families, and a large representation from all of the posts in this section of the state is anticipated. The barbecue will begin promptly at 6 o'clock, and it is expected that the installation of officers and the address of Governor Jones will be held in the high school auditorium beginning at approximately 8 o'clock p.m.

In addition to Commander Booth, the other officers of the Mangham post are Felix Gregory, Frank Etier and Grover Burgess, vice-commanders, and Adam Childress, adjutant.

NAVY DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED

Mayors Of Twin Cities Issue Joint Proclamation For October 27

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor D. C. Golson, and Mayor H. H. Benoit of West Monroe and Monroe respectively in connection with the observance of Navy Day, birthday of Theodore Roosevelt:

WHEREAS, October 27th, the birthday of the late president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, has been appropriately designated by the secretary of the navy for the national observance of Navy Day, and

WHEREAS, the purpose of said designation is to afford we, the peoples of these United States, an opportunity, as a unified group, to show our appreciation to the gallant men and women of our navy and marine corps for their unfaltering loyalty, courage and devotion to duty which they have so consistently shown in war and in peace, and

WHEREAS, the secretary of the navy has suggested that since October 27th of this year, 1946, falls on a Sunday, that this day should be devoted to appropriate religious services, memorializing the thousands of friends, neighbors and loved ones who so gallantly gave their lives in the service of their country, and a day of thanksgiving to the millions of men and women of our great navy and marine corps for the heroic and willing manner in which they met and overcame the recent great threat to world freedom, and

WHEREAS, the secretary of the navy has suggested that parades and other celebrations normally had in conjunction with navy day be had this year on either Saturday, October 26th, or Monday, October 28th.

NOW, THEREFORE, we the mayors of the Cities of West Monroe and Monroe, Louisiana, do hereby proclaim and declare that October 27, 1946, be and is hereby designated as navy day, and call upon the people of our respective cities to join in devotional observance as well as celebrations connected therewith in compliance with the suggestions and requests of the secretary of the navy, as set out above.

THIS DONE, READ and SIGNED on this the 19th day of October, 1946.

CORNERSTONE TO BE PLACED OCT. 27

The corner stone of the new Chapel Hill Baptist church will be laid on Sunday October 27 at 3 p. m., announced Rev. A. D. Langston, pastor, Saturday.

He said that Rev. L. T. Hastings will officiate at the exercises and the public is invited to attend.

The new church will cost approximately $35,000 and will be equal of any of the smaller modern churches in the city the pastor said.

FORGOTTEN CEMETERY OPENED FIRST TIME IN MANY YEARS

Old Colony, Beneath Towering Oaks And Moss, Setting For Interment

Opening up of a long sleeping, venerable cemetery for what, so far as now revealed, was the second burial in two decades, comprised something so out of the ordinary run of things that two members of the Morning World editorial staff were attracted to the scene, Thursday afternoon. A World War I veteran, Charles Lammons, had died and it was announced that the interment, following a brief service in St. Matthew's Church, was to be made in Old Colony graveyard, termed in modern parlance more euphoneously, cemetery. It is located near the junction of Highway 80 and the old Swartz Road, seven miles east of Monroe.

As already stated, the writer knows of but two interments made in this burial ground in an experience of 20 years and the grounds are hidden beneath towering trees, high uncut grass and weeds. Few newcomers are aware that anyone has ever been buried here.

As the grounds were approached, a marvelous transformation had taken place. Willing hands of men of the neighborhood had opened vistas through the grounds, weeds and grass were cut, and a goodly number of cars were already on the scene as we approached, for we were late in arriving.

In the meeting of the modern and the ancient manner of things, an up-to-date funeral home tent had been placed over the grave, together will all the adjuncts of a present day interment.

A short commital service was in progress as the men of the assemblage stood with bared heads. Above the majestic water oaks, more lofty it seemed than any back in town, towered aloft. Nearby cypress trees were garlanded with streamers of Spanish moss. The light of the sky was obscured and the blazing October afternoon sun was almost completely shut from view by this natural canopy. Birds flew from tree to tree and added their tribute to the rather unique service that was in progress in this natural grove, and added finishing touches to a picture that would elicit the best artistry of a skilled painter.

Groups from the neighborhood remained indefinitely. Some with willing hands closed the grave and placed the many floral offerings in place above the new made mound. Others in little knots visited quietly after the manner of country folk at a public assemblage.

While there may be 15 or 20 grave stones in this quiet God's Acre, they are so hidden by vegetation that only two can be easily located. These two bore the barely decipherable dates of June 11, 1911, and October 5, 1927.

Information sought concerning the property elicited the information that years ago, at a far corner of the property, facing Highway 80, the Old Colony Methodist Church once stood, and the cemetery property that adjoins it to the north was donated by the forbears of Mrs. T. C. Rowland today a large property owner in the vicinity. The church long since has disappeared and a modern age has long supplanted it.

The cemetery always permitted and still permits interments for which there is no charge whatever for lots and friendly neighbors dig graves without money and without price.

But despite its uncared for appearance, the majestic oaks and singing birds make of this almost forgotten place a most intriguing spot for those who delight in the charms offered those who will pause to admire nature unadorned.

"A sermon in stone" seemed to have been preached in this unusual setting.

Virtually all bombers on the design drawing boards now will have a speed of more than 400 miles per hour greater than our fastest fighters of 1940.

THE NATION TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes' talk Friday night illustrates one thing:

Read what a man says if you want to satisfy yourself as to what he means.

Byrnes, just returned from the Paris peace conference, made a broadcast on the difficulties between this country and Russia.

As usual after a speech by a high government official, but particularly by a secretary of state, Washington talk galloped off in all directions.

You could hear this talk among people who followed him closely:

"That's pretty tough talk. Byrnes told the Russians off. He told them we've yielded enough to them; we're not going to yield anymore."

And you could hear this:

"I don't think it's a tough speech at all. Byrnes was telling the Russians we're friendly but we're going to be firm. It was a pretty friendly speech."

In the next few days commentators will pick over the bones of the speech, interpreting what Byrnes said, or trying to.

Byrnes and his state department are hardly likely to correct any of these interpretations, since in making them the commentators are using their right to express opinions.

Which is all right, except for one thing: The commentators themselves will represent various shades, and hues, of political thinking.

Some will be friendly to Russia, some will be unfriendly, some will try to walk straight down the middle in interpreting Byrnes' words.

But, because they lean one way or another, they are apt to read into the talk things they want to find there.

The fact that various interpretations may be placed on Byrnes talk illustrates another point:

A secretary of state is pretty careful about saying flatly:

"When I say this, I mean precisely this and I don't want any other interpretation placed on my words."

It's easy for a man on a street corner to say: "I'll bust you in the nose."

But if a secretary of state gets that blunt it may lead to war or ruin any chance of getting along with another country.

You can be sure that Byrnes' words were read over by his close advisors before he offered them to the public.

He reviewed some of the difficulties in dealing with the Russians but he did not at any place shut any doors to future dealings with the Russians.

He said this country will stand on its principles — mainly freedom of small nations to run themselves—and he expects other countries to do the same.

It was a fairly typical Byrnes talk. He was saying this country doesn't want to be pushed around and doesn't want to push anyone else around.

But right here—in those last three paragraphs which have tried fairly to say what Byrnes talked about—there is interpretation.

Someone who believes Byrnes meant something very different from the explanation given here could challenge this explanation, and justly.

If you want to satisfy yourself on what Byrnes said—and what he and others will say in the future on many things—try examining his own record.

TRAINING TO BE BASIS OF RANKS

Veterans, ex-sailors and marines are now offered ratings in the United States regular army up to staff, or technical sergeant on the basis of training and experience, Captain Ralph D. Snyder, officer in charge of the recruiting station in Monroe, states. He also states anyone currently eligible for enlistment in grade of technical sergeant on or after October 30, 1946, will be entitled to staff sergeant.

"For complete information anyone interested in returning to the service should visit the office and see what grade his previous skill warrants," Captain Snyder concluded.

Sergeant Quillie N. Underwood visits Columbia every Friday and Saturday until noon of each week. He is located at Selective Board No. 1.

In World War II, petroleum was a main source of toluene for making TNT.

SOCIALIZING OF MEDICINE HIT

Dr. Rizzo Addresses Druggists, Telling Dangers That Lurk

Dr. Frank P. Rizzo, well known Monroe surgeon, was the principal speaker at a banquet meeting of the Fifth District Pharmaceutical Association held at the Hotel Frances on Wednesday evening. Dr. Rizzo delighted his listeners by reading some amusing letters received by Louisiana draft boards when he was in command of the Medical Section of Louisiana Selective Service during the early days of World War II.

Then Dr. Rizzo explained in detail how socialized medicine, if it is ever enacted into law in this country, would work to the detriment of the nation's health and to the lowering of medical standards, just as medical standards in Europe were lowered in the years prior to the war.

Following the address by Dr. Rizzo, the regular business meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association was held. Some fifty-three pharmacists from the various parishes of the district were present when the session was called to order by R. L. Gardner, president, of Columbia. Short talks of interest to pharmacists were also made by Eugene Vogt, of Ferriday, former member of the Louisiana State Board of Pharmacy; E. E. Ewing, inspector for the state board; Dave Aron. Percy Sandman, and Fred Grant, local druggists.

Introduced by J. W. Cunningham, local druggist and vice-president of the District Pharmaceutical Association, Dr. Rizzo, spoke in part as follows:

"According to a recent Gallup poll, over 50 per cent of the adult population of the country is unaware of the efforts being made by certain groups, in and out of congress, to enact compulsory insurance laws; and a goodly number of those who have heard something of the matter are not at all conversant with any of the details concerning this proposal. In addition to propagandizing compulsory health insurance they carry on a campaign of defamation, humiliation and invectivism against the medical profession. This program is engineered by a group of 10 or 15 government payrollers in Washington. Each draws a salary of $4,000 to $12,000 a year from the federal government. They have at their command the resources of the United States government for printing bulletins and pamphlets free mailing privileges and almost unlimited appropriations for research at government expense.

"The campaign to foster a similar idelogy on the American people originated with the international labor organizations whose recommendations are being followed by certain power-mad groups and individuals on the Social Security board and on the left wing political front. They contemplate imposing a compulsory payroll on all workers and all self-employed people. Compulsion is the key to collectivism. Liberty may be acquired but once lost it can never be regained. We may well recall the Gospel of St. Matthew: "Beware of false prophets who come to you in clothing of sheep but inwardly are ravenous wolves, by their fruits ye shall know them."

TODD WINNER IN CONOCO CONTEST

Among the winners in a sales contest conducted by Continental Oil Company among its 20,000 dealers and jobbers throughout the United States was R. C. Todd, it was announced here Saturday.

Mr. Todd is the operator of Conoco Service Station No. 1, Third at Louisville, Monroe, Louisiana.

Awards in the contest are being given for the promotion of Continental's travel service to motorists, and winners are given their choice of a large selection of merchandise prizes.

Presentation of the award was made here by H. Fred Parrish, commission agent, Monroe.

FILHIOL RITES HELD SATURDAY

Services Conducted For Direct Descendant Of City's Founder

A large attendance was present at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, Saturday at 9:30 a.m., when a high mass of requiem was held for John B. Filhiol, Sr., direct descendant of Don Juan Filhiol, founder of Monroe. Rev. J. C. Marsh officiated.

Honorary pallbearers were all officers of the Knights of Columbus and all members of the Ouachita Parish School Board. Active pallbearers were Dr. O. A. Hill, Robert Cann, Sr., Peter V. David, Roger Breard, Jack Hayes and Neil McHenry. The interment was in the Catholic Cemetery in charge of the Davis-Lawhead Funeral Home.

Mr. Filhiol was 24 years a member of the Ouachita Parish School Board and was elected its president only two weeks ago, succeeding Fred Thatcher. He was a member in times past of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury and was always deeply interested in all political and civic matters that might advance the City of Monroe.

For the past few years, he had lived on a plantation he owned near Logtown.

He leaves his wife; a son, J. B. Filhiol, Jr.; two daughters, Miss Marie A. Filhiol, school teacher in Monroe; and Mrs. Fred Hancock, Monroe; and one sister, Miss Estelle Filhiol, Monroe.

His only surviving brother, Joseph Filhiol, died a month ago in Monroe.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by MILTON CANIFF

IT'S JUST OLD SOFT-HEARTED CHOPSTICK JOE, AT IT AGAIN... THE YANKEE GIRL, JANE ALLEN, HAD TO HAVE AN APARTMENT—SO I RENTED HER THAT SPARE ROOM IN THE BARRACKS BUILDING!

... HAD TO COME DOWN ON THE PRICE, THOUGH... THE SILLY CHICK REFUSED TO ACCEPT OLD MAN SMYTHE-HEATHERSTONE'S REWARD FOR SAVING HIS DOPEY KID FROM DROWNING! OLD CHOPS HAD AN ITCH FOR THAT SCRATCH...

COMES CAP'N LEE AN' CAP'N CHOLLIE TO LAND!

WOW, CHAZZ, I'M BUSHED! FIGHTING THIS UNCHARTED CHINESE WEATHER REALLY BURNS UP A GUY'S CORPUSCLES!

ME, TOO, TERRY, I---

COME AND GET IT BEFORE I THROW IT IN THE SCUPPERS!

HI, JANE, WHAT'S THE PITCH?

I HEARD YOU BUCKOS WERE HAVING CLOUD TROUBLE—SO THE COOK AND I WHUPPED UP A LITTLE SOMETHING HOT FOR YOU TO COME HOME TO!

MMM-M! I DIDN'T KNOW MASHED POTATOES COULD SMILE! THE NEXT SOUND YOU HEAR WILL BE THAT OF NEW ENGLAND IVORY AT WORK!

GOLLY, JANE, WE--

LATER...

AH, COACH, I'M SORRY I BROKE TRAINING, BUT OL' HOTSHOT COULDN'T RESIST THIRDS ON BIG JANE'S PIE!

... GLAD YOU LIKED IT, CHAZZ! SHALL WE HAVE COFFEE BY THE FIRE?

OKAY...

MUCH LATER...

I HAVE JUST TWO WORDS FOR THE WAY I FEEL... OINK! OINK!

MMM-HM

YOU CINDERELMERS WILL HAVE TO HIT THE PIKE... JANIE HAS A DAY IN A HARD OFFICE COMING UP!

NEXT DAY...

WELL, FLY BOYS, YOU LOOK FRESH FOR HAVING HAD SUCH A HARD RUN YESTERDAY...

JANE ALLEN HAD DINNER WAITING FOR US WHEN WE GOT IN, CHOPS...

AIR CATHAY

... MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE LIFE HAS ALWAYS BEEN SORTA RUGGED OUT HERE—OR MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE THE GIRLS I'VE KNOWN HAVE BEEN EITHER VERY EXOTIC OR TOO COMMONPLACE, BUT JANE ALLEN WAS NUMBER ONE CHICK ON ALL COUNTS LAST NIGHT...

THE FACT THAT SHE THOUGHT OF GETTING THAT FANCY FEED READY WHEN SHE KNEW WE'D BE DEAD TIRED... THAT AMERICAN COOKING, THE WARM FIRE... AND THAT GOWN SHE WAS WEARING... MMM—MM!

I'LL PAY THE DIFFERENCE IN PRICE, BUT FOR THE SAKE OF THE EFFICIENCY OF AIR CATHAY, FIND THAT BABE A FLAT ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CITY—IN A BUILDING THAT ADMITS WOMEN ONLY!

THEMESONG! HOW DID—

I DON'T DARE SNATCH HER CAMERA OR TRY TO DESTROY THE NEGATIVE OR THEY'LL SUSPECT ME.

THAT WAS THE LAST EXPOSURE ON THE FILM. I'M GOING TO TAKE 'EM NOW TO BE DEVELOPED.

I'VE GOT TO FIGURE SOME WAY TO GLOM ON TO THAT FILM --- BUT I'VE GOT TO BE DIPLOMATIC.

WAIT, THEMESONG! I'LL GO WITH YOU! I HAVE SOME BUSINESS TO ATTEND TO UP-TOWN.

UH—

THAT ROOMER CERTAINLY USES A LOT OF MOUTHWASH! I NEVER KNEW ANYONE TO GARGLE SO MUCH!

OCT-20

I'LL GIVE YOU FIVE DOLLARS FOR THAT NEGATIVE AND I'LL HAVE SOME NICE PRINTS MADE. YOU SEE, HONEY, I HAVE A PHOTOGRAPHER FRIEND ——

DON'T "HONEY" ME. I'LL HAVE THE FILMS DEVELOPED. I TOOK 'EM.

LATER ——

WELL, HELLO! IT'S THEMESONG'S MOTHER.

I JUST DROPPED IN, MR. TRACY, TO THANK YOU FOR ALL YOU'VE DONE.

10-20-46

YOU WON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THEMESONG AND ME ANY LONGER. WE CAN PAY THE RENT NOW. THEMESONG'S MAKING GOOD MONEY SINGING AFTER SCHOOL AND I HAVE A ROOMER.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

TARZAN AND OM-AT WITH THEIR CAPTIVE, THE JADE PRIESTESS, CROUCHED LOW AMONG THE RIVER REEDS WHEN A SQUAD OF SEARCHING WARRIORS APPROACHED.

UNOBSERVED DURING THIS TENSE MOMENT, JATO-LUR WORKED FURIOUSLY TO LOOSEN THE BONDS THAT BOUND HER WRISTS.

SOON HER HANDS WERE FREE. TEARING THE GAG FROM HER MOUTH, THE FALSE QUEEN OF A-LUR SCREAMED A HIGH-PITCHED ALARM.

'I WILL LEAD THEM AWAY,' TARZAN WHISPERED TO OM-AT. 'DON'T LET THE WOMAN SCREAM AGAIN! FIND A BOAT AND MEET ME AT THE RIVER BEND.'

ALERTED BY JATO-LUR'S SCREAMS, THE SQUAD RUSHED TOWARD THE FUGITIVES' HIDING PLACE. SUDDENLY, A TALL NAKED GIANT AROSE BEFORE THEM, ROARING LIKE A BULL APE.

THE GUARDS IN HOT PURSUIT, HEARD TARZAN'S MOCKING LAUGH AS HE SPED AWAY. HE WHO HAD OUTRUN BARA THE DEER DID NOT FEAR THE OUTCOME OF THIS RACE.

OM-AT FOUND A BOAT NEAR THEIR HIDING PLACE. WITH JATO-LUR GAGGED AND BOUND, HE PADDLED DOWN THE RIVER TO MEET TARZAN.

WHILE AN HOUR PASSED, OM-AT SKIRTED THE SHORE. FINALLY HE HEARD THE APE-MAN'S LOW WHISTLE. "THE FOOLS STILL HUNT FOR ME IN THE FOREST," TARZAN SAID, AS HE STEPPED INTO THE BOAT.

DURING THE LONG HOURS OF NIGHT TARZAN AND OM-AT TOOK TURNS TO PADDLE WITH THE CURRENT, HOPING TO ESCAPE THE NARROWS.

WITH THE DAWN, ALL DANGER OF PURSUIT SEEMED PAST. THEN, AT A BEND, THEY WERE GREETED BY FIERCE, SHOUTING TRIBESMEN. TARZAN TURNED TOWARD THE OPPOSITE SHORE.

THE SHOUTING MEN HAD PURPOSELY DIVERTED THE VOYAGERS INTO A WATER TRAP. CAUGHT IN A SWIFT CURRENT, THE BOAT RUSHED ONWARD TOWARD A GREAT CAVE.

AND ON EACH SIDE OF THE CAVE'S ENTRANCE, FIGHTERS, IN THE GARB OF A-LUR, WAITED FOR THEIR VICTIMS.

COOKIE, ARE YOU STILL AWAKE? IT'S HOURS PAST YOUR BEDTIME

ALEXANDER, ARE YOU STILL READING?

I'LL TURN OUT THE LIGHTS AS SOON AS I FINISH THIS APPLE, MOM

NOW, GO TO BED-- TOMORROW'S ANOTHER DAY

IT'S STARTING TO RAIN

CRASH BOOM

IT'S THUNDER!

WE'RE AFRAID OF THE THUNDER

SHAME ON YOU! GET RIGHT BACK IN YOUR BEDS

YOU MEAN I DID WRONG?

OF COURSE! YOU SHOULD'VE EXPLAINED TO THEM WHAT THUNDER IS AND THAT THE NOISE CAN'T HURT THEM

I DON'T KNOW WHAT IT IS, MYSELF -- I'LL GET THE ENCYCLOPEDIA

AFTER THEY KNOW THERE'S NOTHING TO FEAR, THEY CAN SLEEP RIGHT THRU IT

SO YOU SEE, THERE'S NO REASON TO BE AFRAID OF THUNDER--IT'S SIMPLY NATURAL--A PHYSICAL PHENOMENON

SHUT UP!! YOU'RE NOT GOING TO ANY DINTY'S PARTY TONIGHT-I'M GOING TO GET A LOT OF MY CONGENIAL FRIENDS HERE TONIGHT-I'M SICK OF YOU GOING TO THOSE PARTIES-THEY'RE NOTHING BUT A BUNCH OF ROWDIES --

I'VE HAD DAUGHTER CALL UP MR. AND BILL DINGHOUSES AND MR. AND MRS. LES ANLESS -AND THAT CUTE MISS IVY POISSON AND MR. PAUL ZEANGOUT !!!

THE DINGHOUSES ARE NOT ON SPEAKING TERMS WITH THE ANLESSES AND MISS POISSON IS ANGRY AT MR. ZEANGOUT-AND MISS FREDA WEDD IS ANGRY AT ALL OF THEM!!

WELL-

THE NEARBROKES JUST 'PHONED-THEY SAID YOU OUGHT TO KNOW BETTER THAN TO INVITE THEM,-IF MR. AND MRS. LEM MONADE ARE TO COME!!

HUH-IF THEY DON'T COME-I CAN INVITE MRS. PEARL LEGATES-AS SHE HATES THE MONADES!

WELL-PINAFORE-DID YOU SEE MRS. BEA FORENITE--AND MR. AND MRS. ED SHUN? ARE THEY COMING TO MY PARTY?

SORRY-MRS. FORENITE FAINTED WHEN I TOLD HER WHO'D BE HERE-AN' MR. DISHUN SLAMMED TH' DOOR IN MY FACE!!!

WELL-WHAT ARE YOU SITTING IN HERE FOR? GET UP-AND GET OUT-I GET SICK OF SEEING YOU LOUNGING AROUND THE HOUSE !!!

THE HARVEST

WELL, IT'S TERRIBLY IN MY WAY WHEN I WANT TO HANG OUT THE WASHING!

I SUPPOSE IT SEEMS SILLY, SUSIE, BUT I'VE GROWN SO ATTACHED TO THIS THING I JUST CAN'T CUT IT DOWN!

AFTER ALL, IT'S THE ONLY THING IN MY GARDEN THAT LICKED THE WEEDS!

WHY DON'T YOU WAIT UNTIL IT GETS DARK, FREDDIE? THEN IT WILL NEVER KNOW WHO CUT IT!

BUT WHY DID HE PLANT JUST ONE STALK OF CORN?

HE DIDN'T PLANT ANY CORN — HE PLANTED BEANS AND THAT'S WHAT CAME UP!

IF YOU'RE NOT USING THE WHOLE GARAGE FOR CROP STORAGE, WE MAY FIND A PLACE FOR THESE PORCH CHAIRS.

SAY WHEN, POP, AND WE'LL HAUL HER TO THE CORN CRIB.

ARNOLD RAISED CHICKENS ONCE, BUT HE MADE SUCH PETS OF THEM HE COULDN'T KILL THEM AND THEY ALL DIED OF OLD AGE!

WE ATE ONE LIKE THAT LAST WEEK!

SLUG, I THINK YOU'D MAKE A SWELL FARMER IF YOU'D GO BACK TO SCHOOL AND TAKE AGRICULTURE.

YOU MEAN STUDY?

COME ON, JUNIOR. PULL!

WELL, ALICE, DIDN'T I TELL YOU I'D START SOMETHING WHEN I DROPPED THAT GRAIN OF CORN IN FREDDIE'S GARDEN?

SAMPSON IS SHELLING IT — I'M GRINDING IT — AND WE FIGURE YOU CAN BAKE POP ABOUT ONE FAIR-SIZE CORN MUFFIN!

The PHANTOM

by LEE FALK and RAY MOORE

Registered U. S. Patent Office

WAIT! THE SCARLET SORCERESS ASKS TO SEE THE PHANTOM BEFORE HE DIES!

1 THE PHANTOM REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS, JUST AS THE FIRE IS STARTED---

2 HE IS LED BEFORE THE THRONE OF THE SCARLET SORCERESS. A CURTAIN OF SMOKE RISES---

I WAS CURIOUS TO SEE YOU, GHOST WHO WALKS.

WHERE IS VALERIE?

3 SHE APPEARS SUDDENLY, IN HER MYSTERIOUS FASHION. THE PHANTOM STARES AT HER A MOMENT, THEN---

VALERIE DIES TONIGHT, TO MAKE MY CHILD WELL. WE NO LONGER FEAR YOU, PHANTOM! OUR SORCERESS IS ALL-POWERFUL. YOU SHALL RETURN TO THE FIRE--TO DIE--

Copr. 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

4 THE SMOKE RISES, THE SORCERESS IS ABOUT TO DISAPPEAR---

UH

5 THE PHANTOM SWINGS SUDDENLY, HARD AND FAST---

6 THEN JUMPS INTO THE SMOKY CURTAIN OF MYSTERY---

GONE--!

7 --AND DISAPPEARS WITH THE SCARLET SORCERESS! 10-20

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

SWEPT DOWN THE GLACIER BY A MAN-MADE AVALANCHE, DALE LUCKILY LANDS IN SOFT SNOW. "FLASH, WHERE ARE YOU?--OH, DARLING, YOU'RE HURT!"

DALE TRIES TO REVIVE FLASH, WHO WAS STRUCK BY A FALLING BOULDER. ONE OF THEIR HALF-TAMED TOROKS, CRAZED BY ITS FALL, CHARGES.

FLASH'S PERIL HELPS DALE STAND STEADFAST AGAINST THE TOROK. THE BEAST TURNS ASIDE AT THE LAST MOMENT, FACED BY HUMAN COURAGE.

FLASH SOON SNAPS OUT OF HIS DAZE. "YOU'RE WONDERFUL, DALE. THANKS! WE'RE LUCKY TO BE ALIVE. BUT HOW WILL WE GET OUT OF HERE? THOSE WALLS ARE TOO STEEP TO CLIMB!"

HIGH ON THE MOUNTAIN THE FUR-MEN USE ICE MIRRORS TO SUN-FLASH THE NEWS OF THEIR SUCCESSFUL AVALANCHE TRAP: "TELL THE WIZARD!"

WELL, SANDY! EVER'THING'S GOIN' TO BE ALL RIGHT--HARD TO TELL HOW SOON FRED WILL START WALKIN' AGAIN, BUT HE'LL BE ON HIS FEET 'FORE LONG--

DOC MEDULLA SAID IT'S ALL UP TO FRED, NOW! AS SOON AS HE THINKS HE CAN WALK, HE CAN--JUST A LITTLE FAITH AND CONFIDENCE--

AND FRED AND HONEY ARE FIXIN' TO GET MARRIED AND LIVE HAPPY EVER AFTER--

EIGHT MONTHS AGO WE LANDED HERE IN SMOKY HOLLOW, SANDY! FOLKS SURE HAVE BEEN NICE TO US--WE COULD LIVE HAPPY HERE FOREVER, TOO, I BETCHA----

FUNNY, THOUGH---! GET SORT OF A FEELIN' AS IF THIS WAS TH' END OF A CHAPTER IN A STORY---AS IF THIS PEACEFUL STUFF WASN'T GOIN' TO LAST--

BUT THAT'S SILLY, O' COURSE--WITH "DADDY" GONE I'M NOT IMPORTANT ANY MORE--AND ANYWAY, NOBODY, 'CEPT TH' NEIGHBORS, KNOWS I'M HERE---

LEAVE ME LOOK AT THAT PAPER AGAIN. FATAL FLOYD--- YEAH! DAT'S SURE OLD WARBUCKS---

DEAD AS A DOORNAIL NOW--- TH' "LATE OLIVER WARBUCKS," IT SAYS--

DAT GIANT O' HIS IS ALSO KAPUT! HE WAS A VERY TOUGH CHARACTER!

AND OUR BOSS, TIDNAB, GOT BLOWN TO GLORY THAT SAME NIGHT---

YEAH! BUT TH' BRAT GOT AWAY, EH?

IT SAYS HERE SHE'S IN DIS WHISTLE STOP CALLED SMOKY HOLLOW! SHE CALLED TH' FAMOUS DOC MEDULLA FROM THERE---

YEAH! SO IT ALL GOT IN TH' PAPER!

IF WE HADN'T BEEN TRYIN' TO HEAD OFF TH' BRAT AND THEM TOGGLES WE'D HAVE BEEN KAPUT, TOO---

YOU SAID IT, STICKER! BUT WE AIN'T--AND THEY AIN'T!

AW, DAT PROFESSOR WAS TOO STUPID TO COUNT! BUT THAT KID---

WARBUCKS FIGGERED HE MIGHT NOT MAKE IT! I FIGGER HE SENT OUT TH' SECRET O' THAT ATOM BOMB WIT' TH' KID---

SO WE LOOK UP DIS BRAT AND FIND OUT, EH?

BUT WHAT GOOD COULD DAT SECRET DO US NOW, WIT TIDNAB DEAD? NO MARKET NO MORE!
